Recently Mr. Gifford, head of the telephone company, proved that "television", making it possible to see and hear individuals or crowds hundreds of miles away, is practical.

The question, "How can that be made useful?" is answered in a way that in centuries to come will shed light on our civilization.

"There is no doubt about it", you are told, "the only way in which television can be made profitable is IN CONNECTION WITH PRIZE FIGHTS".

People will pay well to see men fighting and to hear the yells of the mob gathered around the prize ring.

When the seven young gentlemen who think they believe in trial marriage fall in love, they will know positively the marriage they plan is to last forever, would detest the theory of a trial, and insult anybody suggesting it.

Or if not, they would not be worth marrying.

"It would be better for Massachusetts and the administration of justice generally, if a commission could be appointed to investigate the evidence on which Sacco and Vanzetti are condemned to die."

That is the opinion of the Rev. Roland D. Sawyer, Congressional clergyman and member of the Massachusetts Legislature.

The commission, for which he introduces a bill, would consist of the Chief Justice of the Massachusetts Supreme Court, and four others to be appointed by the Governor.

The impression that justice in the United States is in a hurry to execute anybody or determined to do so should be carefully avoided.
