BRITISH AND FRENCH UNABLE RETAIN GROUND

Advances Won From Germans in Saturday's Battle Lost to Some Extent--Active Operations in Dobrudja Resumed.

Neither the British nor the French were able to retain in its entirety the ground won by them from the Germans on the Somme front during the fighting Saturday.

Heavy counter attacks were delivered by German troops last night on the new British positions. London today announces that the British were compelled to give up portions of them.

Similarly the French lines were attacked and Paris states that while the Germans were held off on the greater part of the line they were able to recapture some positions.

After a long lull the resumption of active operations in Dobrudja are reported from Bucharest which announces a Rumanian victory.

The Rumanian troops are declared to have taken the offensive north of Hirsova and to have driven Field Marshal Von Mackensen's troops from several villages, which were set on fire as they were evacuated.

WILSON'S THE MAN!

WE ARE HAPPY WE ARE BUSY WE HAVE PEACE WE ARE PROSPEROUS WHY CHANGE?

THE FIGHT IS WON SAYS PRESIDENT.

From Long Branch the President has sent this final word to the party workers. The telegram was sent to every state and county chairman in the country:

"I thank you heartily for the splendid work done by you and by all the workers in the cause of progressive principles at issue in this campaign.

"The fight is won, I fully believe; though I take this means of urging you to renewed exertions and vigilance to see that belated efforts to confuse the public judgment do not succeed.

"Our country is prosperous, secure and happy; and its prosperity is upon a sound basis. Steps to protect our commerce and industry in any emergency after the European war ends have been taken. The anti-dumping clause of the so-called war revenue act provides the executive with ample power to prevent the 'dumping' of European surplus manufacturers upon our markets.

"The tariff commission will shortly be appointed and at work to provide the facts which will determine what other legislation is necessary or desirable. I need not add that the federal reserve act is a guarantee against panics and that the Federal Trade Commission will aid, as it already has helped, to preserve the stability of our domestic and foreign commerce.

"I am confident that the time has passed in America when votes can be bought, the ballot box defiled by corrupt practices, or the judgments of the American people determined or influenced in any way by the use of money. It is however our duty to take every precaution, lest conscienceless agents of the sinister forces working on opposition to progressive principles and popular government resort to their desperation to industrial coercion or to the evil and insidious practices of a decade and more ago."

Repudiated Bonds of North Carolina Come Up For Collection in Supreme Court

Attorneys For Cuba Ask Permission to File Suit in the Supreme Court Against the State of North Carolina for the Collection of Bonds Issued to Build Railroads Nearly Fifty Years Ago.

Washington, Nov. 6.—In what was said to be the first suit ever begun in the Supreme Court by a foreign nation against any of the United States was that today by attorneys for Cuba asking for a leaf to file an original petition against the state of North Carolina to secure payment of bonds to the amount of $2,186,000 subscribed by North Carolina to aid in the building of railroads nearly fifty years ago.

Payment, it is alleged, is refused on these bonds and the original jurisdiction for initial proceedings in that court of suits between foreign and American courts. Cuba's attorneys say that there is no record of formal suit against an individual state of the union.

The bonds were issued by North Carolina to subscribe to the construction of the Western railway; the Williamson and Tarboro and the Wilmington and Charlotte and Rutherfordton.

Carpet Bag Bonds. Raleigh, Nov. 6.—The bonds involved in the proceedings begun in the Supreme court today by attorneys for the Cuban government in an effort to recover $2,186,000 from the State of North Carolina were known as special tax bonds and were issued by the so-called "carpet bag" administration in this State immediately after the civil war.

The issues, it is claimed, were among those later repudiated by the legislature and although numerous suits have been filed by bondholders all courts have held the repudiated issues invalid.

Downward Slant to Wheat. Chicago, Nov. 6.—Rains in southern Argentine gave a downward slant to wheat prices here today. The opening prices which ranged from 1-4 to 1 cent lower with December at 1.81 7-8 to 1.82 1-4 and May at 1.83 1-4 to 3-4 were followed by a decided further setback, interrupted by brief transient rallies.

Cotton Market Opened Steady. New York, Nov. 6.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 10 to 12 points today and active months sold 14 to 16 points above Saturday closing figures. This advance carried January to 19.09 during early trading and May sold to 19.36. Prices eased off within 4 to 5 points from the best liquidations toward the middle of the morning.

Let every Democrat and every believer in safe government join in the procession tonight.

The Lanoa Was Not American. Washington, Nov. 6.—The steamer Lanoa is not an American owned vessel, according to the bureau of navigation of the department of commerce, which shows that the ship was owned at Christians, Norway. She was recently sold by her American owners as the records show. The Lanoa was sold by Finley-Miller Steamship Company of Manila.

A WIFE MURDERER PLACED IN JAIL

Robert Fuller, Colored, Arrested in South Carolina After Eluding Officers 10 Years.

KILLED WIFE ON EAST COUNCIL STREET IN 1906

Arrested at Fountain Inn, South Carolina, and Policeman Harrison Goes After Prisoner.

Robert Fuller, colored, who shot and killed his wife in this city in 1906, has been apprehended after being at liberty and successfully eluding the officers for ten years. Some days ago Sergeant B. F. Cauble, of the local police force, ascertained that a man said to be Fuller was in Fountain Inn, South Carolina, and he received a telegram from W. H. Jer-nigan, chief of police of that place, stating that Fuller had been arrested and was being held awaiting the arrival of a Salisbury officer. Policeman Arthur Harrison was dispatched to the South Carolina town and returned last night with Fuller and he is now in jail and will probably be given a preliminary hearing Friday of this week.

Fuller, who was employed at the gas plant at the time, killed his wife on Christmas eve, 1906, the tragedy taking place on East Council street, in a restaurant, the shack having been torn away several years ago to make room for modern store building. The man shot his wife in the mouth and made a successful escape. Eye witnesses to the affair are living and are in easy reach of the officers.

When Policeman Harrison started to leave Fountain Inn with Fuller he saw evidences of what appeared to be trouble brewing but what turned out all right. When he boarded the train at Fountain Inn there were some twenty or more negroes to get on, some carrying axes as though they were going to engage in wood chopping. In this crowd was a brother of Fuller. The South Carolina chief said he didn't like the looks of affairs and cautioned the officer in charge of Fuller to play safe. But this was not necessary for Officer Harrison always does this. He therefore chained the prisoner to the seat so as to have both of his hands free in any emergency. He then made the negroes get in the forward end of the car and rested easier, and the trip proved uneventful. When the train reached the point where the party of negroes was to leave it those who knew the prisoner, including his brother went back and shook hands with him and no trouble of any kind was experienced on the trip home.

ELECTION RETURNS TOMORROW NIGHT

Electric Lights in Homes Will Flash the Final Result as Soon as Received.

OTHER PLACES TO BE NEWS RECEIVING CENTERS

Democrats Will Assemble in the Court House and Republicans in the Community Building.

Salisbury and Spencer people will not want for news from the election tomorrow night. These messages will come over both telegraph and long distance telephone wires.

Through an arrangement between the Post and the Public Service Company the news will be flashed into the homes of all citizens having electric lights, so it will be necessary for those desiring to keep up with the news and to learn the final result of the election to keep their electric lights burning, at least in the rooms they are occupying. The following are the signals; which will be flashed each hour, beginning at 10 o'clock:

If indications point to Wilson's election the lights will be extinguished three times in rapid succession.

If indications point to Hughes' election lights will be extinguished five times in rapid succession.

If Wilson's election is assured the fact will be heralded by six flashes.

If Hughes' election is assured ten flashes will follow.

These latter flashes will be given just as soon as positive information is received through the Associated Press.

As already noted elsewhere Spencer people will receive the returns at the Y. M. C. A. In Salisbury the Post will get a leased wire telephone service from the Associated Press. The Republicans will receive the news in the Community Building and the Democrats will assemble in the court house for the same purpose. The members of the Old Hickory Club have arranged to get the returns in their club rooms.

DEMOCRATS IN CABARRUS HOPEFUL. Concord, Nov. 6.—Democrats are jubilant over the prospects of carrying Cabarrus on tomorrow. The strongest sort of a fight has been made to put the county back into the Democratic column, and it is a safe prediction that the Democrats have elected at least a part of their ticket, if not all.

BOTH CANDIDATES RESTING QUIETLY

Wilson Will Recuperate at Shadow Lawn and Motor Over to Princeton Tomorrow to Vote.

BOTH EXPRESS CONFIDENCE IN THE FINAL OUTCOME

Hughes Calls at Headquarters, Motors Through Parks and Will Rest at His Hotel.

(By Associated Press.)

New York, Nov. 6.—President Woodrow Wilson and Chas. E. Hughes, candidates of the dominant parties for President, remaining quietly at home today recuperating from the labors of the long campaign. The last word sent forth by them to the people was an expression that each felt confident of victory.

President Wilson plans to remain quietly at Shadow Lawn today and his only activity tomorrow will be a trip to Princeton to cast his ballot. Tomorrow night with only members of family about him he will receive the returns in his study at Shadow Lawn.

Mr. Hughes remained at his hotel early in the forenoon but later visited National Republican headquarters, chiefly, it was stated, to thank the workers for their efforts in his behalf. He intends to take a drive through the parks this afternoon and will spend the rest of the day quietly at his hotel. Tomorrow he will vote in his home precinct here and tomorrow night will get the returns at his hotel rooms like Mr. Wilson he plans to have only the immediate members of his family with him when the returns come.

Political headquarters here still presented scenes of activity today. Last reports of the political battle were received and final instructions sent out. Both the chairman had little to add to their forecasts issued Saturday night.

Chairman Wilcox in his prediction states that Hughes will receive at least 100 majority in the electoral college, while Democratic Chairman Wilcox gives Wilson 384 electoral votes. The number necessary to elect is 266.

The larger participation of women as voters in a presidential campaign and congressional election are of keen interest generally. Returns from States in which women vote will be closely and anxiously scanned.

So far as congress is concerned a full house of Representatives and 33 United States Senators are to be elected. The total number of members in the House is 435 and the necessary majority is 218. In the Senate the present membership is 96 and the necessary majority is 49.

In all 35 new senators will take their seats next March. Of these the Republicans elected two at the September election in Maine. Forty-two of the States elect state officers tomorrow in addition to national congressional candidates. Of the States 35 elect governors.

Fair weather and moderate temperature is forecasted for the day and if this prediction holds throughout the country virtually a full vote is expected to be cast.

DEMOCRATS CLAIM THE LOWER HOUSE

Chairman Doremus Says the Democrats Have Elected the House of Representatives--Herald's Poll Says the Republicans Have the House and Democrats the Senate.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Representative Frank E. Doremus, chairman of the Democratic national congressional committee, predicted today, before leaving for Michigan to vote, that President Wilson would be re-elected, and that the next House and Senate would be Democratic. He says that North Carolina will send to the House ten instead of nine Democrats.

House Republican Says Herald's forecast of the probable complexion of the house and senate after Tuesday's election shows gains for the Republicans in both branches of the Congress.

The forecast shows a loss of six senators for the Democrats and a corresponding gain for the Republicans. The present senate is composed of 56 Democrats and 40 Republicans. The forecast as the senate may be shows 50 Democrats and 46 Republicans.

The house as it may be is Republican by 34 majority. This, according to the forecast, is wiped out and a Republican majority of five is indicated. The present status of the house is: Democrats, 237; Republicans, 208. As it may be: Democrats 215; Republicans 220.
