

RAILROAD WATCHMAN KILLED AT NORWOOD; BODY MANGLED

Gus Maynor Struck by a Southbound Train While on Duty as Watchman at a Railway Bridge Over Rocky River.

Albemarle, Aug. 16.—Gus Maynor, watchman at the Winston-Salem Southbound railway bridge, over Rocky River, about two miles south of Norwood, was killed and badly mangled by a northbound freight train Monday morning about 4.20 o'clock. He was dragged about 100 yards on the track.

Coroner Hunneycutt and a jury held an inquest over the body Monday morning at 9 o'clock, returning a verdict that he had been killed by being run over by a train. The body was buried out in the country from Norwood Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Mr. Maynor is one of the watchmen the Southbound has been keeping at its bridges for some time, both before and after the Lumber Bridge Company of the National Guard was stationed along the road. He was night watchman of the bridge over Rocky River and lived at Norwood. He was 50 or 55 years old.

It is reported that he was struck about 25 feet north of the bridge, bits of his brains having been discovered about that point, no blood having been found until he had been dragged almost to the point at which he was found. His head was crushed and his body badly mangled.

SEVERAL BIG REALTY DEALS CONSUMMATED IN STANLY COUNTY

Mr. James H. Pou Becomes the Owner of More Than 100 Acres of Valuable Land Adjoining Power Company—Badin Hotel Sold for $5,000 to Concord Man.

(Special to Post.)

Albemarle, Aug. 16.—Two rather important real estate deals have just been consummated in this county. One was the purchase of 107 acres of land at a fancy price by James H. Pou, of Raleigh, the deed having been filed for registration today. The sale was made by the Virginia-Carolina Development Corporation, of this city, and the property adjoins the Tallahassee Power Company, being situated about one-half mile from the Aluminum factories at Badin. It is understood that Mr. Pou made this purchase as an investment and that he will possibly hold it as such without any attempt at speculation whatever.

No one in North Carolina has more hopes in Stanly county dirt than Mr. Pou has according to statements made by him when he was in Albemarle two weeks ago. At that time he purchased 52 acres of land about half way between Albemarle and Badin. The former owner of this tract was Thomas P. Kirk who lives on the Albemarle-Badin highway, about half way between here and Badin.

Mr. Pou's son, James H. Pou, Jr., was in the city today and consummated the first above named transaction, and turned over the purchase price to the grantors. He thinks that it is only a question of a year or two when the Albemarle-Badin highway will be a well paved street with handsome homes built up all the way from here to Badin, with an electric car line running over the same.

Another real estate deal which was closed today was the sale of the Badin Hotel with three large lots on which it is located by J. A. Ritchie, to Charles W. Hopkins, of Concord. The purchase price was $5,000 paid by Mr. Hopkins.

BIG ELICIT STILL CAPTURED.

Revenue Officers Make a Successful Raid in Avery County and Two Men Are Taken While Operating the Plant.

Winston-Salem, Aug. 17.—One of the largest blockade stills ever destroyed in western North Carolina was captured Tuesday morning on the Three-Mile branch one mile from Ingalls, Avery county, together with two men operating the plant 2,000 gallons of beer and 5 gallons of low wine, says the Hickory Record. The men arrested were Herbert and Brown Ingram, who were taken to Elk Park, given a hearing before the United States commissioner there and released under bond of $300 each. The blockade still was in the business of making old-fashioned corn liquor by the doubling back process. The copper still had a capacity of 100 gallons and it would manufacture, according to present methods, about 30 gallons of corn juice in 24 hours. The operators, however, clung to the old way and their product is described by experts as the genuine article.

ENSIGN VERA BUTCHKAREFF ENLISTS IN RUSSIAN ARMY

New York, Aug. 16.—It was the death of her husband which prompted Ensign Vera Butchkareff to enlist in the Russian army and eventually to recognize the Women's Legion of Death, of which she is a commander and which achieved fame in a recent battle with the Germans according to facts received by the Russian Information Bureau here. According to this information, Vera Butchkareff is a young country woman who went to Petrograd from her native village in the province of Tomsk.

Having learned in May, 1915, that her husband was dead on the German frontier, she made up her mind to continue the task which her husband began, and enlisted in the 25th Reserve Corps of Tomsk.

After a comparatively short training, she went to the front with a company that was to fill the ranks. Colonel Stubendorf enlisted her as a regular in the 28th Polotsk Regiment, 2nd Army. For three months, Vera Butchkareff fought with a rifle and on March 8, 1916, was wounded in the leg under heavy artillery fire in a battle which took place on Lake Naroch. The wound notwithstanding she remained at the front with her comrades who captured two lines of trenches and one thousand prisoners.

On March 9, after the commander and the captain were killed, she led the soldiers in an attack which resulted in victory for the Russians.

Afterward she went to the Austrian front, and was wounded in her arm, while taking part in a counter-charge near the Deubova Korchma. Nevertheless, she retained her position in the army. But in the next charge she was wounded severely by a fragment of a shell. She was taken to the hospital where she remained for four months. Immediately upon recovery, she went to Petrograd and saw M. Rodzianko, President of the Duma, to ask permission to organize a company of women.

In a recent interview, Vera Butchkareff said:

"I saw the President of the Duma and obtained permission to form a woman's company which is to leave for the front at once. We will set an example to the men soldiers, many of whom misunderstood the meaning of liberty. It is enough to point to the desertions, to the fraternization and to all the undesirable phenomena that are responsible for the disorganization of our forces. I will sacrifice my life for my country and I am sure that I will find followers among women. Woman's mission is not only to give life to man but also up to women to teach men how to defend the new-born freedom."

Manager Clark Griffith of the Senators has issued an appeal for funds to duplicate the shipment of baseball paraphernalia consigned to our troops abroad, the first shipment having gone down with the Kansas when that ship was submerged.

The Russians are the most remarkable of all linguists. They will learn Chinese in six months and will acquire English with ease in a few weeks.

Every county of Michigan is soon to have a volunteer woman shop inspector to look after the welfare and interests of the women workers.

ANOTHER LARGE KNITTING MILL TO BE ERECTED AT ALBEMARLE

Wiscasset Mills Company to Erect New Industrial Enterprise—Reported Also That the Efrid Manufacturing Company Will Build Another Cotton Mill.

(Special to The Post.)

Albemarle, Aug. 16.—While not officially announced by the Company, it has been generally rumored for several days among the business men of Albemarle that the Wiscasset Mills Company is to commence the erection of another large knitting mill on the belt line of the Southern Railroad between its new mill just being completed and the main line of the Southern from Salisbury in the northern part of Albemarle. The large knitting mill commenced several months ago by this company in North Albemarle is now practically completed and the placing of the machinery will commence at an early date. It is reported that as soon as the machinery is placed in this mill work will commence immediately on the new one and it is said that it will be one of the biggest mills ever built in Albemarle.

It is also reported that the Efrid Manufacturing company will soon commence the erection of another large cotton mill. It is possible that this will be erected on or near the Main street on the company's property between the Southbound and the Southern Railway lines near the center of the town.
