Recommends
Vinol

For Weak, Run-Down People.

"I was run down and weak from indigestion and general debility, also suffered from vertigo. I saw a cod liver preparation called Vinol advertised and decided to give it a trial, and the results were most gratifying, and the results were most gratifying, and now feeling unusually well."—HENRY CUNNINGHAM, Elder Baptist Church, Kinston, N.C.

Vinol contains the two most world-famed tonics—the medicinal, strengthening, body-building elements of Cod Liver Oil and Tonic Iron. Vinol contains no oil, and is by far the Best Strengthening Tonic obtainable. We return your money without question if Vinol does not accomplish all we claim for it.

DEATHS IN FAMILY FEUD.

Two Killed, One Dying and Others Hurt in Georgia Battle.

Lyons, Ga., April 17.—Two dead, one dying and probably one or two others slightly wounded are the fruits of a Sunday afternoon battle in a family feud of long standing late today in Emmanuel county.

The dead are A. S. Collins, a well-to-do farmer, and his son, Wilson Collins. Marion Lewis is so badly wounded that he is expected to die at any moment.

The battle was between the families of Collins and Lewis, and was the outcome of a dispute over a public road crossing. The two families reside less than a mile apart, and the county line runs between their homes. They met in a lane this afternoon near the Lewis home. The members of the Collins family were armed with pistols, and two shotguns were used on the other side.

Joseph Lewis, father of Marion, is alleged to have fired the shot that ended the life of the elder Collins. The sheriff of both Toombs and Emmanuel counties have gone to the scene of the trouble accompanied by physicians.

As both families are well-to-do and well known, the shooting aroused both counties. It was known that they were not on the best of terms.

Communication with the scene of the battle can be maintained only by a rural telephone line, and details are meagre. However, it was learned that a dozen or more shots were fired and it was stated that those wounded besides Marion Lewis are not seriously hurt.

COTTON POOL UNDER EIRE.

Government Aims at These Responsibilities for High Prices.

New York, April 18.—There will be started in New York tomorrow a Federal investigation without precedent in this country. The Attorney General of the United States has ordered an inquiry into the gigantic bull movement in cotton with the names of James Patten of Chicago; Frank B. Hayne and William P. Brown of New Orleans and Eugene Scales of Texas have been popularly connected.

Hayne and Brown both appear as defendants in the proceedings, but it could not be learned whether Mr. Patten will be subpoenaed at Chicago to come here and testify. He has been generally credited, however, with being the financial genius of the pool and in recent interviews he has outlined his bullish position and his determination to fight the supposed bear clique which has been reshipping cotton from this country to England in an endeavor to break the market. The bull movement has reached such a stage, however, that there are rumors of a possible May corner in the New York market.

ACTION UNPRECEDENTED.

Never before has the government brought similar action against any pool operating in the market on either the long or short side. Subpoenas were issued at the direction of Mr. Wickersham, commanding a dozen or more prominent New York cotton brokers to appear before a special Federal grand jury tomorrow to testify in the matter of the United States against Frank B. Hayne and William P. Brown.

The subpoenas demand the submission to the special grand jury of all records, papers, letters, memorandums and an agreement dated February 26 last by Hayne and Brown and others. The agreement, the subpoenas state, was for the purchase of 150,000 bales of cotton for delivery in New York during the months of May and July inclusive at certain prices and under certain conditions. The fixing of the prices and conditions, the government charges was a violation of the law.

ACTION DEMORALIZES MARKET.

Announcement of the government's action was followed by a very excited break in prices on the New York Cotton Exchange, which at one time bade fair to result in almost as great a demoralization as that noted last January. Early in April, the market had a very severe break under heavy liquidation and at that time there were rumors circulating that the bulls were abandoning the position, but a considerable recovery in prices since then suggested that the selling had been largely in the way of outside liquidation and during the past week or ten days there have been renewed rumors of an impending squeeze.

The position in the near months at this rate has led to heavy shipments of cotton to New York for delivery on contracts and the arrivals reported today were in excess of 23,000 bales, including nearly 14,000 bales from Liverpool, while the stock of cotton available for delivery on contract has already increased from about 57,000 bales to 120,000 bales. Even so, it has been apprehended in local circles that the amounts of cotton arriving here from the south and abroad were not sufficient to completely satisfy the contracts held by the bull leaders which have been estimated at 400,000 bales, and there has probably been some scattered buying based upon an expected successful issue of the bull campaign.

BULL LEADERS PROFITS.

The selling which followed today's threat of possible legal obstacles to bullish plans, probably represented, in a measure, the liquidation of this so-called trailing interest. In addition there were undoubtedly some selling for the account of professional traders on the idea that legal action might force the liquidation of the bull holdings. But usually close students of trading around the local ring expressed the opinion after the close that the bull leaders themselves had increased rather than reduced their contract holdings, and the market ruled considerably steadier in the late trading and closed at a loss of only from 10 to 19 points for the day.

SOUTHERN OPERATORS FEAR.

Atlanta, Ga., April 18.—Southern cotton mill operators are alarmed over the action instituted in New York by the Federal authorities against the leaders of the bull campaign and profess to see in it a covert effort on the part of certain New York cotton brokers to get relief from contracts with mills.

They assert that the government unwittingly is co-operating with the bears in another and what they fear will prove a most disastrous "raid." Many mill men in this section tonight wired Congressmen and Senators appealing to them to institute an investigation with a view to uncovering the "conspiracy" which they declare appears to exist.

Fuller E. Calloway, of La Grange, Ga., president of mills at Conners and Manchester, Ga., and treasurer of three large mills at LaGrange, Ga., tonight gave to the Associated Press the following statement:

"I am an officer of several mills that have bought cotton on the New York cotton exchange at a lower price than it can be bought in the South. We intend to take up and manufacture this cotton this summer. It occurs to me that undoubtedly Attorney General Wickersham was unwittingly inspired by bears who have sold what they do not own, thereby, depressing the cotton market at the expense of the farmers and demoralizing the market for cotton goods.

"A great many mills have bought cotton on the New York cotton exchange cheaper than it is selling in the South and intend demanding the cotton. The bears hope by this attack to scare the mills out of this legitimate trade and further demoralize the cotton and cotton goods market. In my opinion this attack will prove a boomerang for the bears, as it only accentuates the shortness of the last cotton crop and betrays the predicament they are in through having sold something they did not own.

"I cannot believe that the more responsible members of the New York cotton exchange are behind this movement, as it questions the right of mills to buy contracts at the New York cotton exchange with the expectation of receiving the cotton whereby denying the exchange reason or existence."

CAUSES DEBILITY.

Here Are Facts Backed Up by a Strong Guarantee.

Catarrah causes debility. In our opinion, most people suffering from general debility have catarrah. Such cases of debility cannot be completely cured by medicine not designed to eradicate catarrah. In every case where our remedy fails to give entire satisfaction we will not charge a cent for the medicine employed during the trial. Now, surely no one should hesitate to believe us or to put our claim to a practical test under such conditions. We will take all the risk; no one else can lose anything by the transaction.

We make these statements and this offer because we know and have time and again proved that Rexall Mucuo-Tone rarely fails to do as we claim. It is not a cure-all prescribed to cure every disease that flesh is heir to. It is intended for one purpose, i. e., to cure catarrah by assailing the diseased condition in a reasonable, scientific way, which is to employ agents that have been found to have the tonic and alternative power to correct faulty metabolism (tissue change) and to stimulate and help nature overcome the cause or causes of catarrah. This being done, appetite increases, nutrition improves, weight is gained, comfort of body is attained and life's work taken up with the zest natural to the perfectly healthy individual.

We want you to try Rexall Mucuo-Tone. Follow directions and take it regularly and consistently for a reasonable length of time. Then, if you are not satisfied, come back and tell us and the money you paid for the treatment will be returned without any argument whatever.

R-xall Mucuo-Tone comes in two sizes, 50c. and $1.00 a bottle. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store, The Parsons Drug Co.

Your tongue is coated. Your breath is foul. Headaches come and go. These symptoms show that your stomach is the trouble. To remove the cause is the first thing. And Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will do that. Easy to take and most effective. Sold by Parsons Drug Co.

REMARKABLE DEMOCRATIC VICTORY.

Successful Candidate Overcomes a Heavy Republican Majority and is the First Democrat Elected in Past Twenty Years.

Rochester, N. Y., April 19.—More than 6,000 voters of Monroe county changed from Republican to the Democratic column today and elected the first Democratic Congressman that has represented the thirty-second district in 20 years, James Havens, a Democrat, running on a tariff reform platform, defeated Geo. W. Aldridge, for a score of years the ruler of the county Republican organization, by 5,000 votes.

Monroe county which comprises the 32nd congressional district, is normally Republican by about 6,000. James E. Perkins, whose death in the middle of his third congressional term necessitated a special election today carried the district in 1908 by 10,167 votes.

Taking the vote of the presidential year 1908 for comparison the total turn over vote of the district was 8,033. It is acknowledged, however, that Mr. Perkins' vote in that year was abnormal, and, accepting the average Republican plurality as a standard, the change from the Republican to the Democratic columns amounts to about 6,000.

Havens had arrayed against him one of the strongest political organizations in the State. Yet, in a campaign lasting but seventeen days and with hastily constructed machinery, he accomplished one of the most remarkable overturns in political history. The result of today's election takes its place beside the Democratic victory of the fourteenth Massachusetts district where Eugene N. Foss, was sent to Congress from a district supposed to be as rock-ribbed Republican as this one.

Rochester is a city of both homes and factories. Monroe county is one of the State's garden spots crowded with productive farms.

BRANKS

An Instrument of Torture to Long Tongue Women.

London Globe.

It is on record that the brank was used on a few occasions to punish men guilty of using obscene language, but such instances are rare, and the brank, or scold's bridle, was made, as the name indicates, to be worn by women whose great fault was that of possessing too long a tongue—a fairly common failing today! Although never a legalized instrument of torture, it was nevertheless much used during the sixteenth, seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, and is frequently mentioned in the literature of those times, while an early English poet shows the general attitude toward it in the lines:

But for my daughter Juliana, I would she were well bolted with a bridle, That leaves her work to play the clack, and lets her work stand idle.

It cannot be denied that the brank was often used without justice or mercy, for those who authorized its usage were petty provincial tyrant and borough physicians, and no doubt it was a handy weapon wherewith to pay old scores. It seems very strange that it was not put a stop to, but perhaps those in a position to close the practise were secretly in favor of it.

There are still a great many of the old scold's bridles extant, and Cheshire possesses no fewer than 13 of them, and was ever well to the fore in their use, although there is no reason to suppose that the women of that county were possessed of more shrewish tongue than their neighbors. In shape the bridles differed greatly, some being fairly merciful and others very much the reverse. The ordinary brank was a framework of iron, which was locked on the culprit's head. In front of the mouth a plate, a gag, or sometimes a sharp knife, was fixed in such a position that it entered the mouth and pressed the tongue, causing agony if the "unruly member" was moved. At the back a short chain was attached to the collar which was held by the guard, who, if he chose, could inflict severe wounds on his charge by jerking the chain. Sometimes the delinquent was chained to the pillory, where she stood, an object of scorn and derision, for as long as the bundle chose, while the high-spirited youth of the town pelted her with objectionable refuse. The general custom was, however, to lead her through the town so that all might see and recognize in her one "overfond" of "playing the clack." One surmises that very few women had to undergo this treatment a second time, unless, that is, the local authorities bore them a grudge.

Cyclone in Robeson County.

Wilmington, April 18.—During a thunderstorm which passed a few miles north of Lumberton yesterday afternoon the wind assumed the proportions of a cyclone, resulting in the death of one person, the injury of several others and the destruction of considerable property. Farm houses of William and Murdoch Stone were completely wrecked and in the latter the aged mother of the family was caught between falling timbers and killed. Mrs. Stone, a visitor, was badly injured and was sent to the hospital at Lumberton.

A child asleep on a bed in the house was rolled up in a mattress and blown two hundred yards into a field where it was left uninjured. Five or six miles further at Powersville, the cyclone which apparently left the earth, again descended wrecking the house of Hugh Musselwhite, who was seriously wounded, five children being slightly hurt.

ECZEMA CURED

Many people have tried so many remedies for eczema without being materially benefitted that they have come to the conclusion that there is no cure for this most distressing disease. That this conclusion is erroneous, and that will effect a cure is shown by the following unsolicited testimonial of Mr. Venable Wilson, who for many years was a citizen of Wadesboro. Mr. Wilson says:

"This is to certify that for nine years I suffered with eczema, and during that time tried numerous so-called specifics for it, but without effect. But after a few applications of Hobson's Eczema Ointment I was completely cured."
