

The Messenger and Wadesboro Intelligencer.

JAMES C. BOYLIN, Publisher.

The Wadesboro Messenger and Wadesboro Intelligencer, Consolidated July, 1897.

PRICE, $1.50 a Year

WHOLE NUMBER 855

NEW SERIES-VOL. X.-NO. 54.

Wadesboro, N. C., Thursday, July 22, 1897.

Troublesome Letter

Suffered for years and could find no cure until Hood's Sarsaparilla was tried—Scurfula cured. I suffered with letter on one of my limbs just above the ankle. I tried a lot of remedies, but nothing did me any good. The disease was very troublesome for 12 or 15 years. In the spring I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and after taking several bottles of this medicine, I was completely cured. Hood's Sarsaparilla also increased my weight. F. P. BARNETT, Hatcher, Georgia.

"When my boy was three months old he broke out with eruptions. He was treated by a physician and the eruptions would not break out again. We resolved to give him Hood's Sarsaparilla, and when he had taken two bottles he was cured. He has had no trouble with scurfula since, but is perfectly well." J. M. HARRIS, Sandy Spring, W. Va.

If you have decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best, in fact, the One True Blood Purifier. Sold by all druggists. Price 21¢, six for $1.

B. T. BENNETT, J. T. BENNETT, Attorneys-at-Law, Wadesboro, N. C.

Last year on the right in the court house. Will practice in all the courts of the State. Special attention given to the examination and investigation of Titles to Real Estate, drawing Deeds and other instruments, Collection of Claims, the Managing of Estates for Guardians, Administrators and Executors, and the Foreclosure of Mortgages. Will attend the courts of Stany and Montgomery counties. Prompt attention given to all business intrusted to them.

T. L. ELLIOTT,

Monumental Works.

Agent for IRON FENCES.

West Trade Street.

Charlotte, N. C.

W. F. GRAY, D. D. S.

Office in South & Lenoir Building. Wadesboro, North Carolina. ALL OPERATIONS WARRANTED. Will be at Morven first Tuesday in each month.

DR. MORRISON'S

For Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Asthma, and all other ailments of the Throat and Lungs.

It is the best remedy for all these ailments, and is sold by all druggists.

A. S. MORRISON

DEALER IN Watches, Clocks, Jewellery, Spectacles, and all kinds of gold and silver work. Will be at Morven first Tuesday in each month.

THE BEST CURE

This is often the best cure. But many people cannot afford to stop indefinitely. We will still give you the knowledge that they can cure themselves. The agent used is the compound of Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Kidney Pills. This is the best cure for all these ailments, and is sold by all druggists.

HOOD'S PILLS

Cure sick headache, but taste in the mouth, coated tongue, and in the stomach. Hood's Pills are the best cure for all these ailments, and is sold by all druggists.

"TRAITOR TO FRIEND AND FOE."

Watson Denounces Butler as Snake in the Grass—The Georgia Populist Writes Five Columns of Red Hot, Ringing, Scathing Denunciation of Butler and Fusionism—The Party Going to Pieces.

In the breaking up of the People's party which Mr. Butler has done so much to bring about, the Georgia Populist writes five columns of red hot, ringing, scathing denunciation of Butler and fusionism—the party going to pieces. In the breaking up of the People's party which Mr. Butler has done so much to bring about, the Georgia Populist writes five columns of red hot, ringing, scathing denunciation of Butler and fusionism—the party going to pieces.

DISSOLUTION OF POPULISM.

Atlanta Constitution. That was a most remarkable statement printed yesterday's Constitution. From the pen of Hon. Thomas Watson, in which he said: In the breaking up of the people's party which Mr. Butler has done so much to bring about, the Georgia Populist writes five columns of red hot, ringing, scathing denunciation of Butler and fusionism—the party going to pieces.

GOLDEN FIELDS OF ALASKA.

Lots of Gold Dust in Buckskin and Canvas Bags, Glass Fruit Jars, and Jelly Tumblers—Latest Reports from the Most Wonderful Places in the West—Keep of Gold.

THE TERROR OF THE SOUTH.

Another Horrible Case of Assault and Death at the Hands of a Negro Slave—The Fate of Miss Rena Williams—The Negro Captured After Being Chased Two Days, Brought Back to the Scene of His Crime, Shot and Burned.

WEIRD SCENE AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

A Disappointed Office-Seeking Negro Cries Out, Alleging Deceit. Washington Dispatch, 12th. An aged negro, who has for three weeks made a daily visit to the Executive Mansion with the gradually increasing hope that he would be given a consular appointment to Jamaica, created a dramatic scene today on the white-columned portico as he left the building, grief-stricken and heart-broken.

Dr. Kilgo and Kingsbury.

Charlotte Observer. The strangest controversy have ever known has been in progress between Dr. Kilgo, of Trinity College, and Dr. Kingsbury, editor of the Wilmington Messenger. It had its origin in the question of State aid to the University, but the original ground of debate has been forgotten and the controversy has taken purely personal and most acrimonious turn. In a card over his own name in the Wilmington Messenger the matter up, so far as he is concerned, and in doing so says, practically, that as a Christian man he can stand it no longer—he is a lay member of the Methodist Church. His card is pathetic. He had addressed three open letters to Dr. Kilgo and withheld the fourth. In this final article he says:

A Convict's Letter.

A gentleman sends us the letter printed below purporting to be from one of the convicts in the penitentiary to one of his pals outside. It may be that if Superintendent Smith does not know the identity of the convict, he will at least know the basis of "Bill's" reflections. The letter is as follows: PENITENTIARY, July 5, 1897. DEAR IKE: You had oughter been here yistiddy if you had you woulder been sorry you hadn't been sent up wid me when all stood trial. The eatin' here yistiddy was elegant. When that man Leazer was here, he seemed to think convicts wan't as good as private citizens and that the four of July was no better'n any other day. With this man John R. Smit it's different as yistiddy showed. We hardly knowed we was here, everything was made so fly for us the pud-din' was extra fine. I got wind of something that you was down' to give Ike, let up, let me out here. Now Russell, let me be and instidder you tryin' to git in. I hear there is goin' to be more to git. I hear there is goin' to be more banquet durin' the summer, and that Mr. Smit (he seems almost like one of us) is goin' to make next Christmas even' outside the fort. You woulder heard from North Carolina. I will drive him out. He and I cannot remain in it. He ought to be driven out of the Methodist Church. He ought to be driven out of the messenger office. He has no thinking power, has no following. If he is driven from the Messenger he can find nothing to do—no other paper in North Carolina would have him; he cannot get employment out of the State. I can get a place outside. I have the Methodist preachers of the State at my back. Is it surprising that I have deep thoughts of proper self-respect, would not have been profoundly stirred and wounded? After serious reflection and earnest prayer, and after consulting with friends and receiving two documents from Christian friends, in the fear of God and a full sense of my responsibility to Him, I close the controversy on my part forever. This is a very extraordinary publication—this is a very extraordinary situation of affairs to have arisen between two Christian gentlemen, members of the same communion. But if Dr. Kingsbury will pardon us, he is taking the matter too seriously. A Way to Remember Who was President. Washington and Jefferson made many a joke. Van Buren had trouble plenty, to find poor bank notes. Let Johnson go home grieving and crying "hard cash" men. The above will help one to remember the Presidents of the United States, as each word begins with the first letter of a president's name. Thus W for Washington, A for Adams, J for Jefferson, M for Monroe, etc. Pertinent Inquiry. Patron and Gleaner. We believe that the cigarette is a greater evil than the whiskey habit. We believe cigarettes are blighting the hopes of more of our young men than the drink habit. Smoking cigarettes is looked upon as being more respectable, and young men will smoke even in the presence of ladies when they would not think of drinking or being under the influence of liquor in their presence. It is a growing evil. We recently saw a professor of a leading medical college smoking cigarettes with seeming indifference. Who would think for a moment of sending his son to a medical college whose instructor smoked cigarettes? The negro politicians went the Governor to punish negroes in the penitentiary so they can vote in the next election. The negroes in the penitentiary all want to stay out; they hang up their certificates on the wall. Back in the time of the Governor's...

WATSON DENOUNCES BUTLER AS SNAKE IN THE GRASS—THE GEORGIA POPULIST WRITES FIVE COLUMNS OF RED HOT, RINGING, SCATHING DENUNCIATION OF BUTLER AND FUSIONISM—THE PARTY GOING TO PIECES.

In the breaking up of the People's party which Mr. Butler has done so much to bring about, the Georgia Populist writes five columns of red hot, ringing, scathing denunciation of Butler and fusionism—the party going to pieces. In the breaking up of the People's party which Mr. Butler has done so much to bring about, the Georgia Populist writes five columns of red hot, ringing, scathing denunciation of Butler and fusionism—the party going to pieces.

DISSOLUTION OF POPULISM.

Atlanta Constitution. That was a most remarkable statement printed yesterday's Constitution. From the pen of Hon. Thomas Watson, in which he said: In the breaking up of the people's party which Mr. Butler has done so much to bring about, the Georgia Populist writes five columns of red hot, ringing, scathing denunciation of Butler and fusionism—the party going to pieces.

GOLDEN FIELDS OF ALASKA.

Lots of Gold Dust in Buckskin and Canvas Bags, Glass Fruit Jars, and Jelly Tumblers—Latest Reports from the Most Wonderful Places in the West—Keep of Gold.

THE TERROR OF THE SOUTH.

Another Horrible Case of Assault and Death at the Hands of a Negro Slave—The Fate of Miss Rena Williams—The Negro Captured After Being Chased Two Days, Brought Back to the Scene of His Crime, Shot and Burned.

WEIRD SCENE AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

A Disappointed Office-Seeking Negro Cries Out, Alleging Deceit. Washington Dispatch, 12th. An aged negro, who has for three weeks made a daily visit to the Executive Mansion with the gradually increasing hope that he would be given a consular appointment to Jamaica, created a dramatic scene today on the white-columned portico as he left the building, grief-stricken and heart-broken.

Dr. Kilgo and Kingsbury.

Charlotte Observer. The strangest controversy have ever known has been in progress between Dr. Kilgo, of Trinity College, and Dr. Kingsbury, editor of the Wilmington Messenger. It had its origin in the question of State aid to the University, but the original ground of debate has been forgotten and the controversy has taken purely personal and most acrimonious turn. In a card over his own name in the Wilmington Messenger the matter up, so far as he is concerned, and in doing so says, practically, that as a Christian man he can stand it no longer—he is a lay member of the Methodist Church. His card is pathetic. He had addressed three open letters to Dr. Kilgo and withheld the fourth. In this final article he says:

A Convict's Letter.

A gentleman sends us the letter printed below purporting to be from one of the convicts in the penitentiary to one of his pals outside. It may be that if Superintendent Smith does not know the identity of the convict, he will at least know the basis of "Bill's" reflections. The letter is as follows: PENITENTIARY, July 5, 1897. DEAR IKE: You had oughter been here yistiddy if you had you woulder been sorry you hadn't been sent up wid me when all stood trial. The eatin' here yistiddy was elegant. When that man Leazer was here, he seemed to think convicts wan't as good as private citizens and that the four of July was no better'n any other day. With this man John R. Smit it's different as yistiddy showed. We hardly knowed we was here, everything was made so fly for us the pud-din' was extra fine. I got wind of something that you was down' to give Ike, let up, let me out here. Now Russell, let me be and instidder you tryin' to git in. I hear there is goin' to be more to git. I hear there is goin' to be more banquet durin' the summer, and that Mr. Smit (he seems almost like one of us) is goin' to make next Christmas even' outside the fort. You woulder heard from North Carolina. I will drive him out. He and I cannot remain in it. He ought to be driven out of the Methodist Church. He ought to be driven out of the messenger office. He has no thinking power, has no following. If he is driven from the Messenger he can find nothing to do—no other paper in North Carolina would have him; he cannot get employment out of the State. I can get a place outside. I have the Methodist preachers of the State at my back. Is it surprising that I have deep thoughts of proper self-respect, would not have been profoundly stirred and wounded? After serious reflection and earnest prayer, and after consulting with friends and receiving two documents from Christian friends, in the fear of God and a full sense of my responsibility to Him, I close the controversy on my part forever. This is a very extraordinary publication—this is a very extraordinary situation of affairs to have arisen between two Christian gentlemen, members of the same communion. But if Dr. Kingsbury will pardon us, he is taking the matter too seriously. A Way to Remember Who was President. Washington and Jefferson made many a joke. Van Buren had trouble plenty, to find poor bank notes. Let Johnson go home grieving and crying "hard cash" men. The above will help one to remember the Presidents of the United States, as each word begins with the first letter of a president's name. Thus W for Washington, A for Adams, J for Jefferson, M for Monroe, etc. Pertinent Inquiry. Patron and Gleaner. We believe that the cigarette is a greater evil than the whiskey habit. We believe cigarettes are blighting the hopes of more of our young men than the drink habit. Smoking cigarettes is looked upon as being more respectable, and young men will smoke even in the presence of ladies when they would not think of drinking or being under the influence of liquor in their presence. It is a growing evil. We recently saw a professor of a leading medical college smoking cigarettes with seeming indifference. Who would think for a moment of sending his son to a medical college whose instructor smoked cigarettes? The negro politicians went the Governor to punish negroes in the penitentiary so they can vote in the next election. The negroes in the penitentiary all want to stay out; they hang up their certificates on the wall. Back in the time of the Governor's...

A Convict's Letter.

A gentleman sends us the letter printed below purporting to be from one of the convicts in the penitentiary to one of his pals outside. It may be that if Superintendent Smith does not know the identity of the convict, he will at least know the basis of "Bill's" reflections. The letter is as follows: PENITENTIARY, July 5, 1897. DEAR IKE: You had oughter been here yistiddy if you had you woulder been sorry you hadn't been sent up wid me when all stood trial. The eatin' here yistiddy was elegant. When that man Leazer was here, he seemed to think convicts wan't as good as private citizens and that the four of July was no better'n any other day. With this man John R. Smit it's different as yistiddy showed. We hardly knowed we was here, everything was made so fly for us the pud-din' was extra fine. I got wind of something that you was down' to give Ike, let up, let me out here. Now Russell, let me be and instidder you tryin' to git in. I hear there is goin' to be more to git. I hear there is goin' to be more banquet durin' the summer, and that Mr. Smit (he seems almost like one of us) is goin' to make next Christmas even' outside the fort. You woulder heard from North Carolina. I will drive him out. He and I cannot remain in it. He ought to be driven out of the Methodist Church. He ought to be driven out of the messenger office. He has no thinking power, has no following. If he is driven from the Messenger he can find nothing to do—no other paper in North Carolina would have him; he cannot get employment out of the State. I can get a place outside. I have the Methodist preachers of the State at my back. Is it surprising that I have deep thoughts of proper self-respect, would not have been profoundly stirred and wounded? After serious reflection and earnest prayer, and after consulting with friends and receiving two documents from Christian friends, in the fear of God and a full sense of my responsibility to Him, I close the controversy on my part forever. This is a very extraordinary publication—this is a very extraordinary situation of affairs to have arisen between two Christian gentlemen, members of the same communion. But if Dr. Kingsbury will pardon us, he is taking the matter too seriously. A Way to Remember Who was President. Washington and Jefferson made many a joke. Van Buren had trouble plenty, to find poor bank notes. Let Johnson go home grieving and crying "hard cash" men. The above will help one to remember the Presidents of the United States, as each word begins with the first letter of a president's name. Thus W for Washington, A for Adams, J for Jefferson, M for Monroe, etc. Pertinent Inquiry. Patron and Gleaner. We believe that the cigarette is a greater evil than the whiskey habit. We believe cigarettes are blighting the hopes of more of our young men than the drink habit. Smoking cigarettes is looked upon as being more respectable, and young men will smoke even in the presence of ladies when they would not think of drinking or being under the influence of liquor in their presence. It is a growing evil. We recently saw a professor of a leading medical college smoking cigarettes with seeming indifference. Who would think for a moment of sending his son to a medical college whose instructor smoked cigarettes? The negro politicians went the Governor to punish negroes in the penitentiary so they can vote in the next election. The negroes in the penitentiary all want to stay out; they hang up their certificates on the wall. Back in the time of the Governor's...

A Convict's Letter.

A gentleman sends us the letter printed below purporting to be from one of the convicts in the penitentiary to one of his pals outside. It may be that if Superintendent Smith does not know the identity of the convict, he will at least know the basis of "Bill's" reflections. The letter is as follows: PENITENTIARY, July 5, 1897. DEAR IKE: You had oughter been here yistiddy if you had you woulder been sorry you hadn't been sent up wid me when all stood trial. The eatin' here yistiddy was elegant. When that man Leazer was here, he seemed to think convicts wan't as good as private citizens and that the four of July was no better'n any other day. With this man John R. Smit it's different as yistiddy showed. We hardly knowed we was here, everything was made so fly for us the pud-din' was extra fine. I got wind of something that you was down' to give Ike, let up, let me out here. Now Russell, let me be and instidder you tryin' to git in. I hear there is goin' to be more to git. I hear there is goin' to be more banquet durin' the summer, and that Mr. Smit (he seems almost like one of us) is goin' to make next Christmas even' outside the fort. You woulder heard from North Carolina. I will drive him out. He and I cannot remain in it. He ought to be driven out of the Methodist Church. He ought to be driven out of the messenger office. He has no thinking power, has no following. If he is driven from the Messenger he can find nothing to do—no other paper in North Carolina would have him; he cannot get employment out of the State. I can get a place outside. I have the Methodist preachers of the State at my back. Is it surprising that I have deep thoughts of proper self-respect, would not have been profoundly stirred and wounded? After serious reflection and earnest prayer, and after consulting with friends and receiving two documents from Christian friends, in the fear of God and a full sense of my responsibility to Him, I close the controversy on my part forever. This is a very extraordinary publication—this is a very extraordinary situation of affairs to have arisen between two Christian gentlemen, members of the same communion. But if Dr. Kingsbury will pardon us, he is taking the matter too seriously. A Way to Remember Who was President. Washington and Jefferson made many a joke. Van Buren had trouble plenty, to find poor bank notes. Let Johnson go home grieving and crying "hard cash" men. The above will help one to remember the Presidents of the United States, as each word begins with the first letter of a president's name. Thus W for Washington, A for Adams, J for Jefferson, M for Monroe, etc. Pertinent Inquiry. Patron and Gleaner. We believe that the cigarette is a greater evil than the whiskey habit. We believe cigarettes are blighting the hopes of more of our young men than the drink habit. Smoking cigarettes is looked upon as being more respectable, and young men will smoke even in the presence of ladies when they would not think of drinking or being under the influence of liquor in their presence. It is a growing evil. We recently saw a professor of a leading medical college smoking cigarettes with seeming indifference. Who would think for a moment of sending his son to a medical college whose instructor smoked cigarettes? The negro politicians went the Governor to punish negroes in the penitentiary so they can vote in the next election. The negroes in the penitentiary all want to stay out; they hang up their certificates on the wall. Back in the time of the Governor's...

A Convict's Letter.

A gentleman sends us the letter printed below purporting to be from one of the convicts in the penitentiary to one of his pals outside. It may be that if Superintendent Smith does not know the identity of the convict, he will at least know the basis of "Bill's" reflections. The letter is as follows: PENITENTIARY, July 5, 1897. DEAR IKE: You had oughter been here yistiddy if you had you woulder been sorry you hadn't been sent up wid me when all stood trial. The eatin' here yistiddy was elegant. When that man Leazer was here, he seemed to think convicts wan't as good as private citizens and that the four of July was no better'n any other day. With this man John R. Smit it's different as yistiddy showed. We hardly knowed we was here, everything was made so fly for us the pud-din' was extra fine. I got wind of something that you was down' to give Ike, let up, let me out here. Now Russell, let me be and instidder you tryin' to git in. I hear there is goin' to be more to git. I hear there is goin' to be more banquet durin' the summer, and that Mr. Smit (he seems almost like one of us) is goin' to make next Christmas even' outside the fort. You woulder heard from North Carolina. I will drive him out. He and I cannot remain in it. He ought to be driven out of the Methodist Church. He ought to be driven out of the messenger office. He has no thinking power, has no following. If he is driven from the Messenger he can find nothing to do—no other paper in North Carolina would have him; he cannot get employment out of the State. I can get a place outside. I have the Methodist preachers of the State at my back. Is it surprising that I have deep thoughts of proper self-respect, would not have been profoundly stirred and wounded? After serious reflection and earnest prayer, and after consulting with friends and receiving two documents from Christian friends, in the fear of God and a full sense of my responsibility to Him, I close the controversy on my part forever. This is a very extraordinary publication—this is a very extraordinary situation of affairs to have arisen between two Christian gentlemen, members of the same communion. But if Dr. Kingsbury will pardon us, he is taking the matter too seriously. A Way to Remember Who was President. Washington and Jefferson made many a joke. Van Buren had trouble plenty, to find poor bank notes. Let Johnson go home grieving and crying "hard cash" men. The above will help one to remember the Presidents of the United States, as each word begins with the first letter of a president's name. Thus W for Washington, A for Adams, J for Jefferson, M for Monroe, etc. Pertinent Inquiry. Patron and Gleaner. We believe that the cigarette is a greater evil than the whiskey habit. We believe cigarettes are blighting the hopes of more of our young men than the drink habit. Smoking cigarettes is looked upon as being more respectable, and young men will smoke even in the presence of ladies when they would not think of drinking or being under the influence of liquor in their presence. It is a growing evil. We recently saw a professor of a leading medical college smoking cigarettes with seeming indifference. Who would think for a moment of sending his son to a medical college whose instructor smoked cigarettes? The negro politicians went the Governor to punish negroes in the penitentiary so they can vote in the next election. The negroes in the penitentiary all want to stay out; they hang up their certificates on the wall. Back in the time of the Governor's...

A Convict's Letter.

A gentleman sends us the letter printed below purporting to be from one of the convicts in the penitentiary to one of his pals outside. It may be that if Superintendent Smith does not know the identity of the convict, he will at least know the basis of "Bill's" reflections. The letter is as follows: PENITENTIARY, July 5, 1897. DEAR IKE: You had oughter been here yistiddy if you had you woulder been sorry you hadn't been sent up wid me when all stood trial. The eatin' here yistiddy was elegant. When that man Leazer was here, he seemed to think convicts wan't as good as private citizens and that the four of July was no better'n any other day. With this man John R. Smit it's different as yistiddy showed. We hardly knowed we was here, everything was made so fly for us the pud-din' was extra fine. I got wind of something that you was down' to give Ike, let up, let me out here. Now Russell, let me be and instidder you tryin' to git in. I hear there is goin' to be more to git. I hear there is goin' to be more banquet durin' the summer, and that Mr. Smit (he seems almost like one of us) is goin' to make next Christmas even' outside the fort. You woulder heard from North Carolina. I will drive him out. He and I cannot remain in it. He ought to be driven out of the Methodist Church. He ought to be driven out of the messenger office. He has no thinking power, has no following. If he is driven from the Messenger he can find nothing to do—no other paper in North Carolina would have him; he cannot get employment out of the State. I can get a place outside. I have the Methodist preachers of the State at my back. Is it surprising that I have deep thoughts of proper self-respect, would not have been profoundly stirred and wounded? After serious reflection and earnest prayer, and after consulting with friends and receiving two documents from Christian friends, in the fear of God and a full sense of my responsibility to Him, I close the controversy on my part forever. This is a very extraordinary publication—this is a very extraordinary situation of affairs to have arisen between two Christian gentlemen, members of the same communion. But if Dr. Kingsbury will pardon us, he is taking the matter too seriously. A Way to Remember Who was President. Washington and Jefferson made many a joke. Van Buren had trouble plenty, to find poor bank notes. Let Johnson go home grieving and crying "hard cash" men. The above will help one to remember the Presidents of the United States, as each word begins with the first letter of a president's name. Thus W for Washington, A for Adams, J for Jefferson, M for Monroe, etc. Pertinent Inquiry. Patron and Gleaner. We believe that the cigarette is a greater evil than the whiskey habit. We believe cigarettes are blighting the hopes of more of our young men than the drink habit. Smoking cigarettes is looked upon as being more respectable, and young men will smoke even in the presence of ladies when they would not think of drinking or being under the influence of liquor in their presence. It is a growing evil. We recently saw a professor of a leading medical college smoking cigarettes with seeming indifference. Who would think for a moment of sending his son to a medical college whose instructor smoked cigarettes? The negro politicians went the Governor to punish negroes in the penitentiary so they can vote in the next election. The negroes in the penitentiary all want to stay out; they hang up their certificates on the wall. Back in the time of the Governor's...

A Convict's Letter.

A gentleman sends us the letter printed below purporting to be from one of the convicts in the penitentiary to one of his pals outside. It may be that if Superintendent Smith does not know the identity of the convict, he will at least know the basis of "Bill's" reflections. The letter is as follows: PENITENTIARY, July 5, 1897. DEAR IKE: You had oughter been here yistiddy if you had you woulder been sorry you hadn't been sent up wid me when all stood trial. The eatin' here yistiddy was elegant. When that man Leazer was here, he seemed to think convicts wan't as good as private citizens and that the four of July was no better'n any other day. With this man John R. Smit it's different as yistiddy showed. We hardly knowed we was here, everything was made so fly for us the pud-din' was extra fine. I got wind of something that you was down' to give Ike, let up, let me out here. Now Russell, let me be and instidder you tryin' to git in. I hear there is goin' to be more to git. I hear there is goin' to be more banquet durin' the summer, and that Mr. Smit (he seems almost like one of us) is goin' to make next Christmas even' outside the fort. You woulder heard from North Carolina. I will drive him out. He and I cannot remain in it. He ought to be driven out of the Methodist Church. He ought to be driven out of the messenger office. He has no thinking power, has no following. If he is driven from the Messenger he can find nothing to do—no other paper in North Carolina would have him; he cannot get employment out of the State. I can get a place outside. I have the Methodist preachers of the State at my back. Is it surprising that I have deep thoughts of proper self-respect, would not have been profoundly stirred and wounded? After serious reflection and earnest prayer, and after consulting with friends and receiving two documents from Christian friends, in the fear of God and a full sense of my responsibility to Him, I close the controversy on my part forever. This is a very extraordinary publication—this is a very extraordinary situation of affairs to have arisen between two Christian gentlemen, members of the same communion. But if Dr. Kingsbury will pardon us, he is taking the matter too seriously. A Way to Remember Who was President. Washington and Jefferson made many a joke. Van Buren had trouble plenty, to find poor bank notes. Let Johnson go home grieving and crying "hard cash" men. The above will help one to remember the Presidents of the United States, as each word begins with the first letter of a president's name. Thus W for Washington, A for Adams, J for Jefferson, M for Monroe, etc. Pertinent Inquiry. Patron and Gleaner. We believe that the cigarette is a greater evil than the whiskey habit. We believe cigarettes are blighting the hopes of more of our young men than the drink habit. Smoking cigarettes is looked upon as being more respectable, and young men will smoke even in the presence of ladies when they would not think of drinking or being under the influence of liquor in their presence. It is a growing evil. We recently saw a professor of a leading medical college smoking cigarettes with seeming indifference. Who would think for a moment of sending his son to a medical college whose instructor smoked cigarettes? The negro politicians went the Governor to punish negroes in the penitentiary so they can vote in the next election. The negroes in the penitentiary all want to stay out; they hang up their certificates on the wall. Back in the time of the Governor's...

A Convict's Letter.

A gentleman sends us the letter printed below purporting to be from one of the convicts in the penitentiary to one of his pals outside. It may be that if Superintendent Smith does not know the identity of the convict, he will at least know the basis of "Bill's" reflections. The letter is as follows: PENITENTIARY, July 5, 1897. DEAR IKE: You had oughter been here yistiddy if you had you woulder been sorry you hadn't been sent up wid me when all stood trial. The eatin' here yistiddy was elegant. When that man Leazer was here, he seemed to think convicts wan't as good as private citizens and that the four of July was no better'n any other day. With this man John R. Smit it's different as yistiddy showed. We hardly knowed we was here, everything was made so fly for us the pud-din' was extra fine. I got wind of something that you was down' to give Ike, let up, let me out here. Now Russell, let me be and instidder you tryin' to git in. I hear there is goin' to be more to git. I hear there is goin' to be more banquet durin' the summer, and that Mr. Smit (he seems almost like one of us) is goin' to make next Christmas even' outside the fort. You woulder heard from North Carolina. I will drive him out. He and I cannot remain in it. He ought to be driven out of the Methodist Church. He ought to be driven out of the messenger office. He has no thinking power, has no following. If he is driven from the Messenger he can find nothing to do—no other paper in North Carolina would have him; he cannot get employment out of the State. I can get a place outside. I have the Methodist preachers of the State at my back. Is it surprising that I have deep thoughts of proper self-respect, would not have been profoundly stirred and wounded? After serious reflection and earnest prayer, and after consulting with friends and receiving two documents from Christian friends, in the fear of God and a full sense of my responsibility to Him, I close the controversy on my part forever. This is a very extraordinary publication—this is a very extraordinary situation of affairs to have arisen between two Christian gentlemen, members of the same communion. But if Dr. Kingsbury will pardon us, he is taking the matter too seriously. A Way to Remember Who was President. Washington and Jefferson made many a joke. Van Buren had trouble plenty, to find poor bank notes. Let Johnson go home grieving and crying "hard cash" men. The above will help one to remember the Presidents of the United States, as each word begins with the first letter of a president's name. Thus W for Washington, A for Adams, J for Jefferson, M for Monroe, etc. Pertinent Inquiry. Patron and Gleaner. We believe that the cigarette is a greater evil than the whiskey habit. We believe cigarettes are blighting the hopes of more of our young men than the drink habit. Smoking cigarettes is looked upon as being more respectable, and young men will smoke even in the presence of ladies when they would not think of drinking or being under the influence of liquor in their presence. It is a growing evil. We recently saw a professor of a leading medical college smoking cigarettes with seeming indifference. Who would think for a moment of sending his son to a medical college whose instructor smoked cigarettes? The negro politicians went the Governor to punish negroes in the penitentiary so they can vote in the next election. The negroes in the penitentiary all want to stay out; they hang up their certificates on the wall. Back in the time of the Governor's...

A Convict's Letter.

A gentleman sends us the letter printed below purporting to be from one of the convicts in the penitentiary to one of his pals outside. It may be that if Superintendent Smith does not know the identity of the convict, he will at least know the basis of "Bill's" reflections. The letter is as follows: PENITENTIARY, July 5, 1897. DEAR IKE: You had oughter been here yistiddy if you had you woulder been sorry you hadn't been sent up wid me when all stood trial. The eatin' here yistiddy was elegant. When that man Leazer was here, he seemed to think convicts wan't as good as private citizens and that the four of July was no better'n any other day. With this man John R. Smit it's different as yistiddy showed. We hardly knowed we was here, everything was made so fly for us the pud-din' was extra fine. I got wind of something that you was down' to give Ike, let up, let me out here. Now Russell, let me be and instidder you tryin' to git in. I hear there is goin' to be more to git. I hear there is goin' to be more banquet durin' the summer, and that Mr. Smit (he seems almost like one of us) is goin' to make next Christmas even' outside the fort. You woulder heard from North Carolina. I will drive him out. He and I cannot remain in it. He ought to be driven out of the Methodist Church. He ought to be driven out of the messenger office. He has no thinking power, has no following. If he is driven from the Messenger he can find nothing to do—no other paper in North Carolina would have him; he cannot get employment out of the State. I can get a place outside. I have the Methodist preachers of the State at my back. Is it surprising that I have deep thoughts of proper self-respect, would not have been profoundly stirred and wounded? After serious reflection and earnest prayer, and after consulting with friends and receiving two documents from Christian friends, in the fear of God and a full sense of my responsibility to Him, I close the controversy on my part forever. This is a very extraordinary publication—this is a very extraordinary situation of affairs to have arisen between two Christian gentlemen, members of the same communion. But if Dr. Kingsbury will pardon us, he is taking the matter too seriously. A Way to Remember Who was President. Washington and Jefferson made many a joke. Van Buren had trouble plenty, to find poor bank notes. Let Johnson go home grieving and crying "hard cash" men. The above will help one to remember the Presidents of the United States, as each word begins with the first letter of a president's name. Thus W for Washington, A for Adams, J for Jefferson, M for Monroe, etc. Pertinent Inquiry. Patron and Gleaner. We believe that the cigarette is a greater evil than the whiskey habit. We believe cigarettes are blighting the hopes of more of our young men than the drink habit. Smoking cigarettes is looked upon as being more respectable, and young men will smoke even in the presence of ladies when they would not think of drinking or being under the influence of liquor in their presence. It is a growing evil. We recently saw a professor of a leading medical college smoking cigarettes with seeming indifference. Who would think for a moment of sending his son to a medical college whose instructor smoked cigarettes? The negro politicians went the Governor to punish negroes in the penitentiary so they can vote in the next election. The negroes in the penitentiary all want to stay out; they hang up their certificates on the wall. Back in the time of the Governor's...

WATSON DENOUNCES BUTLER AS SNAKE IN THE GRASS—THE GEORGIA POPULIST WRITES FIVE COLUMNS OF RED HOT, RINGING, SCATHING DENUNCIATION OF BUTLER AND FUSIONISM—THE PARTY GOING TO PIECES.

In the breaking up of the People's party which Mr. Butler has done so much to bring about, the Georgia Populist writes five columns of red hot, ringing, scathing denunciation of Butler and fusionism—the party going to pieces. In the breaking up of the People's party which Mr. Butler has done so much to bring about, the Georgia Populist writes five columns of red hot, ringing, scathing denunciation of Butler and fusionism—the party going to pieces.

DISSOLUTION OF POPULISM.

Atlanta Constitution. That was a most remarkable statement printed yesterday's Constitution. From the pen of Hon. Thomas Watson, in which he said: In the breaking up of the people's party which Mr. Butler has done so much to bring about, the Georgia Populist writes five columns of red hot, ringing, scathing denunciation of Butler and fusionism—the party going to pieces.

GOLDEN FIELDS OF ALASKA.

Lots of Gold Dust in Buckskin and Canvas Bags, Glass Fruit Jars, and Jelly Tumblers—Latest Reports from the Most Wonderful Places in the West—Keep of Gold.

THE TERROR OF THE SOUTH.

Another Horrible Case of Assault and Death at the Hands of a Negro Slave—The Fate of Miss Rena Williams—The Negro Captured After Being Chased Two Days, Brought Back to the Scene of His Crime, Shot and Burned.

WEIRD SCENE AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

A Disappointed Office-Seeking Negro Cries Out, Alleging Deceit. Washington Dispatch, 12th. An aged negro, who has for three weeks made a daily visit to the Executive Mansion with the gradually increasing hope that he would be given a consular appointment to Jamaica, created a dramatic scene today on the white-columned portico as he left the building, grief-stricken and heart-broken.

Dr. Kilgo and Kingsbury.

Charlotte Observer. The strangest controversy have ever known has been in progress between Dr. Kilgo, of Trinity College, and Dr. Kingsbury, editor of the Wilmington Messenger. It had its origin in the question of State aid to the University, but the original ground of debate has been forgotten and the controversy has taken purely personal and most acrimonious turn. In a card over his own name in the Wilmington Messenger the matter up, so far as he is concerned, and in doing so says, practically, that as a Christian man he can stand it no