

WORLD'S FAIR SOUVEIRS.

HOW YOU CAN GET ONE OF THE COLUMBIAN HALF DOLLARS.

The World's Fair souvenir coins are "going like hot cakes," and those who want to get one or more of them will have to hasten themselves or they will be too late. The desire for one of these mementos of the Exposition seems to be almost as universal as is the interest in the Exposition itself and orders for them have been sent in from all parts of the United States and also from foreign countries.

This souvenir half dollar, it is reported from Washington, will be the most artistic coin ever issued from the mint. On the obverse side will appear the head of Columbus, designed from the Lotto portrait, and surrounding it the words, "Columbian Exposition, Chicago, 1892." On the reverse side will appear a caravel, representing Columbus' flag-ship, and beneath it two hemispheres. Above the caravel will be "United States of America" and beneath the hemispheres, "Columbian Half Dollar. There is no doubt that this coin will be regarded as the most distinctive and highest prized cheap souvenir of the World's Fair.

All of these souvenir coins, except five, are being sold at a uniform price of one dollar each. For the first coin struck off $10,000 has already been offered, and various prices have been bid for the 400th, 1492d, 1892d and the last coin. Desiring that these souvenirs be distributed as widely as possible among the people and that all irrespective of locality, have an equal chance to obtain them, the Exposition authorities have sought to prevent syndicates and others from purchasing large quantities and thus "cornering" the sale. On the contrary, they have arranged to supply banks, business houses and individuals in parts of the country with as many as they may desire to distribute among their patrons, customers or friends. They require only that the orders must be for fifty coins, some multiple of fifty, and that the order be accompanied by the cash, at the rate of one dollar for each coin. A great many banks and business firms have gladly complied with these conditions and ordered each from 50 to 20,000 of the coins.

Notwithstanding these conditions have been widely published, still a vast number of inquires by letter has been received at Exposition headquarters asking how the coins may be obtained. The best way is to get them through local banks, all of which are no doubt willing to accommodate in that way their patrons and the residents of the city or town in which they are doing business. If however, for any reason it is desired to obtain them other wise, the proper method is to form a club of subscribers for fifty coins, or some multiple of fifty, and select some one member of the club to send on the order and money and to distribute the coins when received. Orders should be addressed to A. F. Seeburger, Treasurer World's Columbian Exposition, Chicago.

It is probable that the coins will not be ready for distribution until some time in December. But the orders are being sent in rapidly, and will be filled in the order of being received. Therefore it is important that all who desire coins should put in their orders as soon as possible.

For Warts.

Make a saturated solution of washing soda. Apply on a bit of cotton. Leave on over night. A few applications are said to soften the wart and cause its disappearance.

More people with patent leather shoes on, borrow money that they never pay back than men who wear shoes that are patched.—Atchison Globe.

The Human Mind.

How much to be wandered at is the human mind! How mysterious its operations! How astonishing its results! The body, however beautiful, is the earth; its sphere of action is limited and circumscribed; it has speed of feet but no wings with which to fly; it may reach the summit of the loftiest mountain, but it can rise no higher. But what can limit the essence of the human mind? On the wings of the morning it flies to meet the sun at its rising, follows it in its course through the heavens, and watches it to the moment in which with its say, it bids the world farewell. And when night throws its mantle over all things, it follows each star along its path of light numbers the myriad host, and chases the comet in its eccentric flight. Turned to earth, it penetrates her darkest abodes, walks among her hidden fires, plunges into the depths of ocean and makes companions of the deep. Standing on the present, it looks back upon the past, contemplates the future. It holds converse with the men of other days loaded with the riches of the past, it goes to work for the present and future. How mysterious and how grand are its operations.

LAND FOR SALE.

Pursuant to and by virtue of a judgment of the Superior court of Northampton County, North Carolina, in the ex parte case of W. R. Deloach and others, I, as commissioner of the court, shall, on Monday the 5th day of December, 1892, sell at the court house door in Jackson, at public auction to the highest bidder, a tract of land situated in said county, known as the Dorsey S. Deloach tract of land, bounded by the lands of Jesse Plythe, John Vaughan, Mary Lassiter, W. H. Bristol, Fannie Turner and others, containing (250) two hundred and fifty acres, more or less.

Terms of Sale: One third cash; balance on a credit of twelve months with eight per cent. interest from day of sale, secured by bond and retaining of title till all is paid.
