WADESBORO HAS A SENSATION.

The Dead Body of Mag Wallace. col. Found in a Well Last Sunday, after Having Been Concealed Seven Weeks -Her Husband, Ed. Wallace, Her

A genuine sensation came to light n Wadesboro last Sunday. The dead body of Mag Wallace, col., was found in a well on the premises of the old Dr. Ashe place, after having been securely concealed there for

The discovery was made in this way: The premises had been vacant for nearly three months, until about three weeks ago, when Clem Richardson, col., moved into the kitchen on the place. Even at that time Clem noticed an unpleasant odor about the water, and would not use it, but the stench rising from the well became worse and worse until last Sunday, when an investigation was made and the body of a woman was seen floating on the water in the well. The news quickly spread, and a remarkably short time large crowds of excited negroes, and some whites, gathered at the scene of the Coroner Jas. T. Porter was summoned, and soon after arriving in town empanelled the following jury School at the entertainment to be Geo. W. Huntley, W. F. Gray, given in the Methodist church Christ H. D. Ruscoe, J. C. Parsons, Jno. T. Bennett and W. T. James,

The Coroner's jury had two meetings, one on Sunday night, and another Monday morning, and the following evidence throwing light upon the tragedy was developed:

The body was identified as that of Mag Wallace by her clothing, the way her bair was done up, and by the shape of her head. It was impossible to identify the body by the features, as they were too much distorted to throw much light on the subject, but the identification was very complete, by the means above enumerated. It was shown that she was the wife of Ed. Wallace, and that they lived in the kitchen on the premises of E-q. H. A. Crawford, just across the street from the place where the body was found. According to the evidence, they were both seen on Friday night, October 31st, after which time all trace of them was lost, until the body of the woman was found as above described. It was also shown that Mag had been leading a dissolute life, and that her husband was very much dissatisfied with the way she was doing, and had been heard to make threats. It was also in evidence that Wallace had told one or two persons on the Friday

A very strange part of the evidence was the fact that a part of Mag's living here, on the Saturday morning after the disappearance of the night before. The fact that Wallace The Raleigh Chronicle says of the was at her house at least two times Ashville Convention: "The commit on Friday night increases the mystee appointed for that purpose re- tery surrounding this evidence. After listening to the evidence, of which the above is a brief synopsis, the Coroner's jury returned a verdict

"That Maggie Wallace came to her leath on the night of the 31st of October, 1890, at the hands of unknown party or parties, by being thrown nto a well on the premises of the old Dr. Ashe place. There are circum-stances pointing to the guilt of her usband, Ed. Wallace.

Ed. Wallace and Mag Wallace came to this place something over two years ago from Rock Hill, S. C. The man bore an unusually good repu tation while here, but the woman was noted for her lascivious conduct. There is no doubt but that Wallace had been greatly worried for some time over the conduct of his wife, and there is reason to believe that she was dead drunk when she was thrown into the well. There were no signs of any bruises on her body and she must either have been drunk at the time, or smothered to death, and then carried to the well and thrown in, as it would have been well nigh impossible to have accomplished the feat if she had been in full possession

Wallace is a bright ginger cake colored negro, slender, and about six feet tall. His front teeth are large with open space between them. He shows his teeth when talking, and is said to have a down-cast look. His present whereabouts are unknown but he is supposed by some to be at his old home in Rock Hill, South Carolina,

BETTER THAN KOCH'S.

Two Michigan Doctors say They can Cure Consumption—Twelve Thou-sand Dollars Spent in Experimenting

DETROTT, Mich., Dec. 18.-Two of the foremost physicians of Michigan announced yesterday that they have discovered a consumption cure beyond doubt. The medical men who have thus distinguished themselves are Dr. E. L. Shurley, principal physician of the Ben Harbor Hospital, and Dr. H, Gibbs, of the Michigan University, of Ann Arbor.

For over two years these two doctors have bent all their energies to the discovery of a cure, and not until yesterday, when the success of their labors was beyond a doubt, they announced is.

The theory upon which this work had been carried on does not harmonize with that advanced by Dr Koch. The hospital has spen: $12,000 in perfecting arrangements for the cure, and success at last seems to have been reached. A dozen cases attest the efficiency of the treat-

The most marvelous feature is the cure of Miss Jackson, of Windsor, who was taken into the hospital in a dying condition, in an ambulance seven weeks ago; and yesterday, on being discharged, as cured, walked two miles to her home apparently restored in health. Both Dr. Shurley and Dr. Gibbs stand high in their profession, and Michigan physicians regard their cure as the great discov ery of the century.

Don't Read This.

Very many means are used nowa-days by business people to attract the days by business people to attract the attention of the public. It is some-times very hard for a writer of business notices to reach those people to whom he directs his articles. This is the reason that this notice has been headed "Don't Read." Women are often accused of having much curiosity. Is it true! When you noticed this heading didn't you read it at once! Of course you wanted to know what it was about. Now we don't care whether the men read this bout how much women spend on dresses and such like, but never a word about themselves. Oh! no. That's a different matter. However it is the duty of every woman or man to get the most for his or her money. That's the reason we write this article. We claim that we can give you better goods for your money han most dealers. Why! Because we buy direct from the manufacturers and at the closest possible cash prices; besides buying in very large quantities.
