"INSURE YOUR COTTON CROP"

Mix your fertilizers at home and save two dollars per ton! This sounds big-two whole dollars. But hold on! How much fertilizer do you put on an acre? Four hundred pounds? If so, you might save-

Forty Cents Per Acre.

Also, you might and would make this mixture irreggular, and some plants would certainly be slighted, and you would have poor spots in the field not half as good as the best spots, and your poor little forty cents is gone.

This year, seed cotton is worth 6 cents per pound. The loss of seven pounds would swamp your saving. If you are figuring on making 1,400 pounds of seed cotton per acre-would get away with your alleged forty cent saving.

Now, if you can pay forty cents more and have a responsible manufacturer guarantee absolute uniformity of mixture and absolute certainty of ingredients, why isn't this good insurance against uncertain crops?

One-Half of One Per Cent.

isn't much prenium to pay For Insuring your Crop

There is only one way to insure absolute uniformity of fertilizer. Buy a guaranteed brand of machine mixed fertilizer.

THE EARTH AS A MOON.

Our World as It Appears to Venus and Our Own Moon.

could be transported to the planet Venus a peculiar set of views could be obtained of our earth which some extent at least, as others see us. Venus is about the same size as the earth, is somewhat closer to the sun and has more atmosphere than the earth. When the earth and Venus are nearest together they are, of course, on the same side of the sun, and in consequence of this the earth does not see more than a very small part of the Venus illuminated, but Venus, on the other hand, sees all of one side of the earth illuminated and consequently is able to claim she has something that the earth to Venus at this rime looks very large and bright, almost as much so as our moon does to us.

If we could see all the illuminated surface of Venus on these occasions we should have quite a distinct second moon. When we do see all of her illuminated surface she is on the opposite side of the sun from us and consequently at an enormous distance, yet she is so brilliant as to keep us from seeing her surface distinctly.

But to our own moon we appear in the best light as a moon. A full earth as seen from the moon, according to Professor Todd and other astronomers, is a very inspiring sight on the moon's surface. It can at once be seen why this is necessarily true. The earth is several times larger than the moon and would appear in the heavens as a disk about fourteen times the size of the moon. It would shine with probably a variable light, due to the shifting clouds on the earth, though the light, of course, is reflected from the sun, and the reflecting is done in part by the upper surfaces of the clouds.

The outlines of the continents of the earth appear very clearly to the moon as if they were formed of papier mache on a globe. Cities of comparatively large size could be made out with ease in case people were there to make them out. The intensity of the reflected earth light would be as much as fourteen moons and would enable the Selenites, if such they are, to read or work in comparative daylight.-St. Louis Republic.

BY MARY. Mr. Boylin: I was telling you the kind of letter I wrote to the people who have moved from Anson and you will agree with me that It has proven a real success, for I send you six new subscribers from outside the county, one from Texas, two from Florida, one from Alabama and two from Mississippi.

The money I have sent you, given me by old subscribers who are takes the place of a moon anyhow, for paying two to five years in advance, shows you, Mr. Boylin, that we have mighty liberal people in our section when it comes to school matters or anything else that's for the good of

She is a mighty pretty young lady and she decorates our school by her very presence. We are glad you sent her to us. Aud, Mr. Boylin, I just wish I did know if our school is going to get the separator. I am working mighty hard. There is one secret I shall tell you, my father says all the men are saying that our school and section shall have that if we children don't get the separator free of cost that the prosperous farmers are going to buy more than one DeLaval Separator because they believe it will be money well spent. They realize the fact that they have been losing money by making butter in the old way, and seiling it at fifteen and twenty cents a pound white one man, who does not live a dozen miles from them, was getting thirty-two cents a pound for his butter just because he used a De Laval Separator. So you see several of our farmers are going to have sep-The famous little liver pills are DeWitt's arators. They say my letters have kinder opened their eyes and made them go back in their minds to and broken down condition of the liked to play and think that they liked to play, and that the reason they had not planned for the school children's pleasure was because they had not been asked to do so. That it had not been suggested to them either by the County Superintendent of Education, the teachers, the school children or the newspapers, and I guess they are right. Mr. Boylin, I tell you why it has not been called to the older people's attention. The reason my father and other children's fathers have not done anything of the kind is because the custom has been all over North Carolina and the South for generations back to give no attention to the public school buildings, just so it was a house was all that was expected. We children did not know anything else. We expected to see unpainted, untidy, dirty little school buildings with hard board seats. Occasionally some ingenious boy would get a wild grape vine and rig up a swing, or he would get a straight nice tree twenty feet long, bore a twoinch hole half way the length of the log, put up a post three feet high, drive a big iron pin in it and put the log on top, and I tell you the children had lots of fun with this rough, coun-

-Dew Water.

The ancient "dew ponds" of England have their modern counterparts on the rock of Gibraltar, where drinking water is obtained by the condensation of the abundant dew in specially prepared busins. The primitive process consists in making a hollow in the ground and filling the bottom with dry straw, over which is placed a layer of clay. On a clear night the clay cools very rapidly, and the new is condensed into water in the basin. The pond is improved by putting a layer of asphalt or portland cement nuder the straw. At Gibraltar the present practice is to use wood instead of straw and sheet iron instead of clay.

The Howards.

The Austrians are known to be the greatest "sticklers" for genealogy, many of the nobles tracing their descent back to almost the dawn of his tory. Even in Austria, however, it is generally admitted that the dokes of Norfolk represent the oldest family in the world. According to the most trustworthy authorities, the Howards are of Saxon origin, the name in those days being Hereward. As far back as 957 there are trustworthy records of the family.-London Globe.
