

Have fed 200 tons of Buckeye Hulls

Poster & Pitts, Tuscaloosa, Ala., have fed 200 tons of Buckeye Hulls and are still feeding them.

You can rest assured from the experience of many other successful farmers, stockmen and dairymen that Buckeye Hulls will meet your needs better than any roughage you ever have used before.

To secure the best results and to develop the ensilage odor, wet the hulls thoroughly twelve hours before feeding.

TWO BOTTLES OF DRECO DID MORE FOR ME THAN $500 WORTH OF OTHER MEDICINES

SAYS PROMINENT PROXIMITY MACHINIST—A SEVERE CASE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE REPORTED REACHED BY NEW HERBAL MEDICINE.—NOTED FRATERNAL MEMBERS TELLS WONDERFUL STORY.

Almost everybody in this section knows C. L. Teal, the prominent fraternal worker and machinist in the Proximity Mills, and whose home address is Box 92, Proximity.

Mr. Teal is an active member of the Redmen and has the distinction of having gone through all the chairs of the Woodmen of the World. His popularity is due in no small measure to his active interest in the affairs of his community and his advice on social and political matters is much sought.

Mr. Teal has been afflicted for a long time with a particularly malignant form of stomach trouble which seemed to defy all treatment until a friend of his, Mr. Basinger, told him of Dreco, the new herb medicine which he said helped him wonderfully.

Here is Mr. Teal's story of his experience with Dreco. It will prove interesting reading for the hundreds of men and women in this section who think their cases are beyond relief. Read every word:

"I have been suffering for years and the doctors said I would not live six months longer if I wasn't operated on. They made an X-ray picture and said I had a 'kidney stone.'

"I have spent between $500 and $600 trying to get cured and two bottles of Dreco have done me more good than everything else put together. I suffered such pains in my back that I could not bend over nor stoop. When I had taken three quarters of the first bottle of Dreco every pain had left me.

"The reason I ever bought the first bottle was because it had helped my friend, Mr. Basinger, so much. "I expect to take a half dozen bottles before I stop and feel that I will be permanently cured."

Dreco is the purely herbal medicine that is causing such a furor throughout this section. Hundreds of men and women are taking it regularly and reporting remarkable results in cases of stomach and kidney disorders, liver complaints, constipation, rheumatism, catarrh and similar troubles.

Dreco is dispensed by most good drug stores and is particularly recommended in Salisbury by Smith Drug Co.; and in Spencer by Rowan Drug Co.

MARSE HENRY WILL GET YOU SURE

Warning is Sweeping the State That Food Law Violators Will Get Caught and Get Punished Too—The Hoarder Had Better Look Out.

(Special to The Post.) Raleigh, Jan. 24.—"Marse Henry will get you if you don't watch out."

In effect this is the warning that is being passed out by merchants to greedy consumers who have suggested when they could not purchase more than five pounds of sugar that they could get an equal amount at other stores.

Merchants at a number of North Carolina points have called to the attention of the Food Administration the danger of consumers going from store to store and purchasing the maximum amount of sugar at each store and may have suggested that a card system be put into effect.

"The Food Administration does not believe that any system of rationing is necessary for the American people. Patriotic and unselfish people will follow the suggestions of the Food Administration with regard to food-stuffs. The greedy and selfish ones will be made to not only by exercise of the authority vested in the Food Administration but by the force of public opinion.

In cases of willful hoarding the Food Administration officials do not hesitate to say that they will secure indictments and prosecute.

CONCERNING DELIVERIES.

(Asheville Times.) Just at the time when Asheville merchants are interested in the question of the cost of deliveries Ida Tarbell, the well-known writer has an article in the Woman's Home Companion along the same line.

"One careful research body declares that in the ordinary retail grocery stores of the country the expense of delivery is three per cent of the net sales. It was found that in Washington city seven and one-fourth per cent of the gross sales of all products was spent in delivery.

Something of what this means will be seen if we consider what it takes simply to take care of the work of the retail grocery stores of the country. There are more than 200,000 of these shops. They employ over 100,000 men in deliveries, and as many wagons and trucks. The cost of the business is something like $75,000,000 a year."

Asheville merchants can solve the problem of the delivery question in Asheville. All that is necessary is for the merchants to get together and agree upon an economical method.

One delivery or two a day will meet the needs of the people and there can be no complaint of there is united action on the part of the merchants. The special delivery boy can be eliminated entirely and after a little while the housekeepers will learn to do their ordering in advance.

DOCTOR SAYS VINOL IS THE BEST TONIC

Honest Opinion Doctor Gave His Patient. Bedford, Ohio.—"I was in a pitiful condition, weak, nervous and run down so I could not do my housework. I had doctored for years and tried everything under the sun. A friend told me about Vinol. I asked my doctor about it, and he replied, 'It certainly is the best medicine that can be had today. I couldn't give you any better.' I took it, and today I am as well and strong as any woman could wish to be, and it was Vinol that saved me."

We guarantee this famous cold liver and iron tonic for all such conditions. Smith Drug Co., Peoples Drug Store, and Main Pharmacy, Salisbury, and at the best drug stores in every town and city in the country.

ALBEMARLE-BADIN ARE STILL GROWING

All Available Labor Being Used in the Development of the Section—Albemarle Also is Growing Along With the Power Developments.

(Special to The Post.) Albemarle, Jan. 23.—May be the fuel and food shortage, together with other war depressions are disturbing the growth and prosperity of a number of North Carolina towns, but this does not apply to Badin and Albemarle, as both of these towns are literally building new residential sections by the block rather than by the residence.

The Tallahassee Power Co., at Badin is at this time actively engaged, using every available laborer and carpenter in the erection of an additional residence section which covers a scope of territory one mile long and three-quarters of a mile wide. Many of the houses in this territory have already been partially completed and streets are being laid out and sewer placed for the remainder.

In addition to this new section of Badin one mile long by three-quarters of a mile wide work has just been started in grading streets and putting down sewer for the erection of 300 other new residences. When these buildings are all completed and occupied it is pretty safe to estimate that an additional population of three to five thousand people will have been added to the already large and thriving new town of Badin.

Albemarle is building up as rapidly as contractors can push forward the work of construction, especially is this done by the W-scassett Mills Co., which concern is literally adding block after block to its new residence section.

It should be a matter of pride to every resident of North Carolina to know that Stanly county can boast of this tremendous building movement which is being so rapidly pushed forward at this time of seeming business depression, and especially building depression.

TROTZKY PREPARES NOTE TO ENTENTE

He Returns to Petrograd During Recession in the Peace Negotiations.

Petrograd, Jan. 22.—The peace negotiations at Brest-Litovsk have been postponed for a few days. Foreign Minister Trotzky is again in Petrograd and, according to the evening newspapers, is preparing another note to the Entente Allies.

Premier Lenine has ordered the Red Guard to comb the city for "the motor car with Red Guards and sailors who killed Shingareff and Kokoshkin." The murder of the former ministers as they lay sick in hospital has created a feeling of revulsion among the Bolshevik officials, who are anxious to prevent the situation getting beyond their control.

The Petrograd Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates has adopted a resolution of the strictest censure of the murders, declaring it never could approve of summary justice and that no crimes had been committed by those killed.

ATTENDING THE STORE MANAGERS' MEETING

Messrs. A. W. and S. W. Harry, of the Belk-Harry Stores in This City, Go to Charlotte Meeting.

Messrs. A. W. and S. W. Harry, of the Belk-Harry stores, went to Charlotte this morning where they are today attending a meeting of the managers of the Belk chain of department stores in North and South Carolina. This is an annual gathering of these mercantile men and every store was expected to be represented at the meeting today.

STOP CATARRH! OPEN NOSTRILS AND HEAD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Relieves Head-Colds at Once.

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed and you can't breathe freely because of a cold or catarrh, just get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head, soothing and healing the inflamed, swollen mucous membrane and you get instant relief.

Had the Grip Three Weeks With January comes lagrippe, lingering colds seem to settle in the system, causing one to ache all over, feel feverish and chilly, tired, heavy and dropping. Mrs. Lizzie Tyles, Henderson, Ky., writes: "My daughter had lagrippe for three weeks. I had the doctor and bought medicine and none of it did any good. I gave her Foley's Honey and Tar and now she is all right. I have told all my friends about it." Insist on the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar. For sale everywhere.

ITEMS FROM WOODLEAF.

Woodleaf, Jan. 22.—Mr. Alton Shaver was born in 1840. He had been living around Woodleaf for a number of years. In his younger days he worked for Mr. J. K. Culbertson's father until the war broke out, and when his country called he went and volunteered, and went through the entire war without a scratch. After the war, he came back to his farm place where he was and after a number of years moved to his small farm near Woodleaf. He had been suffering with a cancer in his throat for some time. After long suffering he passed his reward January 21. He leaves a large circle of friends and relatives to mourn their loss. The funeral was conducted by Rev. Mr. Poe, and the remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at the church.

Miss Nannie Jones from Advance is visiting Mrs. Marvin Koontz of this place.

Messrs. Burton Jones and Charles Poe are going to school at Woodleaf.

Mr. Orion Click who has been sick, is better at this writing.

Mr. Clint Lippard has a new horse. Mr. Council Cranford of this place is working for the McCannless Motor Company at Salisbury.

At this writing there is snow and sleet falling, making the eleventh snow of the season.

Rev. Dr. Clark filled the pulpit at Unity Sunday and gave us a most excellent sermon.

FLETCHER ALLEN BARRINGER

On Friday evening, January 18th, 1918, God called to his home above Fletcher Allen Barringer, eldest son of J. H. Barringer, of Cleveland, N. C. He was stricken with pneumonia just one week ago but was desperately ill from the beginning. "Fletch," as he was called, was the light of his home. Just blooming into young manhood, having recently passed his 21st birthday, he had the promise of long life before him. His genial, lovable nature had drawn around him many young friends, but neither he nor they were looking for the summons when it came.

He was a student at Lenoir College last year and a part of this year. He won several medals last year for his efficiency in his lessons and declamations. We can't understand why Fletch has been called so soon, but there's a beautiful song which says, "Sometime, somewhere We'll Understand." Until that time, my dear bereaved relatives and friends, look to Jesus, and may the consolation of grace sustain you until life's work is done and you meet to part no more.

"A precious one from us has gone, A voice we loved is stilled; A place is vacant in the home, Which never can be filled.

God, in His wisdom, has recalled The boon His love had given, And though the body slumbers there, The soul is safe in Heaven."

—A Friend, in Salisbury.

MUNITIONS GROWN BY SEED WELL SOWN

We read a lot about the mills which make our war munitions. We read of Uncle Sam's big bills proving a by war conditions. We read about the railroad lines which find their powers tested; of freight from factories and mines, all tangled and congested. Munition plants work day and night to furnish guns and rifles for those who go across to fight where horror stuns and stifles. But there are not the only things that constitute munitions, for cruel, ruthless warfare brings some complex propositions. As great as is the army's need for guns and shells and powder, its cry for stuff on which to feed resounds a great deal louder. We've got to arm our fighting men with bread and beef and bacon to give them strength and vigor when their drives are undertaken. To feed them as they should be fed is our great obligation, so they may charge where they are led with grim determination. To do this all of us must toil, forsaking easy benches, and spade and dig the garden soil to make our own munition plants—potatoes, beans and onions, and, smiling bravely, meet the chance that raising corn breeds bunions. Let's grow munitions in our yards, beets, squash and peas and lettuce. Let's be a real Home Garden Guard—or else the Hun will get us. Now write to the National Emergency Food Garden Commission of Washington and send a 2-cent stamp for a free garden primer.
