

Buy Bonds Today and Bring the Rowan Boys Home Tomorrow

And May God Protect Every One of Them.

Salisbury Evening Post

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ONE EDITION 2 CENTS

WEATHER FORECAST Fair and probably cooler to night and Wednesday.

VOL. 14, NO. 227.

SALISBURY, NORTH CAROLINA.

TUESDAY, OCT. 1, 1918.

PRICE TWO CENTS

AMERICAN TALK

WORDS OF "HOMELAND" There's a Homeland, a true land, Across the sea, Where they watch and wait, And trust in me...

There's a brave land, About me here, Where they watch and wait, Nor weep, nor fear...

A fair sample of the Hun's character is shown in the action of the interned Germans at Hot Springs. After being treated like gentlemen, fed on the fat of the land and permitted to loaf and loiter about at ease...

But a people who broke every pledge, invaded innocent homes, stole the valuables of the land, ruined the cities and fields, poisoned the wells, outraged the womanhood of the nation, crucified men and drove men and women into slavery—such a breed of curs will do anything and the contemptible low down liars and thieves interned in this country would, if they could, do the same things over here...

Local strategists who foregather daily at the Post bulletin board these happy days are getting the reports that makes the heart grow younger. The news that comes is so good that it brings a new joy to the American watching the bulletin board. And if these reports make the far away American happy, what do they do for the poor fellows at close range?

Every American knew this day was coming—the day when the Hun's strangle hold would be broken and his power wane. A few cowardly souls and a few pro-German sympathizers may have had a weak heart on the matter, but all Americans who believe in their country, the righteousness of their cause and the ever present God of Heaven—these knew that the day was near when the Hun would begin to lose his grip on the world and be hurled back, back where they belonged for all time to come...

Men are now to breathe easy. Women may get about the world without that horrible fear, children will soon turn their play without fright and men and women can return to their work with the full knowledge...

FUROR EXCITEMENT THROUGHOUT GERMANY KING OF BELGIANS LEADING ARMIES TO SUCCESS GERMANS FIRE CAMBRAI IN PREPARATION FOR EVACUATION

FUROR EXCITEMENT OVER GERMANY

Uphaval Amounts to a Panic on the Bourse, Papers and Public Officials in Hysteria. PEACE DEMONSTRATION TAKES PLACE IN BERLIN Emperor William Pleads With Fatherland Party, Asking People Rally Defense of Empire.

London, Oct. 1.—There is the greatest excitement in Germany over the defection of Bulgaria, judging from special dispatches received here from Holland. On Saturday, the report states, the excitement amounted to a panic. According to reports, the panic particularly affected the Berlin Bourse where stocks slumped violently. Panics also struck parliament, newspaper circles and public officials. The alarm brought forth the instant demand that "something be done."

Local strategists who foregather daily at the Post bulletin board these happy days are getting the reports that makes the heart grow younger. The news that comes is so good that it brings a new joy to the American watching the bulletin board. And if these reports make the far away American happy, what do they do for the poor fellows at close range?

Every American knew this day was coming—the day when the Hun's strangle hold would be broken and his power wane. A few cowardly souls and a few pro-German sympathizers may have had a weak heart on the matter, but all Americans who believe in their country, the righteousness of their cause and the ever present God of Heaven—these knew that the day was near when the Hun would begin to lose his grip on the world and be hurled back, back where they belonged for all time to come...

Men are now to breathe easy. Women may get about the world without that horrible fear, children will soon turn their play without fright and men and women can return to their work with the full knowledge...

INTEREST FOCUSED NOW ON TURKEY

Quitting of Bulgaria From Hostilities Puts a New Phase on Situation on That Front. GERMAN ARMY YET STRONG AND IS STILL UNDEFEATED However, Allies Are Pressing on Hard and Successfully on Battle Fronts in France-Belgium.

London, Oct. 1.—With Bulgaria out of the war through armistice conventions signed Sunday involving her complete military surrender interest in the near eastern situation is being focused on Turkey. There is deep satisfaction in London over developments but no excitement and no demonstrations. The keynote of newspaper comment is a warning to the people not to think the war is ended. The German army, it is pointed out, is yet a great army and as yet is undefeated. There is strenuous work ahead, commentators generally agree and any relaxation of effort should not take place.

Local strategists who foregather daily at the Post bulletin board these happy days are getting the reports that makes the heart grow younger. The news that comes is so good that it brings a new joy to the American watching the bulletin board. And if these reports make the far away American happy, what do they do for the poor fellows at close range?

Every American knew this day was coming—the day when the Hun's strangle hold would be broken and his power wane. A few cowardly souls and a few pro-German sympathizers may have had a weak heart on the matter, but all Americans who believe in their country, the righteousness of their cause and the ever present God of Heaven—these knew that the day was near when the Hun would begin to lose his grip on the world and be hurled back, back where they belonged for all time to come...

Men are now to breathe easy. Women may get about the world without that horrible fear, children will soon turn their play without fright and men and women can return to their work with the full knowledge...

OVERMAN HEARS FROM PRESIDENT

Mr. Wilson Makes Personal Appeal to North Carolina Junior Senator and Others in Behalf of Woman Suffrage at This Time. Washington, Oct. 1.—With the Senate apparently about to vote on the woman suffrage resolution President Wilson supplemented his address yesterday in its support by sending personal letters to several Democratic Senators regarded as opponents of the measure, urging them to give the measure their vote.

Local strategists who foregather daily at the Post bulletin board these happy days are getting the reports that makes the heart grow younger. The news that comes is so good that it brings a new joy to the American watching the bulletin board. And if these reports make the far away American happy, what do they do for the poor fellows at close range?

Every American knew this day was coming—the day when the Hun's strangle hold would be broken and his power wane. A few cowardly souls and a few pro-German sympathizers may have had a weak heart on the matter, but all Americans who believe in their country, the righteousness of their cause and the ever present God of Heaven—these knew that the day was near when the Hun would begin to lose his grip on the world and be hurled back, back where they belonged for all time to come...

Men are now to breathe easy. Women may get about the world without that horrible fear, children will soon turn their play without fright and men and women can return to their work with the full knowledge...

PROHIBITION BILL IS SENT BACK TO SENATE

House Conference Unable to Agree on Repeal of Prohibition. WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The emergency agriculture appropriation bill, with its rider for national prohibition from next July 1, until the American armies are demobilized after the war, was sent back to the senate and house today by the conferees, who were unable to agree to a provision regulating rents in the District of Columbia.

Local strategists who foregather daily at the Post bulletin board these happy days are getting the reports that makes the heart grow younger. The news that comes is so good that it brings a new joy to the American watching the bulletin board. And if these reports make the far away American happy, what do they do for the poor fellows at close range?

Every American knew this day was coming—the day when the Hun's strangle hold would be broken and his power wane. A few cowardly souls and a few pro-German sympathizers may have had a weak heart on the matter, but all Americans who believe in their country, the righteousness of their cause and the ever present God of Heaven—these knew that the day was near when the Hun would begin to lose his grip on the world and be hurled back, back where they belonged for all time to come...

Men are now to breathe easy. Women may get about the world without that horrible fear, children will soon turn their play without fright and men and women can return to their work with the full knowledge...

FEAR REVOLUTION SEIZED FERDINAND

Revolt at Home and Failure of Germany-Austria to Send Help Resulted in Fall Bulgaria. GERMANY AND AUSTRIA SENT EVASIVE REPLIES Anarchy Was Making Serious Progress and Bolshevism in Extensive Form Order of Day.

Local strategists who foregather daily at the Post bulletin board these happy days are getting the reports that makes the heart grow younger. The news that comes is so good that it brings a new joy to the American watching the bulletin board. And if these reports make the far away American happy, what do they do for the poor fellows at close range?

Every American knew this day was coming—the day when the Hun's strangle hold would be broken and his power wane. A few cowardly souls and a few pro-German sympathizers may have had a weak heart on the matter, but all Americans who believe in their country, the righteousness of their cause and the ever present God of Heaven—these knew that the day was near when the Hun would begin to lose his grip on the world and be hurled back, back where they belonged for all time to come...

Men are now to breathe easy. Women may get about the world without that horrible fear, children will soon turn their play without fright and men and women can return to their work with the full knowledge...

HYSTERIA SEIZES GERMAN PEOPLE

Amid the crumbling of its Cabinet Germany is hearing rumors of a revolution in Berlin. CAMBRAI IN FLAMES AS HUNS PREPARE RETREAT King Albert of Belgium is leading his forces and those of the British to further success.

Local strategists who foregather daily at the Post bulletin board these happy days are getting the reports that makes the heart grow younger. The news that comes is so good that it brings a new joy to the American watching the bulletin board. And if these reports make the far away American happy, what do they do for the poor fellows at close range?

Every American knew this day was coming—the day when the Hun's strangle hold would be broken and his power wane. A few cowardly souls and a few pro-German sympathizers may have had a weak heart on the matter, but all Americans who believe in their country, the righteousness of their cause and the ever present God of Heaven—these knew that the day was near when the Hun would begin to lose his grip on the world and be hurled back, back where they belonged for all time to come...

Men are now to breathe easy. Women may get about the world without that horrible fear, children will soon turn their play without fright and men and women can return to their work with the full knowledge...

Men are now to breathe easy. Women may get about the world without that horrible fear, children will soon turn their play without fright and men and women can return to their work with the full knowledge...