MR. THOMAS FRANCIS YOUNG DIES AFTER A PROTRACTED ILLNESS

One of Salisbury's Best Known and Most Highly Respected Citizens Dies at Age of 62 Years—Was for Many Years Engaged in Mercantile Business.

Mr. Thomas Francis Young, aged 62 years, died at his home on South Main street, Monday afternoon about 1 o'clock after an illness of some time, having been in poor health for a number of years. The funeral took place from St. Luke's Episcopal church, of which deceased was a devout member, this afternoon at 4 o'clock, being conducted by the rector, Rev. W. W. Way, and the interment was in Chestnut Hill cemetery. The pall bearers were lifelong friends of the deceased, being W. T. Rainey, J. F. McCubbins, G. H. Shaver, O. D. Davis, J. M. Brown and S. W. Harry.

Frank Young, as he was known to all Salisbury, was a native of Davie county. He was a son of Archibald Young and came to Salisbury when a young man, engaging in the mercantile business and in this he was successful for many years. He knew the business probably better than any other man ever engaged in this calling in Salisbury and had the confidence and esteem of all the people of the city and county. In later years he gave up the business and clerked and kept books for like establishments but for some time has been compelled to give up active life on account of ill health.

Mr. Young was a leader in his church and for many years was an officer and Sunday school enthusiast and his splendid life had been an example to others.

Surviving is the wife, two sons and one daughter, these being Messrs. Carl and Fred Young and Mrs. J. W. Yeager, of Columbus, Ohio. Surviving also are four brothers, A. M. Young, of Charlotte, W. A. Young of Florida, J. Ed Young of Salem, N. C., and John Young of Salisbury, and two sisters, Mrs. C. R. Barker, of Charleston, W. Va., and Mrs. E. L. McAllister of Salisbury.

Mr. Young had for many years been a member of the Knights of Pythias and was one of the pioneer leaders in this fraternity here and was one of its staunchest members up to the time of his death.

War Work of English Women Covers Wide Field, From Grooming Horses to Felling Trees.

Thousands of able-bodied women have passed beyond the knitting-bandage-making stage over in Merrie England, leaving to children, cripples, and the aged these earliest and earnest war duties.

The war work of English women, translated in part, means grooming horses, doing forestry work, working on farms, making a business of hot-house vegetable raising, pitching hay, and in general, taking the places left vacant in the agricultural world by the absence of men workers who are at the front.

While one type of woman works in the cities in the factories and munitions plant, another type, sturdy, strong, and tireless, is guaranteeing England a supply of food for another year. From almost every walk of life, those women who are physically able, have taken their places in the fields, sometimes with a woman overseer but more often side by side with some man who has done his bit, earned his "blighty", and is home, barred forever from further war service on account of his wounds. These men often cannot do the work attempted by the young women, but they can give invaluable assistance and advice to "green horns".

Grooming horses isn't the pleasantest task in the world, but the women of England never hesitate. They know that to "carry on" means to do what one is best fitted for, not what one wishes to do. If one can groom horses, one does.

Secretary of Navy Says Good Will Come Out of the World Conflict—Quotes Thomas Jefferson.

(By the Associated Press)

Charlottesville, Va., June 11.—Meeting here today at the commencement exercises of the University of Virginia Secretary of the Navy Josephs Daniels said that good would come out of the world war and that it would teach a lesson that the "rule of force must be resisted and will be resisted successfully at every cost and at the supremest sacrifice."

The writings of Thomas Jefferson, founder of the university, were drawn on by the secretary to make his point that temporary victory of the Germans on the western front does not mean a permanent German success.

army of women foresters, regular female Robin Hoods, clad in strange combinations of masculine and feminine garb, are toiling in the wooded districts of England.

Not so strenuous, but quite as tiring and important, is the raising of fresh vegetables, under cloches, and in hot-houses, so that an early supply of green things may be assured.
