Protested Entire Innocence--Letter Found in Coat Pocket of Joshua Harrison, Who Killed Himselfat Norfolk, Declaring in God's Name His Complete Guiltlessness of Kidnaping Every Word of the Note is a Lie.

God to bless his family were the last words of Joshua Harrison who yeshis last at St. Vincent's Hospital, a shot into his brain,

TEXT OF LETTER.

"September 6th, '07. This day 1 have been notified of an unjust senam an innocent man; God knows It, end my life at my own hands. No tage of that opportunity and preone is in any way responsible save the cruel ones who imposed the awful sentence. May God bless my precious family. I believe the world will be charitable to them all. To the world I say, 'Good bye,' Whoever finds my body notify my daughter, Mrs. G. A. Gallop, 192 Duke street, Norfolk. Joshua Harrison."

On the back of the note was written: "I have in my pockets 55 cents. I want my effects returned to Maggie Gallop, 192 Duke street."

With his wife and daughter, Mrs. Maggie Gallop, of 192 Duke street, Norfolk, declaring the dead man was innocent of any crime and was unjustly accused and convicted, and Senator S. M. Beasley d claring he did not belive a word of the letter left by Harrison, the tragedy will go down as one of the most horrible and perhaps, unique that Norfolk has ever had happened in its midst. "My husband was innocent. God knows he was," said Mrs. Harrison as she was helped aboard the train to Jarvisburg, N. C., this morning to which place the body of Harrison was sent for burial. "My father was not guilty of the crime of kidnaping Kenneth Beasley," said Mrs. Gallop, who also accompanied the body of Harrison to Jarvisburg. "He was asleep at his home the night the boy disappeared."

"I don't believe it," said Senator Beasley. "I am convinced that he was guilty and ninety-nine out of men from Norfolk lay in wait in the every hundred persons in Currituck, where Harrison was known, are of the same opinion."

CARRIED SECRET TO GRAVE.

Senator Beasley, who is here on a visit to his wife, at No. 218 Brown avenue, was apparently very much them." affected by the death of Harrison; not that he regretted the end of the aged man's life, but because he believes he carried to the grave with tymen in Currituck. They would him the secret of his little boy's whereabouts, if he is alive, or the if I had simply said the word. I manner of his death if he is dead. "The suicide has carried the secret to the grave with him," declared Mr. Beasley, as he turned away his head to wipe a tear drop from his eye. "He has been tried for murder before," continued Mr. Beasley, "and he should have been tried for laria. It is the knowing ones-these who murder in connection with the disappearance of my little son, for as true as I stand here I believe he murdered my boy. The character of the man and the threat he made against me leave no room for doubt about this in my mind."

TWO CORRECTIONS MADE.

"There are two things I want to correct," he said. "It has been stated that I had Harrison arrested for the illicit sale of whiskey and that he and I were opposing candidates for the State Legislature. I never had Mr. Harrison arrested for arything before my little boy disappeared, and Harrison was never a candidate for the Legislature. We fered with my business. I had many of were not of the same political party, as I am a Democrat and he was a Republican; and although he made threats against me I never had any feeling against him until I was convinced that he had kidnaped my boy."

When asked why Harrison should threaten him, Senator Beasley re-

"A fight was on in Currituck county against the illicit sale of liquor. which Harrison was engaged in. Four days before election in 1904 I met Harrison in the road. He stopped me and, raising his hand to heaven. he declared that if the sale of his wines was interferred with that somebody would be sorry for it and that Drug Co.

he would have his revenge if it was the last act of his life. The church people of my county had petitioned me to have have resolutions passed by the Legislature that would put a stop to the illicit sale of liquor, and it was on this recount that Harrison Young Beasley .- Senator Beasley Says had the feeling against me. While I knew his business was contaminat-Norfolk, Va., Sept. 19.—Declaring ing the young men of Currituck he was innocent of the charge of kid- county. Harrison lived more than nupling Kenneth Beasley and asking five miles from me and he did me no harm personally.

"After his threat there is no room terday blew out his brains in the for doubt that he killed my son; and, Gladstone Hotel, in this city, rather though I have followed many clues than serve a sentence of twenty years and investigated them thoroughly, I in the penitentiary. The following have never felt that I would find the letter was found in the coat pocket of little fellow alive. As long as Harthe dead man shortly after be breathed | rison lived I hoped that some day I would hear what disposition had few hours after he had fired the fatal been made of him; but now that he has killed himself I feel that the secret is buried.

"I had offered to waive all prosecution against Harrison if he would tence of twenty years in the pen. I produce my little boy or tell where he could be found alive; but he was my family know it. I am about to not the kind of a man to take advanferred to fight it out. The testimony was conclusive against him. The people of Currituck thought so at the time and their judgment is confirmed by the Supreme Court, which refused Harrison a new trial after going over the entire evidence.

WILL-O'-THE WISP CLEWS.

Continuing Mr. Beasley said that Harrison had ample opportunity to get possesson of Kenneth. Referring to some of the clues that he had received as to the whereabouts of his son, Senator Beasley recalled a letter that had come to him in April,

"The writer told me if I would place $500 under a trestle, on the Atlantic Coast Line Railway, near Rocky Mount, N. C., at 5 o'clock on the evening of April 11th, my son would be returned to me at whatever place I desired him left, but that if I made any alarm his body would be sent to me in a keg of brine. When I received the letter I came to

Edgar White, of White Bros., on Commercial Place, went to the bank and drew $500 for me. We went to the Gladstone Hotel that night and sat up there until morning, taking the numbers of the bills and the banks which issued them, hoping that we might in this way be able to trace them. Then we went to the place designated by the writer of the letter | without propper proof that is conand there deposited the money. CHARGES FROM THE PULPIT. Statesvi le Landmark,

In a sermon at Durham a few Sundays ago Rev. W. C. Barrett charged that one of the city policemen had been seen taking a drink in a certain warehouse in the city. Thereupon the chief of police lined up his men and asked the preacher to come forward and point out the man. The preacher couldn't do it, saying he had obtained the information from one Reuben Shipp. Mr. Ship was called to taw and all he could say was he saw a man in a blue uniform taking a drink. Hedidn't even know the man was a policeman, but thought he was, although it might have been a street car man, as they wear blue uniforms. And it was on such flimsy evidence as this that a minister of the gospel made a serious charge from his pulpit affecting a man's character. When he saw the box he was in Barrett promised to correct the statement from his pulpit, but if he does it will be surprising. The Landmark knows of cases where ministers have publicly made serious charges which they afterward knew to be unfounded, and we never knew of but one case where a public correction was made.

There are a few ministers-only a few, we are glad to say-who take pleasure in listening to gossip that is brought to them by officious persons, and who use the statements of these gossips in their sermons. In the first place a minister of common sense ought to know that the tattler who is always running to him with stories of somebody's shortcomings is untrustworthy. Such people are usually hypocritical frauds. Furthermore, a statement made publicly from the pulpit is a serious metter and the man who makes it ought to know what ne is talking about. The preacher who recklessly makes charges on gossip he hears often does serious wrong, impairs his influence and damages the cause of Christ. But this does not mean that the preacher should not condemn wrong-doing in public and private life, in his community or wherever he knows it exists. He should. As a rule too litt e of this is done. Grave abuses are known to exist in a community, or a congregation even, and too often the minister allows them to pass. Plainpeaking is propper and right and those who are guilty have no cause for offence. But this is different from making direct charges affecting character, as the Durham man did, with-out evidence to sustain it. If you have the facts by you, it is all right, but it is making serious charges

A Marvel of Surgery

New York Tribune.

A marvel of surgery was shown to the French Academy of Medicine by Dr. Delair recently. A patient had lost his chin, part of his lower jaw, his lip, a portion of his tongue and his nose, owing to the explosion of a gun which he was firing. An apparatus in four pieces has been made for him, which makes all trace of his loss practically invisible. The chin and lower lip, with a false beard on them, are made of soft india-rubber, the necessary teeth, nose and jaw have been supplied and the patient himself can remove and replace the apparatus, which weighs only a trifle more than an ounce.
