STATE CONVENTION.

Democratic State convention, assembled at Charlotte last night at noon, was composed of a greater number of delegates than had been expected. Being an off year and no very general interest being felt, nominations to be made, it was expected that the convention would be largely attended, but, as above stated, it proved to be a mistaken one. The session was very harmonious, the best of feeling prevailed. Speeches of State Chairman E. L. temporary chairman Lee S. ...

LITTLE AEROPLANE MAY DIE

Older Brother Sent Sister From Tentative Roof On Trial Flight.
New York, July 14.—An airship built by 13-year-old Harry Spere was smashed at its launching today, and his little sister, Alice is lying in St. Mary's Hospital, Brooklyn, with a fractured skull. Harry is a fugitive and the police are searching for him.

For weeks Harry had been tinkering and pottering on his "aeroplant." He made his wings, 8 feet long, of cheese cloth, resembling those on the Wright machine. There was a soap box seat in the middle of the flimsy frame.

In the centre were two hand levers taken from a self propelling toy wagon. These would cause the cheese cloth planes to work up and down and shift slightly for balancing. There was no motor or anything suggestive of one. The machine was expected to glide, rather than to fly.

Today Harry's mother went shopping, and Harry called two chums into his home in an East Side New York flat to try the aeroplane, which they carried to the roof of the four-story tenement.

"We'll let my little sister take the first ride," he said. "She don't weigh scarcely nothing."

The child did not object. She thought it was a new game. The three boys gently moved the airship forward until it tottered on the edge. Then gave it a shove and stood back to see it soar.

A woman heard a faint scream. She saw the cheese-cloth contrivance dropping straight down, turn turtle and crash into a ruin of rags and splinters against the stones. Then she saw the child in the wreckage.

Harry stayed long enough to tell the story to a neighbor, then fled before an ambulance and a policeman arrived.

A Square Baker.
Little Girl—That bun you sold me yesterday had a fly in it, and my mother says you ought to give me another one.
Baker—I can't do that; but tell your mother that if she'll let me have the fly back I'll give her a current for it.—Punch.

Those Pies of Boyhood.
How delicious were the pies of boyhood. No pies now ever taste so good. What's changed? The pies? No. It's you. You have lost the strong, healthy stomach, the vigorous liver, the active kidneys, the regular bowels of boyhood. Your digestion is poor and you blame the food. What's needed? A complete tonic up by Electric Bitters of all organs of digestion—Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Bowels—Try them. They'll restore your boyhood appetite and appreciation of food and fairly saturate your body with new health, vigor and strength. 50c at the Parsons Drug Co.

BLOW TO "DRY" STATES

Over 300 Favorites Put On The Alcohol List.
Washington, July 14.—Sections of the country which receive their intoxicating stimulants in the guise of perfumes, essences, medicines or drugs were delivered a body blow today by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Cabell. He gave out a list of more than 300 preparations which hereafter may be handled by drug stores only after the Government liquor license is paid.

These preparations, including many well-known, were examined by the chemists of the Treasury Department and held to be insufficiently medicated to render them unfit for use as a beverage, or to take them out of the class of alcoholic beverages. Treasury Department officials said they believed that many of these preparations were concocted mainly for sale in "dry" territory, where the prohibition laws made it impossible to obtain legally anything with a liquor flavor.

It is estimated there are 40,000 drug-gists in the United States, a few more than half of whom pay the $25 yearly special tax, which permits them to sell the preparations involved. Other stores which continue to vend these mixtures now will be required to pay the tax, and the United States Treasury will be enriched accordingly.

Secretary Mac Veagh has issued an order fixing a standard of medication to govern the chemists of the Internal Revenue Bureau in passing on the question of the amount of alcohol that may be used in medicinal preparations in the future, so that they may come within the requirements of law. Alcohol will be permitted only in the amount necessary to hold in solution all medicine used or to extract or preserve the same. Each prescribed dose of a medicine must contain a normal dose for an adult of drugs or medicines of recognized therapeutic value.

$2,000,000 CLOUDBURST.

Hundreds Of Sheep, Hogs And Cattle Swept Away In Kentucky.

Louisville, Ky., July 16.—Widespread damages in several counties in Kentucky and Indiana has resulted from the cloudbursts which broke last night and today after three weeks of almost daily rain. Henderson, Union, Webster and Nicholas counties in Kentucky suffered most. Estimates of the damage fix it at $2,000,000.

A quarter of a mile of the Louisville and Nashville railroad track between Paris and Mayfield was washed away, and three steel bridges were totally wrecked, according to reports received tonight. Many houses were carried off by the waters, and a large acreage of tobacco, corn and wheat is a complete loss. Live stock also suffered heavily.

In Carlisle, Ky., tobacco stored in warehouses of the Barley Tobacco Society was soaked and damaged. Eight blocks of the city and lumber yards were inundated and much tobacco was washed away. The loss in Carlisle and Nicholas counties alone is estimated at $300,000.

Two inches of rain fell in Mayfield, Ky., today and the water swept through houses, carrying off furniture and everything movable. Tobacco plants were washed out and the swollen creeks carried everything in their paths. The bridges at Neodmore and Mount Vernon were swept away. Washouts occurred on the Monon and the Indiana Central Railroad in Indiana and traffic was held up to some extent. All trains on the Monon were derailed today. Practically all the low lands in Jefferson county (Louisville) are under water and much damage is reported.

A long stretch of the Illinois Central track, near King creek, Kentucky, is reported under water, but that road has suffered no delay to traffic, according to Louisville officials.

SCATTERING DOTS.

Correspondence of the M. & I.
I notice that crops are still far below the average in Gullede town-ship. The sandy lands have suffered most from the abnormal conditions existing. Since May 1st the sandy lands have suffered more than the clay. Some corn, where planted too thick, will be almost a failure.

I observe here that it requires something besides fertilizers to make a crop, and what will do for one year will not, under adverse circumstances, do so well the next year. No man has, as yet, learned all about farming, and no ironical theory will hold good under all conditions. Common sense mixed with experience in most cases will serve a better purpose. Our farmers are no laggards. They have wrought well. The conditions confronting them were unforeseen; otherwise they would have planned and acted differently. I guess it is better to know nothing of what the future has in store; else, we should all, in a great measure, lose our energy and enthusiasm.

"Where are we at," and to what are we coming, as a people? Will fanaticism, or conservatism, dominate our people? Fanaticism seems now to have the front row in old Anson as well as in some other counties. Talk to a fanatic and he will endeavor to bluff you. Our old enemy is not dead, only sleeping; and it behooves the Simon pure belonging to the Democratic fold, to look well to their colors. There is an element amongst us that will go any length to carry out their fanaticism, and why some have allied themselves to this element is beyond comprehension. The people are watching as never before, and they have a way of recollecting as far back as 1895-96! Will the time never come when the individual can be elected, upon merit and without the assistance of any clique, to any office? The younger element are not as conservative as were, and are, their fathers. The older ones are being relegated to the rear. But, in a great measure, this is true only of those whose fathers never suffered from the casualties of the sixties. The sympathies of the boy whose father bore the brunt of the strife in the civil war have not been blunted by the spirit of greed or fanaticism.

We never expected to live to see the time come when the youths of the South would forget the sacrifices made by their fathers in their behalf. The old soldier has lived too long. He has lived to see the day when greed and commercialism have supplanted patriotism, and no love is left except for the dollar. This is the spirit of this generation, and is being well cultivated.

The older element is Democratic, and believe in the South not as she is but as she was when the love of country was paramount and the state had some rights that should be respected. The younger element is not as careful as it should be in this respect. They are apparently willing for Jefferson to be supplanted by Hamilton and his doctrine. Then farewell to Democracy. Little of it is left, and this only with the old old South.

A Comparison of Buggies

This is what we would like to get every prospective customer to do—make a comparison of the Tyson & Jones or Hackney buggies with any other buggy ever sold in the town of Wadesboro. When we can get a customer to do this we are entirely satisfied whether we make a sale or not, because if we do not convince him that we have the best buggy we don't want his business. We have been selling Tyson & Jones and the Hackney buggies for years and expect to be selling them years hence; we are steadily building up a trade on these two buggies while our competitors shift from year to year from one cheap buggy to another. Did you ever buy one of these cheap buggies on a "Very broad guarantee" and when you went back to the dealer next year and told him his buggy was no good have him tell you: "We have found that out. We have changed our line, and we have just as good a kind now as the Tyson & Jones or the Hackney." It sounds "fishy", doesn't it?

We would like to take up buggy comparison with you by starting in on the wheels. We use no wheels on these two grades of buggies that we do not fully and absolutely guarantee. Our axles are warranted and are undoubtedly the best grade of self oiling axles. We guarantee the leather upholstery of these two grades to show up of better material than any competing lines. We give you a deeper top, better trimmed top and better constructed top than any of the others. The castings and fittings, Bailey hangers, etc., are polished and emery ground before painting. Our springs are made of the best second growth seasoned hickory. Our factories not only use the very best quality of paints, but all bodies are rubbed out with several coats of rubbing varnish and finishing varnish, and our gears are finished in the old "rub lead" system, in five coats. "The proof of the pudding is the eating thereof," so ask the man who uses a Tyson & Jones or a Hackney buggy what he thinks of them. They cost a little more than the cheaper grade buggies, of course, but if comfort and pleasure are what you want you will come to see us.
