

That Cold Room

on the side of the house where winter blasts strike hardest always has a lower temperature than the rest of the house. There are times when it is necessary to raise the temperature quickly or to keep the temperature up for a long period. That can't be done by the regular method of heating without great trouble and overheating the rest of the house. The only reliable method of heating such a room alone by other means is to use a

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER
Absolutely smokeless and odorless which can be kept at full or low heat for a short or long time. Four quarts of oil will give a glowing heat for nine hours, without smoke or smell. An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. Filler-cap does not screw on; but is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached by a chain and cannot get lost. An automatic-locking flame spreader prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that it can be cleaned in an instant. The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, and can be unscrewed in an instant for reworking. Finished in Japan or nickel, strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental. Has a cool handle.

You have room enough under the back piazza to pile a good sized load and save it for a rainy day. Then forget it and order a new load whenever you need wood.

Still, you don't have to do it that way. Fix it any old way that suits you. Only you will soon find that in any case it will suit you best if you order it from the Wadesboro Oil Mill.

Also, you will like their beautifully clean lump coal. The mill burns up the dirty, dusty stuff for steam, and keeps the lumps for you.

The Silver Horde

By REX BEACH

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

"Are you going to Chicago?" George asked.
"Sure, we've got to put this canny deal over," the crook sighed luxuriously and began to blow smoke rings. "Pretty nice train, ain't it?"
"Yes, ejaculated Emerson, undecided whether to be pleased or angered at the fellow's presence. "Which is your car?"
"This one—same as yours. I've got the drawing room."
"What are you going to do in Chicago?"
"Oh, I ain't fully decided yet, but I might do a little promoting. Seattle is too full of Alaskan snuff."
The younger man shook his head. "You are impossible," said he, "and yet I can't help liking you."
In Chicago, as in Seattle, Fraser accompanied his fellow travelers to their hotel and would have registered himself under some high sounding alias except for a whispered threat from Boyd.

Promptly at 4 o'clock Emerson called cab and was driven toward the north side. As the vehicle rolled up Lake Shore drive the excitement under which he had been laboring for days increased until he tapped his feet nervously, clinched his gloved fingers and patted the cushions as if to accelerate the horse's footfalls. Would he never arrive?
The vehicle drew up at last before one of the most pretentious residences, a massive pile of stone and brick fronting the lake with what seemed to him a singularly proud and chilling aspect. During the moments that he waited he found his body pulsating to the slow, heavy thumping of his heart; then a familiar face greeted him.
"How do you do, Hawkins?" he heard himself saying as a liveried old man ushered him in. "Is Miss Wayland in?"
"Yes, sir; she is expecting you. This way, please."
Boyd followed, thankful for the subdued light which might conceal his agitation. He knew where they were going; she had always awaited him in the library, so it seemed.
Hawkins held the portiers aside, and Boyd heard their velvet swish at his back, yet for the briefest instant he did not see her, so motionless did she stand. Then he cried softly:
"My lady!" and strode forward.
"Boyd! Boyd!" she answered, and came to meet him, yielding herself to his arms. She felt his heart pounding against hers like the heart of a runner who has spent himself at the tape, felt his arms quivering as if from great fatigue. For a long time neither spoke.

ANOTHER WOMAN CURED

BIG ADVANCE IN COTTON.

Census Bureau's Report Causes Price of Staple to Climb.
New York, Oct. 25.—With an advance of practically $3 a bale in the price of cotton today, seldom if ever has the trade, accustomed as it became to rapid fluctuations during the bull campaign of last season, experienced such abrupt transition from weakness to strength displayed by the staple. The sudden climb followed the publication of the census bureau report, showing that the amount of cotton ginned to October 18 was practically 600,000 bales short of the 6,000,000 mark, which has been estimated by many traders.
AN IMMEDIATE REVERSE.
The report was made public before the market opened and the first quotation showed an advance over Monday's close. Throughout the day prices worked higher until the close. On Monday the market had been extremely weak and unsettled. January contracts, which on October 14, had sold at 16 1/4, closed at 13 3/4, a decline of nearly $5 50 per bale from the high record of the season. This decline had been the result of heavy selling, inspired by increased estimates of the crop resulting from favorable weather during September and the first half of October, and it has been anticipated that the census bureau reports would confirm these increased estimates by showing more cotton ginned than in same date last year.

MORE THAN DISAPPOINTING.
The report showing only 5,410,000 bales ginned, compared with 5,530,000 bales to the same date last year, was more than disappointing and recent heavy sellers became alarmed when they found that the report was generally interpreted as confirming crop estimates of 11,000,000 bales or less. In addition to heavy covering by recent sellers, a big rush of buying orders from outside sources developed, the bull leaders of the earlier season, who are supposed to have taken profits on their long cotton when the market reached the 15 cent level, seemed to be coming back as big buyers on the advance, and private reports came in from all over the South, from Western speculative centers and from many of the chief cotton centers abroad, expressed a very bullish view of the figures. It is doubtful whether a government report ever caused a more general buying movement or caused a more sensational rapid advance.
Predictions of 20-cent cotton before the end of the season were frequently heard in local trade circles, and the market, in short, reflected a complete revival of the bullish enthusiasm noted on the advance of the earlier season.

This world-famous rifle shot, who holds the championship record of 100 pigeons in 100 consecutive shots, is living at Lincoln, Ill. Recently interviewed, he says: "I suffered a long time with kidney and bladder trouble and used several well known kidney medicines, all of which gave me no relief until I started taking Foley's Kidney Pills. Before I used Foley's Kidney Pills I had severe backaches and pains in my kidneys with oppression and a cloudy voiding. On arising in the morning I would get dull headaches. Now I have taken three bottles of Foley's Kidney Pills and feel 100 per cent better. I am never bothered with my kidneys or bladder and again feel like my old self." ECZEMA CURED

Many people have tried so many remedies for eczema without being materially benefited that they have come to the conclusion that there is no cure for this most distressing disease. That this conclusion is erroneous, and that will effect a cure is shown by the following unsolicited testimonial of Mr. Venable Wilson, who for many years was a citizen of Wadesboro. Mr. Wilson says:

"This is to certify that for nine years I suffered with eczema, and during that time tried numerous so-called specifics for it, but without effect. But after a few applications of Hobson's Eczema Ointment I was completely cured."
