

PLAY IS FEATURED AT CLUB MEETING

"Six Cups of Chocolate," a one act comedy, by Kenneth Andrews was presented by members of the Thespian Dramatic Club at its regular monthly meeting Tuesday, February 18, in the Lucalian Society hall. Jane Griffin gave a piano solo, as a special number. Sallie Riddick presided.

The play briefly summarized is as follows: Six girls were enjoying a party one afternoon, and their conversation drifted to writing and receiving letters. Each girl had told of a letter that she had recently received. After comparing the letters, they found that each girl had received a letter exactly alike from the same man. They all decided to write him a letter and include all six letters that he had sent them.

The characters were: Mrs. Von Lindaw, Mary Jessie Howell; Hester Beacon, Frances Edwards; Marion Lee, Blanche Weldon; Jeannette Durant, Estalene Cooke; Beatrice Von Kortlandt, Burla Howell; and Dorothy Greene, Lloyd Moore.

Miss Irene Ulmer, Director of Dramatic Dept. and sponsor of the club was present for the meeting.

AMATEUR NIGHT HELD AT PASTIME

Murfreesboro's first amateur contest, sponsored by the Pastime Theatre, was held on February 3 and 4th. A large number of local artists took part on the program.

Fourth Generation on Chowan Campus

"Becky" McGlohon Has Historical Background

Little Rebecca McGlohon, commonly known on the Chowan campus as "Becky", needs no introduction, for she is a general favorite among all college students and teachers; but it would be interesting to know that besides being such an attractive little girl, Rebecca has a historical background that is of much interest to us who are connected with the college.

Rebecca McGlohon is a member of the fourth generation of the McDowell family that has lived or has been vitally connected with Chowan College since its beginning.

Dr. Archibald McDowell, first president of Chowan, was the great-grandfather of Becky. Dr. McDowell was born near Camden, South Carolina, and attended Wake Forest College. He was teaching there when he received the call to fill the presidency at Glenn Parker had charge of the broadcasting unit. Bob Sewell as master of ceremonies seemed to have Major Bowes down pat so to speak.

The elimination contest was held Monday night. The judges for this were Mr. Lewis Daniels of Winton and Mr. John Askew of Harrellsville. The radio listeners were allowed to vote by mail. Those who were not eliminated in the contest Monday night came back Tuesday night to take part in the finals.

When the final decision was rendered Tuesday night the winner of the first prize of $10 was announced as Miss May Vaughan and this team was composed of three sisters, the oldest sister played the guitar while the two younger sisters sang and danced.

The second prize went to Miss Roxie Flythe of Ahoskie, a former Chowan student. Miss Flythe sang, "You are My Lucky Star."

Chowan received its full share of honors in the honorable mention list. Among those from the College, who received honorable mention were the Chowan College quartet composed of Misses Kate Lawrence, Mary Beale Liverman, Martha Seymour, and Louise Lassiter in the semi-classical group. Miss Maxine Hudgins with her acrobatic dancing also won a place among this number. And the author Edwards Trio, composed of Arthur and Helen Edwards and Martha Seymour were also among those receiving honorable mention in the popular songs group.

The winners and those receiving honorable mention are to be given an engagement at the Plymouth Theatre at Plymouth, N. C., in the near future.

Chowan in 1848. He remained here for one year then, but later came back in 1855, serving as vice-president, as Dr. Hooper was president. He was made president again in 1862 and held this office for 27 years. Dr. McDowell died in 1881. By his careful planning and through many sacrifices, Dr. McDowell succeeded in keeping the doors of Chowan College open during the Civil War.

As well as taking an interest in the inside affairs of the school, Dr. McDowell was very anxious to beautify the campus. It is very interesting to know that every tree on the campus was set out under his direction; and obtaining a landscape gardener, he planned the campus as we have it today. Surely his noble services will long be remembered and his name cherished by Chowan students.

Miss Ruth McDowell (now Mrs. D. A. Day), daughter of Dr. McDowell, is Rebecca's grandmother. She was born at Wake Forest and brought to Chowan as a baby. She later attended the college and lived here for many years, always taking a keen interest in the Chowan affairs and ready and willing to help in any way possible.

Miss Eunice McDowell, another daughter of Dr. McDowell, and Becky's great aunt, was born at Chowan. She grew up here, attended two other women's colleges. She came to Chowan to teach Bible and Latin in 1920, and was made dean of women in 1925. She held this position for nine years.

We are indebted to Miss Eunice McDowell for the Memorial Library which we enjoy at Chowan today, as she was the one who started it. As a token of their love and appreciation for Miss McDowell, and the wonderful work she did for Chowan, an honorary doctor's degree was conferred upon her by the people of Chowan about four years ago. She left Chowan in 1933.

Little Becky's mother, Mrs. W. A. McGlohon, daughter of Mrs. Day, was born in Murfreesboro, and has lived here most of her life. She also received her education at Chowan College, graduating in 1913. She has always taken an active part in the activities of the school, and rendered services when she could. Mrs. McGlohon moved to Morehead City, N. C., about eight years ago, but returned to Murfreesboro about four years ago, and has resided here since. Rebecca's father, Mr. W. A. McGlohon, is now business manager for the college.

City, N. C., in 1928, and moved back to Murfreesboro when she was four years old. She now lives on the campus, being the only child living here in about ten years. She, therefore, is quite a "pet" among all. Rebecca is now eight years old. She has brown eyes and curly brown hair. She is a very beautiful little girl and has a brilliant mind which is truly characteristic of the McDowell family.

GALLOPING GAELS SHOW FIGHTING SPIRIT

The Galloping Gaels' Basketball team of Chowan College under the coaching of Lemuel Lee former Murfreesboro High School Coach, displayed good offensive and defensive work in the two previous games played and were rewarded victory tonight with the score 25-27 over Conway in a returned game.

The return game last night played in the Conway Gym was a close-fought battle with the lead in scoring changing several times. Led by Freeman and Piland the Gaels put on a scoring spree in the last half that couldn't be checked by the opposing side. Martin and Flythe were the outstanding stars of the Conway Quint.

Prior to this, the Gaels lost a thriller to Conway, in the College Gym, February 11. Conway jumped to a 60- lead in the first three minutes of play and were never tallied.

In Chowan's first basket ball game of the season which was with Jamesville, the Gaels lost a hard battle 18-33. Led to this without a Coach, Chowan held a five point lead at the first half, but when Ange, Jamesville's forward started rallying in the second half the boys knew no plays that could check the rally.

Chowan boys team has started this season from the bottom, have been beaten and liked it. Now with their Coach, Lemuel Lee, they have built a good defensive and offensive team, scorching for open dates.

CHOWAN LIBRARY HAS NEW HEAD

Mrs. R. R. McCulloch has recently taken over the duties as head of the library of the college.

Mrs. Kennedy, dean of women, who has been supervising the library staff, especially welcomes one who will be able to relieve her of this responsibility; since her duties as dean of women keep her occupied. Mrs. McCulloch will be able to devote full time to the work and in this manner Mrs. McCulloch along with the library staff hopes to make their work more efficient.

We welcome Mrs. McCulloch and feel sure that she will be able to fill this place most efficiently.
