SOUTHERNERS SAY NAY.

Object to Ingersoll's Speech Being Retained in Cemetery.

Chicago Evening Post.

The Confederate veterans of Montgomery, Ala., have protested against the presence in the old Lee mansion in the Arlington National Cemetery of a framed copy of the speech of Robert G. Ingersoll in which he drew a picture of the Southerners of the days before the war as men who sold babies away "from the mother's breast," and used the words "brutally unspeakable, outrage infinite," to describe general slavery conditions.

Mr. Ingersoll's speech in fine print and inclosed under glass, hangs on the wall of one of the main rooms of the old Arlington homestead. Its appearance there has aroused the resentment of Southern visitors time and again. There is no sound reason why it should have a place in a cemetery where the government not only cares for the Union dead, but cares just as tenderly for many thousands of the Confederate dead.

Just beyond the porch of the Lee mansion Gen. Wheeler, of the Confederate service, lies side by side with Gen. Schofield, of the Union service. Gen. Wheeler's record in the Southern army is told on the shaft which stands at the head of his grave. In Texas the other day a dinner was given to President Taft, and on the printed card were words to the effect that Texas came into the Union in 1845 and intends to stay in it forever. Mr. Taft has just returned from a trip through the South, where he was greeted and acclaimed as the President of a country always to be united. Ingersoll's speech can be spared from the walls of the Lee home in Arlington.

Sport in Landing a Big Drum Fish

Wilmington Dispatch. While fishing for trout in the Banks Channel last night, George Mannel, a fisherman, caught a tremendous drum fish. Mannel let the member of the finny tribe play out the line to its limit. When the drum swam to shallow water, Mannel killed it with an ear. The fish was brought to the city this morning and was left at the corner of Front and Princess street for several hours. It attracted the attention of all passersby. The fish measured four feet in length from tip to tip and it weighed 64 pounds. It is one of the largest drum fish caught in the Banks Channel in many months.

NOBODY SPARED.

Kidney Troubles Attack Salisbury Men and Women, Old and Young.

Kidney ills seize young and old. Come quickly with little warning.

Children suffer in their early years—

Can't control the kidney secretions.

Girls are languid, nervous, suffer pain.

Women worry, can't do daily work.

Men have lame and aching backs.

The cure for man, woman and child.

Is to cure the cause—the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys—

Cure all forms of kidney suffering.

Salisbury testimony proves it. G. L. Russell, retired, 323 East Innis St., Salisbury, N. C., says: "I heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, knowing them to be a remedy that lives up to the claims made for it. I suffered for months from a lameness across my kidneys and though I used any amount of medicine, I was not benefited. Upon learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a supply from McPherson & Co's drug store and took them according to directions. The pain soon left my back, my kidneys were strengthened and my general health was improved.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

MISS BOARDMAN'S IDEA.

Sale of Red Cross Stamps to Help Along a Magnificent Work.

Hampton's Magazine.

You remember how popular those "white plague" Christmas stamps were last holiday; how people bought the entire issue of $25,000 and clamored for more. Well, it was Miss Mable T. Boardman who conceived that idea, and it will be due to her efforts, in part, at least, that many more millions of these stamps, of a new design, will be offered for sale during the coming Christmas season.

Miss Boardman will be the unofficial social arbiter of the White House this winter. She has long been a particularly close and intimate friend of both the President and Mrs. Taft. Mrs. Taft, contrary to most of her predecessors, has no social secretary. Her long residence in Washington, which has covered most of her married life, placed her much more familiarly in touch with society personages peculiar to the social life of the Capital than any of the first ladies of the land who have graced the White House in a generation.

Miss Boardman is a sister-in-law of Senator Murray Crane, of Massachusetts. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Broadman, are wealthy. Their home in Washington has long been renowned as a meeting place for interesting persons, and for the warm and boundless hospitality dispensed there.

Mr. Taft, who is president of the national Red Cross Society, interested Miss Boardman in the work several years ago. With energy, intelligence, and tact characteristic of the American girl who starts out to do things, Miss Boardman virtually breathed the breath of life into the Red Cross Society after the confusion into which its affairs fell during the Spanish war. Mainly through her efforts, the society was reorganized and placed upon a highly efficient and prosperous basis. When the news of the Messina earthquake reached Washington, Miss Boardman, within a half hour, took prompt action for the relief of the sufferers. In recognition of her work, the Italian government decorated her with a reproduction in gold of an ancient Roman civic crown. It was bestowed through the Italian Ambassador in Washington. Miss Boardman has a desk in the office of the Red Cross Society in the War Department in Washington. Except for a few weeks in summer, she is there daily from morning until all the work in sight is disposed of.

History teaches us that the main object of mobs is monarchial revolutions to dethrone the king and raise the deuce.

Nothing scares an honest man so much as what if he had a great temptation.

BANQUET TONIGHT.

You Can Safely Eat One if You Take Two Mi-o-na Tablets Afterwards.—Theo. F. Klutz & Co. Guarantees Them.

It is really a pitiful sight to see so many thousands of people worrying about what they can eat and what they can't eat.

Dyspeptics, they call themselves, but they stretch the imagination when they do it.

All these people need to make them healthy, cheerful and of sound appetite is a box of Mi-o-na tablets.

The stomach of a dyspeptic is overworked and run down. It needs help to digest the food, but more than that it needs a prescription that will cleanse, renovate, strengthen and put elasticity into the stomach walls.

Mi-o-na is the prescription that will do this and do it so promptly that you'll wonder why you didn't try it before.

It stops belching of gas and distress after eating in five minutes. It is undoubtedly the greatest stomach tonic ever given to the public by a specialist in stomach diseases.

Leading druggists everywhere sell Mi-o-na. T. F. Klutz & Co. sell it in Salisbury for 50 cents a large box on the money-back plan. Test samples free from Booth's Mi-o-na, Buffalo, N. Y.
