DRAFT HITS SPARKS' CIRCUS, 42 SHOWMEN ARE WITH COLORS

Captain Tiebor, Trained Seal Exhibitor, Last Man Called to the Army—Shows Now Touring Wisconsin and Business is Best in History of the Shows—Salisbury Next Winter.

A letter from Fletcher Smith, press agent with the Sparks Circus, now touring Wisconsin, states that while the shows are getting along nicely and doing the biggest business in its history, much difficulty has been encountered in securing help and that this has been so acute at times that some of the "higher ups" with the show have been compelled to join in stake pulling and doing other menial duties about the show grounds. The army draft has taken forty-two men from the shows, these coming from all departments, from common laborers to performers and others. Jack Phillips has lost quite a number from his band to the army. The last to be drafted was Captain Tiebor, the trained seal exhibitor, while Walter McLain, assistant elephant trainer, is also in a training camp, and John Sparks is in France and engaged on the front lines, having written back of several encounters in which his company was engaged.

The women with the shows have organized a Red Cross chapter and put in all spare time knitting and mending Red Cross supplies while Jack Phillips has a savings booth open at the show grounds every day and is doing a big business in this line.

The shows, while deprived of a number of its star performers, is said to be better than ever, new features being added to replace those cancelled on account of men being caught in the draft.

Albert Keller was lately married, securing his wife from Eastport, Me. The show has a good baseball team and is playing the teams in towns on the tour whenever opportunity offers and the boys are having lots of sport mixed in with their hard work.

Fritz Brunner, the wild animal trainer and performer, is not with the shows. He is a German and was detained in Cincinnati for the duration of the war and has secured a job in that city.

A paragraph in the letter says "It will be Salisburians for us this fall. Look out for us next winter."

The shows will go into North and South Dakota, and today are at Lake City, Wisconsin. Monday they will be at Glencoe, and the stands to be made up to and including July 8th, all in Minnesota, are as follows: July 2, Otavia; 3rd, Granite Falls; 4th, Litchfield; 5th, Cambridge; 6th, Anoka; 7th is Sunday; 8th, Albany.

NEW LADY OF THE CAMELIAS.

MISS HELENIZABE E. KENDRICK

Hepzibah E. Kneidrick is the new "Lady of the Camellias" for the troops going from the vicinity of Richmond to the war in Europe. The original "Lady of the Camellias" gave camellias to Union soldiers in the Civil War. The daughter of the first gave them from the same garden to men who went to war against Spain, and now a third of the family gives them from the same garden to the new soldiers.

SOCIETY

SWEETHEART OF A SOLDIER.

Sweetheart of a soldier—be true to him today!

Forget him not forever because he's gone away!
Resist the luring rivals who tell you gloomy tales—
Be true to him forever when the gallant soldier sails!

He needs your faithful loving more than he ever did;
Your face is like a comfort as in his visions fair
He sees it shining over the battle scenes amid—
And trusts you and is dreaming that you're waiting for him there!

Sweetheart of a soldier—O change not when he goes!
Be faithful through all tempting, and like the fadeless rose
Cling unto him and follow with thought and dream and prayer
The lad that's gone to battle for your country "over there."

He maybe has no others to think of him and write;
He saves your tender letters and reads them day and night;
His pictures you still waiting until he comes to you—
O, sweetheart of a soldier, unto your love be true!

Canteen—Service
Cheer—Serve

Mrs. Roy Hill Entertains.

The Friday Afternoon Boda Club had an altogether delightful meeting Friday morning with Mrs. Roy Hill as hostess, at the home of Mrs. Charles Reiser, on South Fulton street.

The living room, where the meeting took place, had been beautifully decorated in sweet peas and roses. The usual current events and discussions of the books took place after which an interesting program was carried out, one part being especially appropriate, comparing the celebrations of the old 4th of July and the present way of celebrating the glorious 4th. The author for this meeting was Mary Dillon, and a sketch of her life and several interesting criticisms were read.

Mrs. Hill served a regular Hoover menu at this meeting, consisting of brown bread sandwiches and iced tea, which she was assisted in serving by the little Misses Josephine Klutz, Margaret Witherspoon and Mary Hill. Miss Lawrence Maupin played very charmingly while the guests were being served.

Will you make possible a word of cheer and a bit of refreshment for the men who are doing more for us? Attend the lawn party on court house lawn on Saturday from 6 to 11 P. M.

Silver Wedding Celebration.

One of the most brilliant and elaborate social functions of the season was celebrated last night between the hours of 9 and 11 at the handsome home of Judge and Mrs. Robert Lee Wright on Fulton street, when they celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding. The artistic hand of Mr. James Wren was everywhere evident and the illuminations and decorations were appropriate and beautiful, while the Livingston Orchestra dispensed music during the festivities.

The porch, hall and stairway was decorated with a profusion of Queen Anne's laces, ferns, palms, sweet peas and potted plants.

Mrs. Charles Reiser, gowned in yellow tulle over silver cloth, with pearls, received the guests at the door, while the cards were received by little Miss Elizabeth Oaks in white net over silk, after which the guests were conducted to the cloak room by Miss Lucy Oaks, in shell pink georgette crepe, after which they were introduced into the drawing room and introduced to the receiving line, by Mrs. Edward R. Overman, gowned in an elaborate creation of turquoise blue satin and embroidered silver lace, and Mrs. John Wm. Carlton in yellow sation over blue tulle and gold cloth, which was composed of the groom, Judge R. Lee Wright, the bride, Mrs. R. Lee Wright, in silver gray embroidered tulle, over silver gray satin with court train and orchid corsage; Mrs. Geo. W. Wright, in black satin and jet; Mrs. Harry Uzzell in blue georgette crepe; Dr. J. T. Wright; Mrs. John A. Murphy in black net over satin and jet trimmings; Mrs. J. D. Davis in black satin and lace; Mrs. D. A. Cooper in orchid tulle; Mrs. Bradley Willis in turquoise in blue net over taffeta; Miss Lucile Oaks in blue silk and white tulle over silver cloth; Miss Ina Phillips in white georgette crepe over silk; Mrs. H. M. Wright in black georgette crepe over silk; Mrs. G. H. Heilig in black taffeta and

APPEAL FOR HELP FOR THE CANTEEN

A word in passing about the Canteen:

To ye of little faith as regards the efficacy of the service—

1. Will you help us who believe there is no more potent force for strengthening and sustaining the morale of our troops? The government is spending enormous sums on propaganda.

Do you believe written word makes so direct an appeal as the verbal? If perchance it should and this personal world only supplements—should we leave unused any force in a war of such magnitude?

To you whose hours are at your own disposal, will you show a bit of sympathy for the man who has gladly and willingly given all to be at the service of another? When perchance it has been decreed he shall travel 24 or 48 hours possibly much longer on a stretch, would you not be glad to refresh him? The drafted men from New York have been passing this week en route to camp. Every type is represented, from the man of Fifth avenue to him of the ghetto. They all speak the same language—gratitude—gratitude to the women who have thought to provide a cooling drink, who have brought Uncle Sam's Post office to men in his service, who have seen that the line back home is sent on its way, etc., etc.

To you, who have leisure—will you go down some half hour and bear witness to the evidence of things seen?

The guests were then ushered into the gift room by Mrs. H. A. Houzer, gowned in white net over silk with corsage of sweet peas, where Mrs. Charles L. Murphy, gowned in cream net over satin and silver trimmings, presided over the gift table, which bore elegant evidence of the esteem of their friends.

Mrs. W. C. Maupin, gowned in white net over silk, then conducted the guests into the dining room where a scene of beauty greeted the eye, with the large dining table draped with cluny lace cloth over damask, the center decoration being a silver basket of maiden-hair ferns with white sweet peas and sponsonia, and silver candle sticks with white silver shades trimmed in orange blossoms, while little white baskets tied with little orange blossoms held the mints and confections. Miss Mary Wren, gowned in black lace over white satin with jet trimmings and corsage of purple lilacs, and Mrs. J. M. Brown in black lace over white satin, presided at the table, while Mrs. Monroe Clayborne in Nile green silk; Miss Elizabeth Currell in dainty pink frock; Misses Elizabeth and Catherine Gorman in white net and blue; Miss Marie Oaks in white net over pink charmeuse; Miss Elaine Klutz in blue silk and silver; Miss Margaret Wright in White net, Miss Margaret Overton in light blue silk and tulle, served cream, cake, mints and confections, after which the guests were conducted to the punch bowl presided over by Miss Clery Oaks in silk net over perkin blue taffeta, and Miss Lowery in cream embroidered net over chiffon. Then Miss Mildred Walsler in orchid tulle over silk conducted the guests to the bride's book which was presided over by Miss Sally Lee Oaks in pink charmeuse with carnations after which adieus were said.

Among the out of town guests were Mrs. D. A. Cooper of Statesville; Mr. Richard Owen, Mrs. J. D. Davis, Misses Clara and Marie Oaks, Mrs. Bradley Willis, little Miss Amanda Willis, Misses Ina Phillips and Mildred Walsler of Lexington; Mrs. E. W. Rinehardt of Louisville, Ky.; Misses Lucy and Elizabeth Oaks of High Point, and others.

North Main Street Prayer Meeting.
The regular meeting of the North Main street women's prayer meeting will take place this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. W. F. Ratz, on North Main street. Mr. T. Wingate Andrews will make a short talk at this meeting. The ladies of the town are most cordially invited to attend these meetings.

Lawn Party Tonight.
In case of rain tonight, the lawn party given for the benefit of the Canteen Service will be given just as scheduled only it will take place on the inside of the court house. Hours, 6 to 11 P. M.

Mrs. W. E. McWhirter Returns.
Mrs. Wm. Ebers McWhirter and children returned home last night on Train No. 45 from a month's visit to relatives at Washington, D. C., and Harrisonburg, Va.

Party on Court House Lawn.
Would you have your boy refreshed when wearied during service for his country? Somebody's boy needs that today. Will you help the Canteen to supply it? Attend the lawn party on Court House lawn from 6 to 11 o'clock tonight.

Personals.
Mrs. William Farnhardt went to Charlotte this morning to spend the week with relatives.

A number of small ladies including Misses Corinne Heilig, Clara May Neal, Mary Louise Ragland, Sarah Barnhardt, Dorothy Dutters, Elizabeth Klutz, and Homozelle McCorkle gave a lawn party Wednesday evening and realized $14.60 which was turned over to the canteen service fund. The young ladies held their party on the lawn at the home of Miss Mildred McCubbins and are very proud of their success.
