WORLD BRIEFS

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—Veteran Irish actor Barry Fitzgerald, 71, was reported by his doctor to be out of danger today after a brain operation.

"There is no danger," said Dr. D. K. O'Donovan. "He is doing as expected."

Fitzgerald, now retired, underwent an exploratory operation Thursday for a suspected brain tumor at a Dublin hospital.

Promising Year For "Braves"

By "BLUE" SHARBER

Last year our football team didn't have a very impressive record, with three wins and seven losses. The record wasn't very good, but the boys did play better than the record shows.

So far this year our boys haven't played up to their highest potentials. Even though they have lost three games they still have a good possibility of having a winning season, according to Coach Jim Garrison. This year's team has more potentials than last year's club because it has more depth and better talent.

In the first two games the Braves played fairly good ball, although the timing was off. Team spirit has not been as strong as it should be. Good team spirit makes the boys give a little extra effort toward winning.

In football there are ten lettermen back this year.

Basketball

In basketball we should have a much stronger team than last year. The only two players who returned are Alton Lowe and James Albright. Clarence Nickles, William Ivey, Mike Graffeo, Allen Autrey, George Oakley, Phil Parker, Joe Crawford, Bobby Hunter, Harry Griffin, and several others, are expected to help make up a winning team this year. The record last year was four wins and 18 defeats.

The games are in the process of being scheduled now, and it is expected 24 will be played this season.

Baseball

Last year's baseball team was the only team which won more games than they lost. The record was eight wins and seven defeats. Our best pitchers, Alton Lowe and Tommy Winston, returned, along with nine other players. Seven of these eleven are lettermen. There is a very good possibility of winning the conference championship this year. Practice for the pitchers and catchers will probably start the last of February, and the remaining players will start the following week.

Other Sports

It is not known what is to be expected of our track, tennis, and golf teams, because it is too early to know. Returning this year are about eight track members, one tennis player and no golfers. Last year's records were not very impressive, but we hope to have much better teams this year. Practice for the latter sports has not yet started.

Ramblin Around

By RAYMOND JAMES

In this informal column, the writer is primarily interested in the simple way of expressing his views and ideas on the Chowan College campus.

I hope the "Bull Sessions" that are going on in the dorms of the students could prove to be one of the more vital things in our college life. The pastor of the Meherrin Baptist Church, said this recently in the chapel program.

These sessions can prove to be very interesting, too. Here is some of the remarks overheard in the dorms: "Man, I think I got that girl from Spring Hope really snowed. I saw her in the library the other night and all at once I found myself talking with her. She's dating some 'cat' in Wilson but nothing is really serious. You know man, I think I got it made." Later on as you go down the hall, you might hear something of this nature.

"Hey Tom, you think ole' Casey Stengel will be dropped from the Yankee organization this year?" Then Tom answers back, "Listen. He's got plenty of years ahead of him before the front office gives him the thumb."

The boys in the next room were guessing whether the fans of State College will let their mascot, Lobo the Wolf, out of the cage and let him get Carolina's mascot, Rameses the Ram, when the two teams met in Chapel Hill on October 3rd. "Go Wolfpack."

After everyone has put in his two cent's worth, some guy comes in and asks the noble question of all: "Can you tell me if it is inevitable to take the colloquial statement of higher education and develop it into some forane place." Such a question is wasted in the dorm.

What about Miss Crouch and her physical education classes? With her able direction and guidance, I hope that they prove to be No. one in this part of the country. They'd better enjoy it now; when winter comes along and snowball season starts, there will be plenty of sore arms. So exercise every day girls.

How about the new cafeteria. The place is really great. One thing I'm waiting to see. What's everybody going to do for shelter when it comes a nice Carolina rain? Last year we waited comfortably in the hallway leading into the cafeteria. Out of the rain and cold weather. But this year? Let's just wait and see. Mrs. Beaman and her staff have been serving some fine meals so far this year. You guys that gripe about the food! Well, this town has cafes and restaurants that will serve you. Sure, you'll probably get the same thing we have here, but we'd rather see you satisfied than to gripe about it.

Who is the most popular guy on the campus? A strong vote goes for the boy from Pittsfield, Maine., John Hamilton. Yep, they are always waiting in line when John comes in with the mail. Why he might be the Postmaster General some day. I think the new lights on the campus will serve their purpose. If you have the intelligence to notice the fine things in life you will understand why they are here. They help beautify the campus at night, man.

Fellow car owners, our vehicles are a privilege here at Chowan. Let's keep them in the assigned places and drive them like sane people. If we do this, we will have no trouble whatsoever. A few can make it very hard for all the rest if they are not careful.
