NEGRO KILLED AT FALLS.

Will Huntley Colored of White Store Township, Shot and Instantly Killed by J. C. Aderholt, Last Thursday Night—Coroner's Jury Exculpates Aderholt.

The first homicide that has occurred at Blewett Falls since the development of the water power there commenced took place last Thursday night, when J. C. Aderholt, who has charge of the railroad building going on there, shot, through the heart, and instantly killed Will Huntley, colored. Huntley was son of Nat Huntley, of White Store township, and had been at work at the Falls about three weeks. Coroner Fenton empaneled a jury and held an inquest over Huntley's remains Friday. Quite a number of witnesses were examined the evidence being to the effect that Huntley had been shooting and cursing about the camp and that Mr. F. L. May, who is employed there to keep order, went to him and ordered him to desist and to break a bottle of whiskey he had in his possession. Huntley refused to make way with the whiskey and cursed May. May then went off for assistance and got Capt. J. C. Aderholt and C. B. Tyson to help him quiet Huntley. On reaching the shanty Huntley was in May, Aderholt and Tyson commanded Huntley to throw up his hands. Huntley threw up his left hand but put his right hand behind him on his hip pocket. About this time a brother of Huntley appeared on the scene with an axe in his hands and at the same time Will Huntley drew his pistol and leveled it at the men. Capt. Aderholt testified that he could not tell whether it was Huntley's intention to shoot May or himself; that he (Aderholt) then shot to save either his or May's life, or the lives of both of them.

The coroner's jury, after examining the witnesses and viewing the remains adjourned to meet in Wadesboro Monday morning at 11 o'clock. At this meeting the jury agreed to exculpate Capt. Aderholt from all blame in the killing of Huntley.

Dumped in the River at Blewett Falls.

Henry Garlvan, the white man who, in conjunction with Troy Spencer, col., is charged with slaughtering and stealing a Jersey bull from the pasture, in Upper Richmond county, of Mr. Charles Stanback, met with a watery accident at Blewett Falls last Friday while paddling down Pee Dee in a small boat. Garlvan had in the boat with him a Winchester rifle, a shot gun, a ham and a jug of whiskey. Just as the boat got opposite the coffer dam at the falls it capsized, throwing the man, rifle, gun, ham and whiskey all into the river. Garlvan held on to the rifle but the other articles he abandoned, and the last seen of him he was making for the Richmond side of the river as fast as he could make his way over the many rocks in the bed of the river at this point.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Made from
Pure Grape Cream of Tartar

The only excuse for buying anything but a Pure Grape Cream of Tartar Baking Powder is to save a few cents in price.

ROYAL costs you a few cents more per can than Alum or Phosphate of Lime powders, but it is worth far more than the difference to keep your biscuits, cakes and pastry free from the injurious effects of these cheapening substitutes.

Continued use of Alum means permanent injury to health.

Avoid Alum Ailments—Say plainly

THE MEETING SATURDAY.

President C. C. Moore Writes of the Importance of Maintaining the Organization of the Southern Cotton Association.

There will be a meeting of the Anson branch of the Southern Cotton Association in the court house Saturday. It is a regrettable fact that the farmers have not seemed to appreciate the vast benefit the Association has been to them, and it is to be hoped that their indifference is more apparent than real. President Moore writes as follows of the importance of the meeting to be held here Saturday:

"December is the time fixed for the annual meeting to elect officers for the local or county sub-divisions of the Southern Cotton Association.

"These county meetings should be attended by every man who is interested in the prosperity of the South. The best men of the county should be selected for the offices and when elected they should give faithful service.

"Not yet two years old, with only half-hearted support from those most benefited, the association has accomplished marvelous results.

"It raised the price of cotton from 6 1-2 cents to above 10 cents per pound.

"It exposed the frauds perpetrated upon the South in the bureau of cotton statistics at Washington.

"It pushed the Overman bill through Congress and secured an appropriation of $30,000 for the purpose of extending the use of American manufactured cotton in foreign lands.

"It exposed the unjust, villainous rules and methods of the New York cotton exchange.

"It backed in a powerful manner the Boykin bill, which passed the Georgia Legislature and drove the bucket shops from that State.

"It inaugurated plans to pass similar anti-bucket shop bills through the Legislatures of other States.

"It has organized hundreds of local companies to build bonded warehouses.

"Through the efforts of Southern Cotton Association more than two hundred million of dollars have circulated in the South by the advance in the price of cotton.

"The information sent out through the press and by speaking tours of the officers of the association has caused the people of the Southern States to think more of the intrinsic value of cotton than ever thought of before.

"Should such an organization be perpetuated?"

"It is a matter for the business and farming interest of the South to decide.

"If it is to live and be of greater use, those who would have it so should attend the county meetings on Saturday and endorse the movement.

Martin-Kendall

Yesterday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, Miss ZoZo Kendall was married to Mr. Guilford C. Martin. The ceremony was performed at the home, in Caeraw, of the bride's brother, Mr. V. H. Kendall. The bride is a daughter of Mr. J. A. Kendall (Whale), of Ansonville township, and is a young lady of many accomplishments. The groom is a brother of Sheriff Martin and recently moved to Wadesboro from Ansonville to become his deputy. Immediately after the marriage the happy couple left for Charleston, where they will spend some days.

Messrs. J. A. Lockhart, H. S. Boggan and W. Guy Martin, attended the marriage from Wadesboro.

Cow Falls Colored Man's Finger Off.

Paul Tyson, a young colored man of Ansonville township, was the victim of a peculiar accident a few days ago. He was leading Mr. A. E. Waddell's cow to water when the animal bolted with him. The chain, in some way, got fastened around the first finger of his left hand and the finger was pulled entirely off, at the first joint, before the cow could be stopped.

Book Club Entertained.

Reported for The M & I.

The Book Club was entertained very pleasantly last Thursday afternoon by Mrs. T. A. Marshall, at her residence on Lee Avenue, the guests of honor being two brides, Mrs. Frank Bennett and Mrs. W. L. Marshall.

Regardless of the inclemency of the weather, the members and many visitors were present. The favors were a little yellow and white slipper, with pictures of a man and woman, about whom a love story was to be written. On the dining table, as the centre decoration was the very same little golden slipper, almost hid in smilax, that the prince fitted on the dainty foot of Cinderella.

The vote was taken on the best love story, which resulted in favor of Mrs. W. P. Parsons, whose theme was: "Willie asking Rosie to dance with him through life."

The color scheme of yellow and white was carried into the menu. The lunch was a delightful salad course followed by Wistaria fruit cake and block ice cream.

The Last Call.

On the 18th, 19th and 20th the boys in gray will go into camp. The success of this enterprise depends entirely on them. If the rations are short it will be because they do not bring enough from home to feed themselves. Coffee, sugar, wood and tents are the only things that have been promised by the management and they will be on hand plentifully. Every man that comes into the camp is supposed to have plenty of rations for himself and some to spare. The Daughters will dine with us on one of the days decided on hereafter. We want the occasion to be a memorable one. It depends on the old vets to make it so.

Parties that have donated wood, straw and other things will please see that they are in camp by Monday.
