

Woman's Power Over Man

Woman's most glorious endowment is the power to weaken and hold the pure and honest love of a worthy man. When she loses it and still loves on, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weakness and derangement of her special womanly organism soon loses the power to sway the heart of a man. Her general health suffers and she loses her good looks, her attractiveness, her amiability and her power and prestige as a woman. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., with the assistance of his staff of able physicians, has prescribed for and cured many thousands of women. He has devised a successful remedy for woman's ailments. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive specific for the weaknesses and disorders peculiar to women. It purifies, regulates, strengthens and heals. Medicine dealers sell it. No honest dealer will advise you to accept a substitute in order to make a little larger profit.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and strengthen Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

The Dixie Development Co.

has been organized to assist in the development of Anson county and the state of North Carolina, by aiding and encouraging the good men who are now tenants to own their homes, and by all other legitimate means within the power of the company.

If you want to buy or sell real estate, see us before trading. We are in position to help you.

Insurance Department.

We write all kinds of Insurance—Fire, Life, Health, Accident, etc., and do a general bonding business, representing companies of absolute safety.

We respectfully solicit a portion of your business and assure you that it will be appreciated.

The Dixie Development Co.

T. F. JONES, President. W. C. LONG, Secretary.
JOHN. W. GULLEDGE, General Manager.

They Are Here They Are Beauties

That car of horses and mules that I purchased in St. Louis has arrived, and every one who has seen them says they are the handsomest animals ever brought to Wadesboro. Both the horse and the mules were selected with the greatest care. If you need a driving horse, a mule for the farm, or either a mule or a horse for any purpose, I believe I can please you. I will take pleasure in showing you what I have.

M. W. BRYANT

Attention, Farmers.

Our gins Nos. 1 and 2 have been thoroughly repaired and put in first class condition. New saws have been placed, and we offer first class work for $1.25 per bale. All cotton will be ginned as quickly as possible, so that it can immediately be put on the market.

WADESBORO OIL MILL.

Telephone No. 63.

THE COTTON SITUATION.

Manufacturers Record. That the world's supply of cotton is far below the world's consumptive requirements is no longer questioned. No possible weather conditions can enable the South to raise a sufficient crop this year to take care even of this year's requirements, much less restore any of the deficiency in stocks as a result of last year's short crop. At least 13,500,000 to 14,000,000 bales of cotton from the South were needed by the world this year to take care of the requirements for the next twelve months, and to restore stocks to normal conditions, but we have entered the new crop year with a heavy deficiency from last year, and with the assurance that this year's crop will not equal this year's requirements. We believe that no such critical condition has been faced by the cotton trade since just after the close of the war, when it took the South a few years to catch up with the world's consumptive needs. In considering the present situation, it should be borne in mind that the average price per pound of middling cotton in New York for the first few years after the war was as follows:

Year.	Average New York price per pound of middling.
1895-96	$13.20
1896-97	11.59
1897-98	14.85
1898-99	19.04
1899-00	20.99
1900-01	16.95
1901-02	16.45
1902-03	18.15
1903-04	17.00

Under these high prices the South was stimulated to a great increase in its production of cotton, which rose

ITCHING RASH ON FACE AND NECK

Cured—Scratched Until Face was Mass of Raw Flesh—Used Cuticura and had First Good Night's Sleep in 3 Months.

"An itching rash broke out on my face and neck, so bad that I scratched it until my face was a mass of raw flesh which kept me awake all night. After going to my family doctor, he not helping me, I tried another doctor, but without success. After doctors failing, a friend recommended the Cuticura Remedies. That night, after washing my face and neck with Cuticura Soap, I applied some Cuticura Ointment and had the first good night's sleep in three months. I used about two lots of Cuticura Soap and Ointment when you could not see a mark on my face or neck. I will gladly recommend the Cuticura Remedies to anybody. Wm. Silver, 346 West 38th St., New York, Mar. 1, 1910.

In another letter Mr. Silver says, "My case was of about two years' standing. After using Cuticura Soap and Ointment for about three days I saw a decided improvement and was entirely cured in two months."

For the prevention and treatment of itching, burning, scaling eruptions and the promotion of permanent skin and hair health, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are absolutely unrivaled in purity, efficacy and economy. A single cake of Cuticura Soap and box of Cuticura Ointment are of sufficient quantity.

Sold throughout the civilized world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Proprietors, Boston, Mass. See Mail Order Cuticura Book, a Guide to the Treatment of the Skin.

Coffins and Caskets

When you want a nice Coffin or Casket, at a reasonable price, examine the line I carry. I have them from the cheapest to the best.

A Nice Hearse

Is always in readiness, and every feature of the undertaking business receives my careful attention, whether day or night. I also carry a nice line of BURIAL ROBBS.

S. S. Shepherd The Undertaker

Attention!

Ladies and Gentlemen, Patronize the Old Reliable Tailoring Shop.

Pressing, repairing, cleaning scouring of all articles of clothing under my SPECIAL STUDY. All work satisfactory on a prompt basis. Yours to please,

Effie Byrd.

At Byrd's, the tailor, old stand. Phone No. 149.

FOR SALE.

Nice 6-room cottage near town on the Chestfield road. Good neighborhood, good well of water, convenient location. S. J. HAMIL

FOR SALE.

We offer for sale a large quantity of second hand Bagging and Ties in good condition. See a pattern. WADESBORO COTTON MILLS (C)

A GOOD TIME TO DETHRONE OUR OWN KINGS.

Baltimore Sun. The revolution in Portugal that has swept off the throne the young King who disgraced his high office, though due largely to local conditions, is a fresh instance of the world-wide demand of the masses for a larger share in government. Changes have followed one another with startling rapidity. In Russia the Czar has been compelled to establish the Douma. Turkey has abolished its absolute monarchy, instituted a Constitutional government and holds its former Sultan a prisoner. Persia has expelled its Sultan, created a Parliament and has become a limited monarchy. The protest against privilege in England has taken the form of a demand that the powers of the House of Lords be modified or the upper house abolished. Spain for months has been on the verge of revolution and threatens to follow the example of Portugal. Norway, Sweden and Belgium are governed by kings who are only nominal monarchs. Even Germany has considered it wise to curb the tongue of the Kaiser and remind him that he is not a Caesar. Venezuela has overthrown the dictator Zelaya and Nicaragua has driven Diaz into exile. There are matters of discontent against the iron rule of Diaz in Mexico. In Japan a radical change in Ministry was brought about by a protest against the rule of the military class and a demand that the commercial and industrial interests be given a share in the government. China has at last awakened from her long sleep, is establishing public schools and colleges, building railways, an army and navy, and has just assembled its first Parliament.

In the United States the insurgent movement and the revival of Democracy, the demand for direct nominations and the election of Senators by direct vote are expressions of a general revolt against the "bosses" who have seized and held control of the Government. The "Czar of the House" has been deposed and shorn of his power. The "man who controls the Senate" seeks retirement. The tremendous protest against the Payne-Aldrich tariff is grounded in the belief that it favors the "special interests" and enables them to extort higher prices from the consumers. The regulation of railroads, express companies, telegraph and telephone lines and the demand that the power of the trusts be curbed are in line with the tendency to hold to strict accountability the men who control industry and transportation.

The people are dissatisfied with the "rule" of both political and commercial bosses. They are no longer patient under the control of the self-constituted but no less real "kings" of oil and gas, coal, copper, wool, beef, railroads. They resent the close alliance between "big business" and "big politics." By asserting the right to name their own representatives, by electing to office men who will represent their constituents and not corporations, they will be able to restore true popular government—of the people, for the people and by the people. In November there will be an opportunity of taking the first step toward dethroning the American kings established by the tariff. And there is little doubt as to what the people will do.

Reaching the Top in any calling of life demands a vigorous body and a keen brain. Without health there is no success. But Electric Bitters is the greatest Health Builder the world has ever known. It compels perfect action of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels; purifies and enriches the blood, tones and invigorates the whole system and enables you to stand the wear and tear of your daily work. "After months of suffering from Kidney Trouble," writes W. M. Sherman, of Cushing, Me., "three bottles of Electric Bitters made me feel like a new man." 50c at Parsons Drug Co.

A 50-cent bottle of Scott's Emulsion given in half-teaspoon doses four times a day, mixed in its bottle, will last a year-old baby nearly a month, and four bottles over three months, and will make the baby strong and well and will lay the foundation for a healthy, robust boy or girl.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS

Send 10c, name of paper and this ad. for our beautiful Savings Bank and Child's Sketch-Book. Each back contains a Good Luck Penny.

SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, N. Y.

Notice.

I will attend at each township in Anson county for the purpose of collecting the taxes of said county that are now due and in my hands for collection for the year of 1910. Lilesville, Wednesday, Oct. 19, 1910. Morven, Thursday, Oct. 20, 1910. Gullledge (Cason Old Field), Friday, Oct. 21, 1910. White Store, Saturday, Oct. 22, 1910. Lanesboro (Polkton), Monday, Oct. 24, 1910. Barnsville, at Bivens Store, Tuesday, Oct. 25, 1910. Ansonville, at Ansonville, Wednesday, Oct. 26, 1910. Wadesboro, Thursday, Oct. 27, 1910. The county commissioners and the treasurer are calling upon me for money to please settle your taxes as quickly as possible. This Sept. 29th, 1910. S. P. MARTIN, Sheriff.

THE LAZY CHILD.

Young's Companion. In many ways the world is growing less cruel. For this we must largely give thanks to the scientific spirit, which is daily recognizing more and more of the affairs of life which belong to its department. It is coming into fashion not to kick the man who is down, but to call a committee to inquire into why he is down, and that leads naturally to helping him up. This new method is to be welcomed most of all, as it bears upon the destinies of little children. The new scientific pedagogies no longer divide children summarily into good and bad, stupid and clever. On the contrary, it takes close cognizance of that very wonderful relation between mind and body, stomach and brain, and learns there by that persons, and above all children, are much more naturally divided into the sick or the well, the hungry or the fed, the weak or the strong. Both in this country and in Europe investigations of this matter have been made with significant results. One fact proved by them is that there is no such thing as a "lazy" child. The normal child is interested, alert, bright minded, full of waking curiosities about the world into which he has come, and endowed with an almost unquenchable physical vivacity. What, then, is the matter with the little, inert, stupid, dull eyed creatures, forever at the bottom of the class, who never put a question, or seem to pass a given point? The matter is that they are ill, some of them are hungry, and it is as hopeless to expect a child to study well when he needs food as it would be to expect a fire that needs fuel to burn well. The hunger may be due to an actual lack of food, or it may be that the teeth are in such bad condition that the child can not chew, and therefore does not digest. Or it may be that the food offered to it at home is entirely unsuited to its needs. Some of the children can not hear well and some can not see. They do not complain, because they do not know what is the matter. They accept constant rebuke and defeat with the dumb mystification of ignorance. Many of them have never drawn one natural breath since their birth, owing to the presence of enlarged tonsils and adenoids. These children can never compete with their fellows until all these hindrances have been removed. Some recent investigations made by a French physician show that among well nourished children only nineteen per cent. have physical defects, while among the poorly nourished over sixty per cent. suffer from these defects.

This question of feeding is being met in many cities both here and abroad by the supplying of a substantial luncheon, either free or at a nominal cost.

His Friends to Blame.

Chicago News. "And why are you here, my poor man?" asked the visiting parson. "I've got me friends 't blame fer it," answered convict 1233. "Why, how is that?" queried the parson. "De Judge said it was de 'lectric chair fer mine, but me friends got bizzzy an' had de sentence changed 't imprisonment fer life.

DON'T BE BALD.

Nearly Anyone May Secure a Splendid Growth of Hair.

We have a remedy that has a record of growing hair and curing baldness in 93 out of every 100 cases where used according to directions for a reasonable length of time. That may seem like a strong statement—it is, and we mean it to be, and no one should doubt it until they have put our claims to an actual test. We are so certain Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will cure dandruff, prevent baldness, stimulate the scalp and hair roots, stop falling hair and grow new hair, that we personally give our positive guarantee to refund every penny paid us for it in every instance where it does not give entire satisfaction to the user. Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is as pleasant to use as clear spring water. It is delightfully perfumed, and does not grease or gum the hair. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. With our guarantee back of it, you certainly take no risk. Sold only at our store—the Rexall Store. The Parsons Drug Co.

THE BACHELOR GIRL.

Pertinent Reasons For Women Remaining Single Given. Housekeeping Magazine. I am of the opinion that many, if not all those masculines who style themselves bachelors, have the idea that we females are merely "biding our time" until they show us some attention, and that if they do extend some unusual courtesy to us we are ready to expect more. Not only do they think this, but also that we would "jump" at the first opportunity of appropriating them to ourselves. The very expressive but slangy term "bump" is a noticeable characteristic among the present day masculines. Then, too, there are those who are of the impression that if they call for an evening—staying beyond a considerable time—expecting entertainment and refreshments, the hostess should expect no further demonstration of their regards. They fail to realize that an evening at a play or a box of confections, or just a single flower once in a while would be instrumental in producing a more appreciative attitude in the lady of their affections. Such lack of consideration often causes a woman to ponder the question as to whether after marriage it would be expected that she extend all the courtesies and receive none. The indifference, even neglect, shown by the masculines to their mothers or sisters is another of the many reasons why successful business girls are not more ready to give up superior positions for inferior men. To a thinking girl the attitude in which a man regards her sex means a great deal. She may expect consideration and thoughtful courtesy, and not be disappointed, from the man who has his mother's comfort in mind. But how in the minority that man is!

GENERAL GRANT'S FATHER.

Exchange. Even a father may not fully know the capabilities of his son. This was evidently the case with Jesse R. Grant, according to a correspondent of the New York Evening Post, who tells the following story: "One day in November, 1865, I was on a Pennsylvania railroad train, east bound from Pittsburg. In the next seat was an old fellow—that's the way you would describe him—with 'country' written all over him. He opened a conversation with our party, and asked if we were going to Washington. Said he was going there; and added, with pauses, 'I've got a son in Washington—General Grant.' "Of course we responded; and so, feeling encouraged, he turned about with his arm over the back of the seat and proceeded to 'tell all about his son.

CATARRH SUFFERERS.

Good Thing to Know. If you now own a Hyomei hard rubber inhaler Parsons Drug Co. wants you to know that it will sell you a bottle of HYOMEI for only 50 cents. Remember this, all who suffer with catarrh—a bottle of HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-mey) is put up in a separate package and sold for 50 cents, to accommodate the vast army of people who already own a Hyomei inhaler. Parsons Drug Co. will sell it to you at that price and give you the opportunity to begin at once to rid yourself of vile catarrh and the snuffling, hawking and spitting that go with it. Many people through years of neglect have let catarrh get a strong hold upon them. No matter how chronic your catarrhal troubles, HYOMEI is guaranteed to cure them if you give it half a chance. Just breathe it, that's all, and its healing, soothing, anti-septic properties will make you feel better in a day. If you own an inhaler get a 50 cent bottle of HYOMEI today. If you do not own a Hyomei inhaler, ask for a $1.00 outfit, which includes inhaler.

A Daily Thought.

Such help as we can give each other in this world is a debt to each other; and the man who perceives a superiority or a capacity in a subordinate, and neither confesses nor assists it, is not merely the withholder of kindness, but the committer of injury.

GENERAL GRANT'S FATHER.

Exchange. Even a father may not fully know the capabilities of his son. This was evidently the case with Jesse R. Grant, according to a correspondent of the New York Evening Post, who tells the following story: "One day in November, 1865, I was on a Pennsylvania railroad train, east bound from Pittsburg. In the next seat was an old fellow—that's the way you would describe him—with 'country' written all over him. He opened a conversation with our party, and asked if we were going to Washington. Said he was going there; and added, with pauses, 'I've got a son in Washington—General Grant.' "Of course we responded; and so, feeling encouraged, he turned about with his arm over the back of the seat and proceeded to 'tell all about his son.

"I remember it all as plain as yesterday, though I have never written it down till now. "Yes, he's my son, and he's made quite a name for himself. "Long pause and meditation. "Speaking slowly and with a great deal of repetition and a country manner, but much earnestness, 'They are talking about making him President. They don't want to make him President. He's no man for President. He'd be no good in that place. A soldier is what he's fit for. He ain't good for anything else but a soldier. "Why, I've had to set him up in business more than once. He was never any good in business. He's just a soldier; he's good at that. "No, he ain't the man for President. He wouldn't make a good one. "And so on, to this effect and substantially in these words. I remember too many of the words and phrases to be mistaken. It was a striking incident, and I have often thought of it since. "Good, straightforward, simple-minded, old man! That was Jesse R. Grant; and it was then six months after the war had ended."

Some of the children can not hear well and some can not see. They do not complain, because they do not know what is the matter. They accept constant rebuke and defeat with the dumb mystification of ignorance. Many of them have never drawn one natural breath since their birth, owing to the presence of enlarged tonsils and adenoids. These children can never compete with their fellows until all these hindrances have been removed. Some recent investigations made by a French physician show that among well nourished children only nineteen per cent. have physical defects, while among the poorly nourished over sixty per cent. suffer from these defects.

This question of feeding is being met in many cities both here and abroad by the supplying of a substantial luncheon, either free or at a nominal cost.

His Friends to Blame.

Chicago News. "And why are you here, my poor man?" asked the visiting parson. "I've got me friends 't blame fer it," answered convict 1233. "Why, how is that?" queried the parson. "De Judge said it was de 'lectric chair fer mine, but me friends got bizzzy an' had de sentence changed 't imprisonment fer life.

DON'T BE BALD.

Nearly Anyone May Secure a Splendid Growth of Hair.

We have a remedy that has a record of growing hair and curing baldness in 93 out of every 100 cases where used according to directions for a reasonable length of time. That may seem like a strong statement—it is, and we mean it to be, and no one should doubt it until they have put our claims to an actual test. We are so certain Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will cure dandruff, prevent baldness, stimulate the scalp and hair roots, stop falling hair and grow new hair, that we personally give our positive guarantee to refund every penny paid us for it in every instance where it does not give entire satisfaction to the user. Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is as pleasant to use as clear spring water. It is delightfully perfumed, and does not grease or gum the hair. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. With our guarantee back of it, you certainly take no risk. Sold only at our store—the Rexall Store. The Parsons Drug Co.

THE BACHELOR GIRL.

Pertinent Reasons For Women Remaining Single Given. Housekeeping Magazine. I am of the opinion that many, if not all those masculines who style themselves bachelors, have the idea that we females are merely "biding our time" until they show us some attention, and that if they do extend some unusual courtesy to us we are ready to expect more. Not only do they think this, but also that we would "jump" at the first opportunity of appropriating them to ourselves. The very expressive but slangy term "bump" is a noticeable characteristic among the present day masculines. Then, too, there are those who are of the impression that if they call for an evening—staying beyond a considerable time—expecting entertainment and refreshments, the hostess should expect no further demonstration of their regards. They fail to realize that an evening at a play or a box of confections, or just a single flower once in a while would be instrumental in producing a more appreciative attitude in the lady of their affections. Such lack of consideration often causes a woman to ponder the question as to whether after marriage it would be expected that she extend all the courtesies and receive none. The indifference, even neglect, shown by the masculines to their mothers or sisters is another of the many reasons why successful business girls are not more ready to give up superior positions for inferior men. To a thinking girl the attitude in which a man regards her sex means a great deal. She may expect consideration and thoughtful courtesy, and not be disappointed, from the man who has his mother's comfort in mind. But how in the minority that man is!

GENERAL GRANT'S FATHER.

Exchange. Even a father may not fully know the capabilities of his son. This was evidently the case with Jesse R. Grant, according to a correspondent of the New York Evening Post, who tells the following story: "One day in November, 1865, I was on a Pennsylvania railroad train, east bound from Pittsburg. In the next seat was an old fellow—that's the way you would describe him—with 'country' written all over him. He opened a conversation with our party, and asked if we were going to Washington. Said he was going there; and added, with pauses, 'I've got a son in Washington—General Grant.' "Of course we responded; and so, feeling encouraged, he turned about with his arm over the back of the seat and proceeded to 'tell all about his son.

CATARRH SUFFERERS.

Good Thing to Know. If you now own a Hyomei hard rubber inhaler Parsons Drug Co. wants you to know that it will sell you a bottle of HYOMEI for only 50 cents. Remember this, all who suffer with catarrh—a bottle of HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-mey) is put up in a separate package and sold for 50 cents, to accommodate the vast army of people who already own a Hyomei inhaler. Parsons Drug Co. will sell it to you at that price and give you the opportunity to begin at once to rid yourself of vile catarrh and the snuffling, hawking and spitting that go with it. Many people through years of neglect have let catarrh get a strong hold upon them. No matter how chronic your catarrhal troubles, HYOMEI is guaranteed to cure them if you give it half a chance. Just breathe it, that's all, and its healing, soothing, anti-septic properties will make you feel better in a day. If you own an inhaler get a 50 cent bottle of HYOMEI today. If you do not own a Hyomei inhaler, ask for a $1.00 outfit, which includes inhaler.

A Daily Thought.

Such help as we can give each other in this world is a debt to each other; and the man who perceives a superiority or a capacity in a subordinate, and neither confesses nor assists it, is not merely the withholder of kindness, but the committer of injury.

GENERAL GRANT'S FATHER.

Exchange. Even a father may not fully know the capabilities of his son. This was evidently the case with Jesse R. Grant, according to a correspondent of the New York Evening Post, who tells the following story: "One day in November, 1865, I was on a Pennsylvania railroad train, east bound from Pittsburg. In the next seat was an old fellow—that's the way you would describe him—with 'country' written all over him. He opened a conversation with our party, and asked if we were going to Washington. Said he was going there; and added, with pauses, 'I've got a son in Washington—General Grant.' "Of course we responded; and so, feeling encouraged, he turned about with his arm over the back of the seat and proceeded to 'tell all about his son.

"I remember it all as plain as yesterday, though I have never written it down till now. "Yes, he's my son, and he's made quite a name for himself. "Long pause and meditation. "Speaking slowly and with a great deal of repetition and a country manner, but much earnestness, 'They are talking about making him President. They don't want to make him President. He's no man for President. He'd be no good in that place. A soldier is what he's fit for. He ain't good for anything else but a soldier. "Why, I've had to set him up in business more than once. He was never any good in business. He's just a soldier; he's good at that. "No, he ain't the man for President. He wouldn't make a good one. "And so on, to this effect and substantially in these words. I remember too many of the words and phrases to be mistaken. It was a striking incident, and I have often thought of it since. "Good, straightforward, simple-minded, old man! That was Jesse R. Grant; and it was then six months after the war had ended."

Some of the children can not hear well and some can not see. They do not complain, because they do not know what is the matter. They accept constant rebuke and defeat with the dumb mystification of ignorance. Many of them have never drawn one natural breath since their birth, owing to the presence of enlarged tonsils and adenoids. These children can never compete with their fellows until all these hindrances have been removed. Some recent investigations made by a French physician show that among well nourished children only nineteen per cent. have physical defects, while among the poorly nourished over sixty per cent. suffer from these defects.

This question of feeding is being met in many cities both here and abroad by the supplying of a substantial luncheon, either free or at a nominal cost.

His Friends to Blame.

Chicago News. "And why are you here, my poor man?" asked the visiting parson. "I've got me friends 't blame fer it," answered convict 1233. "Why, how is that?" queried the parson. "De Judge said it was de 'lectric chair fer mine, but me friends got bizzzy an' had de sentence changed 't imprisonment fer life.

DON'T BE BALD.

Nearly Anyone May Secure a Splendid Growth of Hair.

We have a remedy that has a record of growing hair and curing baldness in 93 out of every 100 cases where used according to directions for a reasonable length of time. That may seem like a strong statement—it is, and we mean it to be, and no one should doubt it until they have put our claims to an actual test. We are so certain Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will cure dandruff, prevent baldness, stimulate the scalp and hair roots, stop falling hair and grow new hair, that we personally give our positive guarantee to refund every penny paid us for it in every instance where it does not give entire satisfaction to the user. Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is as pleasant to use as clear spring water. It is delightfully perfumed, and does not grease or gum the hair. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. With our guarantee back of it, you certainly take no risk. Sold only at our store—the Rexall Store. The Parsons Drug Co.

THE BACHELOR GIRL.

Pertinent Reasons For Women Remaining Single Given. Housekeeping Magazine. I am of the opinion that many, if not all those masculines who style themselves bachelors, have the idea that we females are merely "biding our time" until they show us some attention, and that if they do extend some unusual courtesy to us we are ready to expect more. Not only do they think this, but also that we would "jump" at the first opportunity of appropriating them to ourselves. The very expressive but slangy term "bump" is a noticeable characteristic among the present day masculines. Then, too, there are those who are of the impression that if they call for an evening—staying beyond a considerable time—expecting entertainment and refreshments, the hostess should expect no further demonstration of their regards. They fail to realize that an evening at a play or a box of confections, or just a single flower once in a while would be instrumental in producing a more appreciative attitude in the lady of their affections. Such lack of consideration often causes a woman to ponder the question as to whether after marriage it would be expected that she extend all the courtesies and receive none. The indifference, even neglect, shown by the masculines to their mothers or sisters is another of the many reasons why successful business girls are not more ready to give up superior positions for inferior men. To a thinking girl the attitude in which a man regards her sex means a great deal. She may expect consideration and thoughtful courtesy, and not be disappointed, from the man who has his mother's comfort in mind. But how in the minority that man is!

GENERAL GRANT'S FATHER.

Exchange. Even a father may not fully know the capabilities of his son. This was evidently the case with Jesse R. Grant, according to a correspondent of the New York Evening Post, who tells the following story: "One day in November, 1865, I was on a Pennsylvania railroad train, east bound from Pittsburg. In the next seat was an old fellow—that's the way you would describe him—with 'country' written all over him. He opened a conversation with our party, and asked if we were going to Washington. Said he was going there; and added, with pauses, 'I've got a son in Washington—General Grant.' "Of course we responded; and so, feeling encouraged, he turned about with his arm over the back of the seat and proceeded to 'tell all about his son.

CATARRH SUFFERERS.

Good Thing to Know. If you now own a Hyomei hard rubber inhaler Parsons Drug Co. wants you to know that it will sell you a bottle of HYOMEI for only 50 cents. Remember this, all who suffer with catarrh—a bottle of HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-mey) is put up in a separate package and sold for 50 cents, to accommodate the vast army of people who already own a Hyomei inhaler. Parsons Drug Co. will sell it to you at that price and give you the opportunity to begin at once to rid yourself of vile catarrh and the snuffling, hawking and spitting that go with it. Many people through years of neglect have let catarrh get a strong hold upon them. No matter how chronic your catarrhal troubles, HYOMEI is guaranteed to cure them if you give it half a chance. Just breathe it, that's all, and its healing, soothing, anti-septic properties will make you feel better in a day. If you own an inhaler get a 50 cent bottle of HYOMEI today. If you do not own a Hyomei inhaler, ask for a $1.00 outfit, which includes inhaler.

A Daily Thought.

Such help as we can give each other in this world is a debt to each other; and the man who perceives a superiority or a capacity in a subordinate, and neither confesses nor assists it, is not merely the withholder of kindness, but the committer of injury.

GENERAL GRANT'S FATHER.

Exchange. Even a father may not fully know the capabilities of his son. This was evidently the case with Jesse R. Grant, according to a correspondent of the New York Evening Post, who tells the following story: "One day in November, 1865, I was on a Pennsylvania railroad train, east bound from Pittsburg. In the next seat was an old fellow—that's the way you would describe him—with 'country' written all over him. He opened a conversation with our party, and asked if we were going to Washington. Said he was going there; and added, with pauses, 'I've got a son in Washington—General Grant.' "Of course we responded; and so, feeling encouraged, he turned about with his arm over the back of the seat and proceeded to 'tell all about his son.

"I remember it all as plain as yesterday, though I have never written it down till now. "Yes, he's my son, and he's made quite a name for himself. "Long pause and meditation. "Speaking slowly and with a great deal of repetition and a country manner, but much earnestness, 'They are talking about making him President. They don't want to make him President. He's no man for President. He'd be no good in that place. A soldier is what he's fit for. He ain't good for anything else but a soldier. "Why, I've had to set him up in business more than once. He was never any good in business. He's just a soldier; he's good at that. "No, he ain't the man for President. He wouldn't make a good one. "And so on, to this effect and substantially in these words. I remember too many of the words and phrases to be mistaken. It was a striking incident, and I have often thought of it since. "Good, straightforward, simple-minded, old man! That was Jesse