The result of Saturday's primary is still in doubt so far as the contest between Judges Manning and Allen for the nomination for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court is concerned. The managers of both these gentlemen contend that their man is in the lead and will be nominated when the State convention meets.

Mr. R. W. Lemond defeated Mr. C. N. Simpson for the nomination for State Senator in the Union county primaries last Saturday by a good majority, therefore he and Mr. D. N. Bennett, of Norwood, will represent this district in the upper house of the next General Assembly.

The last issue of Charity and Children, organ of the Thomasville Orphanage says:

"The Orphanage is not in debt a dollar. This is the first time since the writer's connection with the institution began, fifteen years ago, that this statement, at this season of the year, could be truthfully made."

Everybody in North Carolina should rejoice at this statement. The orphanages of the State are doing a noble work and the fine record of the Thomasville orphanage is largely due to the sensible manner in which Charity and Children, under the editorship of Archibald Johnson, has looked after its interest.

Strikes the Right Pace Charlotte Chronicle. Wadesboro is getting in good shape for the coming of the Southbound Railroad and the old up-hill road from the depot to the town, is being abolished. The new road now under construction will be a street, laid out on modern lines. To people familiar with the old route from depot to town it will be a little bit surprising to know that the engineer has secured a 4 per cent. grade for the new street. That up hill jolt has always been first in the minds of people traveling to Wadesboro and it is soon to be a pleasant (contradictory as that may seem) memory of the past.

Wadesboro, having been thoroughly aroused and awake, has struck the right pace—a 2:30 gallop—and the new graded and macadamized streets are going to bring the town wonderfully to the front.

Card of Thanks. The members of Bethel congregation take this method of expressing their heartfelt thanks to Mr. L. D. Robinson, of Wadesboro, for the beautiful pulpit chairs he recently presented the church. His thoughtful remembrance of the church at which his father and mother worshipped for so many years was a most gracious act.

'LITTLE BROWN CREEK' ON THE ROUNDS.

Mr. Editor: The more I see of the good people of old Anson the more I am convinced you will find none better anywhere.

I spent last Monday night with that whole souled friend, Mr. Jim Wall, and his kind and considerate wife, who knows how to cater to the appetite of the most fastidious. The crop in this section, as in most sections, was spotted.

I passed through Ansoaville, took dinner with Y. H. A.—and his kind wife, and found small grain in this section good. I stopped in with our old friend and hustler, David R., and met with one I knew in my earlier boyhood days—Aunt Ediza, who, notwithstanding she has passed her 96th mile post, is looking well.

Few live to reach her age, and fewer still to do so as a purpose. She was always of a jovial disposition. Her sight and hearing are not so good; otherwise she is her old self, ever hopeful. I saw some fine corn in sight of the house. Cotton in this section is looking as well as in most other sections; still, it is not what the farmers would like to have it be. I called on G. B. He was in the low grounds planting corn, so I did not get to meet him, but had a pleasant chat with his better half, who has never grown old—the same in disposition as when sixteen. She may reach 100, but will still be young.

One is never older than they think themselves to be. I love to meet with su. h. Joshua B. and his good wife are as good as you will find anywhere. Jo was in the wheat field. Wheat in this section is better than usual. I saw his clever wife and had a pleasant chat with her. Her health was good to know, was much improved. We passed on to "Grass Dale Farm". I always feel at home here, for the doctor and his good wife and daughters know how to make one feel at home.

I went all over this farm, and find the doctor made no mistake when he measurably abandoned cotton for grass and fine cows. His land is improving, and he is showing his friends that cotton is not the only money crop. He has as fine a herd of Shorthorns as you need wish to see anywhere. Why send north for stock no better if as good as his? His young stock is very fine, and he offers them at very low prices, quality considered.

"Whale" has had water in sufficient quantity to satisfy even the big fish. His crop is good. McS— is suffering from rheumatism. Mc. has some fine corn, and has built him a good, commodious house with all modern conveniences. Hope he will soon be better of his ailments.

Will Hyatt is showing the people the people that clover will grow in his section. Will is a clever boy. I passed on down to David C—, and found him suffering with neuralgia (will the thing never grow old?). Here we went to find a mineral spring as you will find most anywhere. It is near where Uncle Allen Carpenter lived and died. Wish we all had such water near us.

We stopped with Will Hancock and Fulton and Ben E—a short time. They were threshing wheat and oats. Grain is turning out well. We stopped with Irjeno McIntire—a clever, good fellow—and then passed to what should be known as Spikesville. Met Uncle John and his son John. Uncle John is one of the old landmarks. He, too, is suffering from the effects of rheumatism. I hate to see the few old soldiers who are left suffer so.

He told me he had one of the best of communities—no talking, no strife, all living together like brothers. I spent the night with Jesse Sykes and his kind wife and lovely children (but they are boys).

Jesse knows how to take care of his friends. I met Albert Porter, Davis, Broadway and Thomas in this village—all clever, whole souled fellows. No wonder they have a good community. Their crops of cotton were the best I saw on my route. It appeared healthy, and was fruiting well. Jo Harrington has some good cotton. John N— is one of the old vets, still active and apparently enjoying good health. John is a good fellow. Ben K— was housing his small grain. John G— has some of as fine cotton and corn as I saw on my journey.

THREE HELD FOR MURDER.

Charlotte Plyler, Mother-in-Law of the Man Who Was Murdered in Union County Last Week and Two Negroes Now in Jail.

Charged by the coroner's jury and by public sentiment almost without an exception with the murder of his own brother-in-law, Carter Parks, Charlie Plyler, a young white man of good family, lies in the Monroe jail awaiting a preliminary hearing before the Recorder, which will occur some time this week.

With him as co-murderers and conspirators are two negroes, George Mahew and John McManus, while Joe Mahew, a brother of George, has since been arrested in South Carolina and brought here for the reason that he was found to be in possession of Parks' pistol, which he claims to have bought from his brother George.

It will be recalled that Parks disappeared from his home late Wednesday afternoon and his dead body was found the following Friday, June 17th, in one hundred and fifty yards of his home. The body was found by two negro boys whom Mrs. Parks told to go in that direction and look for it.

Evidence showed that Parks had been shot from behind a tree some eighteen feet behind him, while he was sitting on a log, and that the top of his head had been blown off. Charlie Plyler, who lies in jail charged with the crime, came to Monroe for the coffin. There is no concealment of the belief that he shot Parks some time ago through the door of the latter's own house.

Plyler has been married but is divorced. He seems to have few friends. He is about twenty-seven years old, and is supposed to have had different reasons for his ill feelings towards Parks. The case promises to be a very sensational one when it comes to trial, as there is a possibility of further developments.

Mrs. Parks seems not to have been grieved by the death of her husband. The coroner held another session last Wednesday and one yesterday. Mr. John C. Sikes, representing the State, conducted the examination of witnesses and will vigorously push the case. It promises to be one of the most serious that has ever been tried in the county, as three men are already charged with a crime for which, if they are proven guilty, the penalty is death in the electric chair.

There can be but the one issue of murder in the first degree.

Children's Day has come and gone. We had an unusually large crowd, a good dinner under the shade of the trees, and in the afternoon three short but appropriate speeches from three "Livesvillites," Dr. Kerr and Messrs. Sinclair and Bland.

Many thanks for the nice behavior of the congregation and the many nice things said about us. Come again. Mr. Frank Adecock and sister, Blanche, were visiting the family of Mr. J. A. Clark Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Beula Bundy, after spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Graham, returned to her home in Cheraw Saturday. She was accompanied by her aunt, Miss Watkins. We were apprised of a curiosity in the way of a piece of fruit some time ago. The fruit in question was plucked from an early harvest apple variety, at the home of Mr. W. H. Clark, was half apple and half pear. One side of the fruit was a well developed pair, containing pear seed, and the other side an apple, with apple seed.

Another Anson County Farmers' Union meets at Bethel Saturday. Are you going? We enjoy Becky Ann Jones' letters immensely. Wish they'd come oftener. We like your continued story, too, Mr. Editor. It is very interesting.

Why Not Get The Best?

When you buy life insurance it is just as much a business proposition as buying a horse, a house, or a farm; therefore you should investigate fully before placing insurance.

There is great satisfaction in selling a McCormick Mower or Rake. We do not know of anything that will pay for itself quite as easily and quickly as a M'ORMICK CYCLE GRINDER.
