

Northampton Ladies Make Second Gift

Present Dishes and Silverware to Home Economics Department

Chowan College greatly appreciates the new dishes and silverware recently presented to the Home Economics Department by the Northampton County Missionary Societies.

About a year ago a project was undertaken by these societies to add necessary equipment to the Home Economics Department. Two gifts have been made. The first gift, presented at commencement time last year, included one set of blue willow-ware dishes and one complete set of silver.

The second gift, which was recently given, consists of one set of gold band dishes, 106 pieces; one set of glassware, 85 pieces; and one steak set (knife and fork).

On Monday, May 6, a buffet luncheon was served by the Home Economics class, under the direction of Miss Eleanor Whittinghill, head of that department, to the following ladies: Mrs. R. M. Mad-drey, Seaboard (asn. supt.); Mrs. F. C. Jenkins, Potecasi (asn. Jr. leader); Mrs. Lloyd Lassiter, Potecasi (asn. sec. and treas.); Miss Maggie Boone, Jackson (asn. stewardship leader); Mrs. W. V. Tarleton, Rich Square (Northampton County Mission Study leader); Mrs. W. C. Conner, Rich Square (co. reporter); Mrs. George Martin, Conway (co. personal service); Mrs. A. W. H. Jones, Severn (co. president); Mrs. W. J. Griffin, Woodland (co. vice president); Mrs. Whisnant (pianist); Mrs. Parker, Mrs. J. L. Josey, dean of women, Chowan College; Mrs. E. C. Kolb, Windsor, Bertie County; Mrs. J. O. Walton, Windsor, Bertie County; Mrs. Joe Edwards, Pendleton, Northampton County.

At this luncheon the dishes used were given by the Northampton County Missionary ladies.

Miss Whittinghill Entertains Librarians

Miss Eleanor Whittinghill, College Librarian, entertained the library assistants at a lovely tea, Wednesday evening, May 15, from 4:30 to 6:00 o'clock in the home of Miss Eunice McDowell, our former, much beloved, dean of women and librarian.

The girls greatly enjoyed the pleasant evening with Miss McDowell and also the delicious angel food cake and grape juice served by Miss Whittinghill.

As a parting thought, Miss McDowell left these quotations with the girls, "Little things on little wings will lead our souls to heaven," and "Do ye the next thing."

Those enjoying the tea were: Edith Rae Daughtry, Edythe Pearce, Edith Smith, Helen McDaniel, Winfield Carter, Julia Futrell, Wilma Woolard, Miss Eunice McDowell, Mrs. D. A. Day and Miss Eleanor Whittinghill.

New Place For Radio

Music, Music, everywhere, but where is it?

At the end of the fourth period last Thursday as several students decided to walk for a short while before lunch, they were suddenly stopped by unexpected strains of music.

Where could the music be? They turned and looked in the dean's office and there was no radio, box, or singer. A quick look around the drive proved that there wasn't an automobile in the front with a radio. But soon a large and attractive group of students in the middle walk was discovered.

There in the midst of the group, stationed on a convenient post was a radio, doing full duty.

Rorie Copeland, on his way home with his radio which had been serving a purpose in the girls dormitory during the year, had suddenly conceived the bright idea of letting it make its farewell to the girls. The program from Petersburg, Va., was very appropriate as a farewell.
