

LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. Gertrude Vaughan, of Norfolk, Va., spent Easter with her daughter, Mrs. I. A. Wiggins.

Miss Hazel Evans, of Franklin, Va., visited Mrs. John Evans on April 8-10.

Mrs. M. H. Babb attended the funeral of Heath Boothe, of Petersburg, Va., April 6.

Mrs. L. C. Larkin and Miss Mamie Evans spent the Easter holidays with friends and relatives in Murfreesboro.

Mrs. E. B. Vaughan spent April 6-9 in Norfolk with her sisters, Mesdames Roger Watson and Stevens.

Mrs. D. F. Storey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carleton, and her grandfather, Mr. Carleton, from Burgaw, N. C., visited her Sunday, April 8.

Will Jester, of Norfolk, Va., a former resident of Murfreesboro, was in town for a short time recently.

Miss Lois Parker, who has been teaching at Gum Neck, N. C., was at home recently on account of an epidemic of measles in the school.

John Wynn and his sister, Miss Jennie Brown Wynn, motored to Tarboro Sunday, April 9.

GONE BUT NOT FORGOTTEN

ALUMNAE DEPARTMENT

It is with the deepest regret that we report the death of Mrs. R. P. Thomas, formerly Miss Mary G. Mitchell and a graduate of the Class of '76, who died at her home in Cofield, N. C., February 7, 1928.

Mrs. Thomas was originally from Franklin, N. C., but later made her home in Cofield, where she has lived for some time. The thousand dollars given by Mrs. Thomas and her daughter, Mary, to endow the useful arts department in the library, speaks her love for her Alma Mater. This was given in memory of Mrs. Thomas' husband, Dr. R. P. Thomas, former chairman of the Chowan Board of Trustees.

Among those visiting at the college Sunday, April 8, were Mrs. Newland, formerly Miss Lizzie W. Biddle, a graduate of '81, and Mrs. Bryan, formerly Miss Alice Brown, who was at Chowan in '74, both of New Bern, N. C.

It will be of interest to many to learn that Miss Clara McLean of Charlotte, N. C., a graduate of the class of '94, has announced her candidacy for the Senate. We are hoping that she may be successful.

UNDER THE GREEN-WOOD TREE

Billie T: "Did you have a short session with your father?"

Lib W: "Yes, I just had him pass an appropriation bill."

Mary R: "You assure me that this is the very latest style?"

Salesman: "The very latest, lady."

Mary R: "And it won't fade?"

Salesman: "I'm positive of it. Why, we had it in our window for three months."

Miss Crew: "Elizabeth, can you tell me what battle Nelson was killed in?"

Eliz. C. (reflectively): "I think it was his last."

Miss Crew: "Who was the first man?"

Hilma W: "Washington. He was first in war, first in peace, first in..."

Miss Crew: "No, no, Adam was first."

Hilma W: "Oh, well, if you're talking of foreigners."

Alice C: "I'm going downtown."

Maybelle W: "Shopping?"

Alice C: "Yes, they advertised a big shoe sale."

Maybelle W: "Oh, I see you need big shoes."

Miss Webster: "What is water?"

Odessa M: "Something you drink."

Would you accept a pet monkey?"

"Oh, this is so sudden; I would have to ask father."

"Why do you call your new home 'The Court?'"

"Because all the furniture is on trial."

Miss W: "Women always contradict each other."

Miss P: "They do not!"

Salesman: "This is a type of washing machine that pays for itself, sir."

Prospect: "Well, as soon as it has done that you can have it delivered to my house."—Ex.

JOLLY JUNIORS HAVE WORD FOR THE SOON-TO-BE NEW PUPILS

Dear Soon-to-be College Freshmen,

Of course we who are champions of the Freshmen in general, could not miss the opportunity of writing our High School Seniors, who will so soon be college Freshmen somewhere. Who are we? Why do we write you? Well, to answer the first question, we are the Jolly Juniors of Chowan. Why are we writing you? We suspect you haven't heard about us, but we're positive you've heard of the bold Sophs and their mischievous pranks. Then, to settle your doubts concerning us, we are interested in you and work with you to see that nothing harmful comes from the pranks of the Sophs. Most assuredly we would not deprive you of your required amount of fun. No-sirree-bob!

But we are always present when danger threatens. Why? Because we love you—truly we do. O, there is nothing like college life with its variety of fun and work! You, too, will agree with us when you come. You are making your plans to continue your school work, aren't you? Fine! And, bear this in mind, whatever college you enter, you'll find that the Juniors will be your right-hand buddies.

Here's wishing you a glorious vacation so that you can start your school work off next fall with all the enthusiasm that is needed for a Freshman. We are for you,

THE JOLLY JUNIORS.

SUNSET

Day is done,

The golden sun

Is sinking in the West;

The sky once blue

Now drops the dew

Upon the world at rest.

The flowers gay

At the end of day

Drop their heads in rest;

The song birds fly

Through the golden sky

To each little nest. MOLLIE WINBORNE, Ninth Grade, Murfreesboro High School.

THE WILL; THE WAY (True Stories)

I left home for Chowan in the fall of 1925 with $22 and a light heart. I had written the President three months before, asking for work in the kitchen, dining room, or corridors—just anything. He replied that I could have a job in the dining room which would cover a little over half my expenses. This was a great offer to a needy student, and I shall ever be indebted to Chowan for her help.

My father helped me pay the other half of my expenses for the first year, but at the beginning of my Sophomore year he said he could help me but very little more. This, however, only stirred my ambition to finish college, but still I did not know how I could do it.

A commercial course was offered at Chowan that year for the first time, and the rates were very reasonable. I borrowed about half the money to pay for the course and had the rest charged on my regular bill. That course fitted me to get the place as secretary to the Dean. This position, my work during the summer, and borrowing enabled me to continue in school without assistance from my father.

So far, I have carried the regular work for the A. B. degree, have passed every course, and was awarded the Bailey Essay Medal in May, 1927.

The coast is clear now, and in 1929 I expect to get my degree. There is a way, where there is a will.
