"MY SOLDIER GIRL."

Right Up to the Minute and a Screen From Start to Finish.

Manager Hobson, of the Colonial continues to receive flattering notices endorsing the performance of the big military musical spectacle "My Soldier Girl." This is good news to local theatergoers for this big success is booked at the Colonial next Tuesday night, March 26th. Of this attraction The State, of Columbia, S. C., says:

"My Soldier Girl" which was presented at the Columbia theatre last night was greeted with applause from the rise of the curtain until the last act. Miss Gudrum Walberg, in the role of "My Soldier Girl," made a splendid impression and deservedly received a lion's share of the encores. William Moore, because of his clever comedian line and spicy jokes was able to import a light vein throughout the entire play, somewhat relieving the tension and proving a hit with the audience.

Especially in the line of his mirth which had a patriotic bearing was the black-face comedian applauded, the mention of "Somewhere" as the largest town in France proving to be a winner. Again when he mentioned the map of Europe and stating that Germany's position was yet to be located there was an uproar from the audience.

"My Soldier Girl," the gorgeous musical spectacle which has been so popular throughout the present tour of the country, came up to the full expectation of everyone, according to the talk heard in between the acts and at the conclusion. In addition to being a musical comedy that proved popular, the patriotic aspect of the play added considerably to the interest maintained throughout. Beginning in the city of New York and having its conclusion on the battlefield "Somewhere in France," the play was full of the war time spirit, and in the concluding scene when the Stars and Stripes waved triumphant over the field of strife there was terrific applause which lasted for several moments.

RED CROSS SEALS BRING MILLION DOLLARS

North Carolina Shows Big Increase—Greensboro Leads Cities.

According to figures just furnished by the state Red Cross Seal commission, of which Dr. L. B. McBrayer is executive secretary, North Carolina sold 1,754,102 Red Cross seals last year, netting $17,541,022, less expenses, for the fight against tuberculosis. This represents an increase of forty-six per cent over the sales of seals a year ago.

Of the cities and towns in the state, Greensboro heads the list with 210,871 seals sold, while Raleigh is second with 111,760 and Asheville third with an even 100,000. From the funds raised some of the towns are employing visiting public health nurses, some are planning anti-tuberculosis educational work, while other are paying part of the cost of treatment for indigent tuberculosis patients.

Arrangements have been made to co-operate more closely next year with local Red Cross chapters in the sale of seals and to have the seal sale campaign close about December 15, after which the Red Cross and the anti-tuberculosis organizations will join forces in a holiday membership drive for members for the American Red Cross. In this way it is expected to increase the seal sales for the entire nation to approximately a half billion.

INTEREST IN FAMILY COWS GROWING.

West Raleigh, March 22.—Returning from Scotland Neck recently, Mr. R. H. Mason of the dairy field office of the Agricultural extension service, states that interest in family cows seems to be on the increase over the entire state. Together with Mr. G. A. Cardwell, agricultural agent of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, Wilmington, N. C., Mr. Mason made arrangements with Mr. J. H. Alexander, Jr., cashier of the Scotland Neck bank to place eight pure bred registered Jersey cows in the vicinity as soon as they could be secured. Orders for these eight animals were taken on the day of Mr. Mason's visit, and the bank has agreed to finance other farmers who desire to make such purchases. Many farmers are planning to take advantage of this offer.

Mr. Cardwell and Mr. N. B. Stevens, county agent for Halifax county have interested themselves very much in this proposition of securing family cows and have aided the dairy field office greatly in the work. Mr. Cardwell has been especially active in gaining the co-operation of the bankers over all the section tributary to the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad. He was especially successful some few weeks ago in having one of the bankers at Tarboro take up this matter, and the county agent, Mr. Zeno Moore, was able to place several pure bred family cows, as the result of this work.
