WANT TURKISH BATTALION OF WOMEN BEHIND FRONT

New York, March 22.—A Wolff bureau dispatch from Constantinople, published in German newspapers received here, says the Ottoman association for women's service has published an appeal to all Turkish women between the ages of 18 and 20, to enroll in the women's battalion. The Vakit points out that Turkish women having already been admitted to the field of commerce, to public offices and to other branches of the state service, are now enabled to enter the army. Their organization, to be known as the "first working woman's battalion" will work eight hours daily behind the front.

It is not the hypothetical Jap peril to be dreaded than the mailed fist already working overtime?

FLOATS FOUR DAYS ON A FRAIL CRAFT

Norfolk Boy, Missing Since March 5, When Airplane Fell Into Sea, Now in English Hospital.

Norfolk, Va., March 22.—Sharp up on a message from the Navy Department yesterday from Admiral Sims to A. J. Stone of this city, notifying him that his son, Emory Stone, an aviator with the naval flying corps, had been missing since March 5, the family received a second message this afternoon that Young Stone had been picked up and was now in a hospital in Portland, England. The first message told the family that the only message received from the missing man was brought in by a carrier pigeon, and said that owing to engine trouble developed by his hydro-aeroplane, he had been forced to land away from his ship at sea and that a search was being made to locate him. The final message declared he had been picked up by a patrol boat. It is thought he is suffering from exposure. The message shows that Stone remained afloat on his frail craft for four days.

You Get What You Pay For

In the majority of cases, American shrewdness is proof against the lure of such inviting phrases as "ground floor" and "special discount."

A very proper suspicion attaches to the man who uses such terms, for the public has well learned that it gets what it pays for!

But we Goodyear Service Station Dealers find that in the tire business certain fallacies prevail that are discredited everywhere else.

Chief among these fallacies is the belief in certain quarters that it pays to buy a "special discount" tire.

Let us say here and now, that when a dealer offers you a "special discount" to get you to buy a tire, you may fairly be sure that he is doing one of two things.

Either he is offering a tire on which he, himself, gets a special discount from its maker; or he is withholding from you the helpful service so necessary to get the maximum mileage from that tire.

In the one case the tire's quality is lowered at the source by compromised manufacture; in the other its capacity for service is handicapped by neglect.

Remember that only the conscientious dealer who gets his fair margin can afford to sell you a quality tire backed by the kind of service which will insure its long life and your satisfaction.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Washington, March 23.—North Carolina intends to put over a big home food production campaign, judging from the reports of organization for the work reaching the National War Garden Commission. It is expected that a big boom will be given to the movement by War Garden Week April 1.

"We had wonderful success last year and want to make a bigger success this year," is the word from N. Buckner, secretary of the Asheville Board of Trade. Similar messages come from other parts of the state. The Commission is sending a large supply of its garden primers to banks and other organizations throughout the state, which are distributing them to their patrons to help in the home garden work.

"The spirit in which North Carolina is going into this patriotic work is very inspiring," said Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the Commission, today. "The people there have realized the important part that food plays in the war, and they are going into this undertaking in earnest. The message by Congress of the Daylight Saving Bill, which will add to the time available for the worker to cultivate his garden, will accomplish wonders in the amount of food that can be grown. It should increase by fully 25 per cent the efficiency of the war gardener. Everyone should urge his Congressman to vote for this bill."

It is expected that when the returns are in this fall North Carolina will be found in the front ranks among the states which have helped to feed themselves and win the war through putting every back yard and vacant lot to work for Uncle Sam. Under the slogan of the National War Garden Commission "Every Garden a Munition Plant," every home gardener must grow ammunition and take a shot at the Kaiser through the beans, cabbage and other vegetables he grows.
