BEWHISKERED RUSSIA.

I fear that Russia won't behave until her people learn to shave. We cannot look for good horse sense in men whose shrunken sense is dense, whose lambskins obstruct the view, and often block the traffic, too. I hope to see and Russia rise from that deep pit in which she lies. I hope to see her rise in time, and how a destiny sublime, but first her men will have to hew the whiskers that impede the view. No nation can be truly great whose voters pack a hundredweight of spinach up and down the street, so long it gets beneath their feet. When poor old Russia spilled the beans, and swapped her birthright for some greens, when windy demagogues arose and turned her over to her foes, when desolation o'er her crept, the allied nations looked and wept. There was no harshness in their gaze; they sympathized with those poor jays, by fool advisers led afar from where she wreaths of glory are. The allied nations wept unaltered, "She's hit the long toboggan slide; such spectacles disgust, deject; but what can any one expect from men whose whiskers seem to grow eight inches every hour or so?" And thus 'twill ever, always be, no future for the Russ we see, until, with motions strong and blithe, he reaps his whiskers with a scythe.

W S S The idea of a Teut calling any one a liar. If the Premier of France secures every decoration that his country can bestow upon him, he will never wear an honor so significant as to be called a liar by one of these brutes and natural born liars of Vienna.

W S S Liberty bonds, or German bondage, which shall it be? When a man refuses to consider bonds he invites bondage. It is better to collect interest on a loan to Uncle Sam, than to pay tribute to the Germans. There are very few men but who can buy at least one Liberty bond.

W S S The conventions held in Raleigh the past few days caused little stir in the state. One great reason that conventions are of little significance now that the primaries have cut them off from close connection with the people. Another reason is that with the great issues of this war on hand people are not disposed to give much attention to small political issues among a people that are in ideals and aspirations.

W S S BONDS OR BONDAGE. American bonds or German bondage?

The American people must either finance this war and win it or pay tribute to the Germans and help them pay for their world war.

We must help pay for this war. There is no way under the sun to escape it. We must either pay to win it or pay to lose it, one of the two. We are asked to finance it for the winning of it. We can either do this voluntarily or be forced to pay the war debt through a forced contribution to the Kaiser's war chest.

If we buy bonds we get interest and the money back. In addition we are helping our own government win the war and save our own people and nation. If we pay tribute to Crazy Bill and his brutes it will all go and neither interest or principal come back to us.

There are few people but who can help finance this war. Financing this war means either paying taxes or lending money. In the first case, of course, the more one has, the more taxes must be paid. In the second place the loaning of money gives every one a chance, rich and poor, for even the babes in arms can buy thrift stamps.

Liberty bonds may be bought down to fifty dollars and few are there but who can buy that much.

So far the campaign in this country has gotten nowhere. It is just beginning. The start is not encouraging by any means, but we must, simply must, arouse ourselves and do our duty.

The duty of the Americans today is to buy Liberty bonds. The duty of the men, women and children in Rowan is to buy Liberty bonds and buy them in now.

W S S TWO YOUNG WOMEN IN COURT.

Arrested as Questionable Characters and Are Given Workhouse Sentence, Pending Their Leaving and Remaining Away From Salisbury.

The only defendants before the county court this morning were two young white women, one claiming to be only sixteen years old, who were taken in charge by police officers at the passenger station last night. They are women of questionable character and one of them had been in Salisbury before. The officers have them down on the list of what is classed as "traveling women." They bore good faces and appeared very penitent in court, one stating that she was willing to return to her home in High Point but the other said she was mistreated at home and did not wish to return, she also claiming High Point as her original home.

The court arranged the judgment so as to give these women an opportunity to return home, or at least to stay away from Salisbury, a thirty day sentence at the work house being imposed on each, sentence not to issue if they leave Salisbury and are not found within the county within the next twelve months.

Chief of Police Miller says he is going to have all such characters as the above arrested and hauled into court if they stop in Salisbury.

NEWSPAPER MEN COMING HERE WITH CHARLIE CHAPLIN

Highest Salaried Photoplay Actor Will be Accompanied by Prominent Writers on His Visit South—Opened Southern Tour in Danville Yesterday.

Charlie Chaplin, probably the highest salaried photoplay actor, who is to make hurried tour of the South in the interest of the third Liberty bond campaign, opened his Southern tour at Danville, Va., yesterday afternoon and was hoed by a tremendous crowd, and within an hour $330,000 had been subscribed at the meeting.

Mr. Chaplin will be in Winston-Salem tomorrow morning, coming to Lexington for an afternoon talk and will come to Salisbury on an early evening train and fill his engagement here, beginning at the Tabernacle at 8 o'clock. He will be met at the station by hundreds of citizens and various organizations will form a procession and escort him from the station to the big auditorium.

Mr. Chaplin will have a party of distinguished newspaper men with him. Mr. Robert Wagner, of the staff of the Saturday Evening Post, and Mr. Charles Lapworth, associate editor of the London Daily Mail, are in the party. Mr. Lapworth is a good speaker also, and is intimately acquainted with the cause of the war, its progress and the conditions attending the struggle today. He will probably address the gathering in the event there is time following the address of Mr. Chaplin.

Mr. Carlisle R. Robinson, the publicity director of Mr. Chaplin, will also be a member of the party, arriving here Saturday. Mr. Robinson is a North Carolinian, being a native of Raleigh.

W S S MUTT AND JEFF'S DIVORCE.

One of the marvels of modern popular price musical comedy is its pronounced artistry of presentation as against the careless manner of equipment of some seasons ago. Nowadays, presentations, size up in quality with the most ornate and prodigious of the big New York musical pieces of the first class. The Gus Hill management was one of the first of the popular price producing firms to provide lavish surroundings for the text of their productions. "Mutt and Jeff's Divorce," the newest Bud Fisher coedit of the firm, to be seen here this season at the Colonial Theatre today is said to be graced by exactly the same quality of scenic and costume effects as the biggest and best of the Broadway two dollar musical productions. Proof of the assertion is suggested in the information that the Gus Hill firm employs the same scenic and costume designers and builders as the management of the Ziegfeld Follies, and pays quite as much for its equipments.

Jump from Bed in Morning and Drink Hot Water

Tells why everyone should drink hot water each morning before breakfast.

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried, some days, headachy, dull unstrung, some days really incapacitated by illness.

If we all would practice inside-bathing, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anaemic-looking souls with pasty, muddy complexion we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms ptomaine-like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous days and sleepless night have become real cranks about the morning inside-bath.

A quarter-ounce of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone, its cleansing, sweetening and freshening effect upon the system.

NEGRO SOLDIER WRITES ABOUT THEIR TIME

The following letter is self explanatory:

Co. 24, 161 Depot Brigade Camp Grant, Ill., Apr. 6, 1918.

Dear Sir:—We are all here and every body is happy. As we came to the camp, the only thing we could here was "you'll like it," and we do like it and will be crazy about it as soon as our fourteen days of quarantine are over and we can see some of the place. We are not doing much yet, about a hundred at a time are detailed for work for three or four hours. The first day here fooled us, the weather was so good, just as it was when we left, but it has changed now, and sweaters come in good. The trees even look like winter yet.

With the exception of colds the boys have very good health. All the Rowan men are in the same building, and I am acting sergeant; Whillington is second and Garrett is third.

The officers say that the Rowan bunch is the best behaved, most intelligent in the camp. The lieutenant who brought us here is a fine man. And we had a fine time on the trip, and a plenty to eat.

When we got to Cincinnati we got a dining car to the camp. The fellows made a hit with the officers on the train by singing, and we had Sunday school on the train also.

We are planning to have a big day of it Sunday, Melton, one of the Spencer boys will preach and then we will have Sunday school. The boys have written more than a hundred and fifty letters since we have been here.

While we were at the station some gentleman from one of the wholesale houses gave the boys two whole boxes of cigarettes, and I don't know his name. The boys with to thank him and if we could get his name would like to write him a letter.

We are the only bunch here that is well supplied with everything. Thanks to one good friend.

You can bet that old Rowan will go over the top in good form.

Yours, VIVIAN R. DAVIS

W S S TAR HEEL FARMER SAYS IT QUICKLY HELPED HIS WIFE

She'd Twist and Turn All Through the Night—But Now She Sleeps Like a Baby.—Tells What Did It. The burdens of life are not equally borne by men and women. Women too often suffer from some weakness that was never intended for them by nature.

When trouble or hard work or excitement have rendered the nerves so wide awake that sleep is denied, the over-tired brain must be helped to get quickly back to its healthy normal condition or serious mischief ensues.

Dreco, the wonderful herbal medicine aims to accomplish this as nothing else ever has done. Its mission is to bring the disabled, debilitated, nervous tissues the peculiar nerve food which they must have to build up their parts.

"My wife suffered terribly from pains in the back and limbs, constipation, headaches, and, worst of all, sleeplessness," declares the well known Tar Heel farmer, R. D. Gourley, R. F. D. No. 3, Winston-Salem. "She would fall asleep early in the night but would wake up soon and could hardly hear the clock strike every hour until morning. She would twist and turn all night and was always more tired in the morning than when she went to bed."

"A friend told me of Dreco and how it had helped just such a case as this and so we decided to give it a trial. We're mighty glad we did that now because it certainly gave us splendid results. My wife sleeps like a baby now, all night long. Her pains are gone and she now has a good appetite. The first time for years. I want three more bottles of Dreco now, so we both can take it as I believe it will make me feel 20 years younger."

Dreco is known throughout the Tar Heel state as the one herbal medicine that accomplishes results in cases of severe stomach trouble, constipation, rheumatism and similar ills.

It is sold by all good druggists and is recommended strongly in Salisbury by Smith Drug Co., and in Spence by Rowan Drug Co.

One Hundred and Forty-Two Years of Labor and Struggle

THE American people fought their first battle for liberty and the rights of self-government one hundred and forty-two years ago.

At this time, and for many years thereafter, their realization of their national aspirations and of the goal toward which they were really striving was vague and indistinct. But step by step they struggled onward and upward a light which grew clearer as their eyes and minds slowly opened to its significance. Today, as a result of their struggles and their sacrifices, we possess and enjoy our priceless American institutions.

These institutions must be preserved. The structure so laboriously reared in these one hundred and forty-two years will be utterly destroyed if we do not spring to its defense with every atom of our energy and determination. This is not a situation which may be trifled with, or evaded, or put off. It is one which must be met now—today—no matter what sacrifices it may entail, or what the cost may be.
