College Annual Staff on Picnic

Everything has been completed. The college yearbook is out. And with this in mind the staff held a grand party to celebrate on May 4 at the Horseshoe Bend Yacht Club.

The college dietician, Mrs. J. F. Beaman, furnished the hard-working group with hot dogs and all the trimmings. The Chowanoka staff members spent much time in eating, signing yearbooks, doing some fishing.

Staff members on the party were the editors, Raymond James and John Griffin, along with William Sharber, Bill Mangum, Lorraine Harris, Bonnie Tinkham, John Hamilton, John Brenner, Rice Day, Kitty Carawan, Becky Powers, Toni Cockes, Thomas W. Thomas, Ann Pearce, Ronald Creamer, Mary Miller, Shirley Hogge, Professor Eugene Williams and son, and one Chowanoka advisor, Professor L. M. Wallace.

This years Chowanoka was printed by students in the School of Graphic Arts. It was bound in Charlotte.

The Chowanoka has been dedicated to Mr. John M. McSweeney, director of the school of printing. Mr. "Mac" has the task of setting up and supervising the publications and printed materials for our college.

The memoriam page is to Hugh A. "Dukie" Watson of New Bern. "Dukie", as he was called by his classmates, was fatally injured in an automobile accident in the summer of 1959 in New Bern.

The offices of the dean-registrar, Mr. J. Irving Brooks, is always a beehive of activity. If you don't believe this just ask the students who work there. These students are Brenda Taylor, Gates; Barbara Anne Byrd, Suffolk, Virginia, and William Griffin Spivey, Jackson.

Besides working in the dean's office, the students participate in various clubs and organizations on the campus.

Brenda is a freshman and has just recently been received into the Alpha Pi Epsilon national honorary society for secretarial students. She is a recipient of the Herbert Bonner scholarship, a member of the Baptist Student Union, Y. W. A. representative to the CHOWANOKA, on dean's list, Chowanian feature editor, a member of the Young Women's Auxilliary, and Girl's Basketball manager.

Barbara is a member of the BSU and on the Executive Council, the College Choir, news Editor of THE CHOWANIAN, and business manager of the CHOWANOKA.

Besides holding the position of general clerk in the dean-registrar's office, Bill Spivey is a member of the college choir and was on the dean's list as a special student at mid-semester. He is a transfer student from East Carolina College. Bill manages the automobile registration in conjunction with the night-watchman and the dean.

Each of these students work under the supervision of the assistant registrar, Mrs. Marjorie Lee. Mrs. Lee is an alumna of Chowan College and has been affiliated with the college since 1949, at which time she worked in the capacity of student solicitor. She came to the college as assistant registrar in 1956.

Mrs. Vann Cuthrell, who is acting secretary to the dean, attended Guilford College and assists in all duties of the office.

Dean Brooks guides and supervises the student assistants and personnel. This is the main office on the campus where counseling and advice, relative to the academic standards of the students, is available. Dean Brooks plans with the assistant registrar for the over-all operation of the office. Here, also, in the dean-registrar office, the professors co-ordinate their programs with the dean, and handle matters pertinent to the academic status of each student for their permanent record. The dean works with the faculty in planning courses of study supervising conduct, and other affairs of the students.

Student Enrollment

A student enrollment at Chowan College that may reach 550 is expected for the fall term, beginning in September. To date there are more than 80 students registered than there were last year at this time. At present 121 girls and 188 boys are enrolled. There are also 13 commuting and 66 re-registered students, making a total of 388.

There are several distant states represented on Chowan's campus. Just to mention a few, there are two from Pennsylvania, one from Washington, D. C., one from South Carolina, one from New York, one from New Jersey, two from Delaware, one from Oklahoma, and one from Florida and, of course, many from Virginia.

Director of Admissions Ross Cadle talks with confidence and pride about the growth and development of Chowan.

THE DEAN AND STAFF — Three "self-help" students, an assistant registrar, and a secretary make up the staff in the dean-registrar's office. Sitting at his desk, Dean of the College J. Irving Brooks is surrounded by William Spivey, student-helper; Mrs. Lynda Cuthrell, secretary; Mrs. Marjorie Lee, assistant registrar; and student-helpers Barbara Byrd and Brenda Taylor.

Baptist Student Union Election

Over two hundred Chowan students voted in recent B. S. U. election in which six of the fifteen officers were decided by a margin of less than 10 votes. David Sumler won out as president over Billy Pitt and Gary Cobb by the narrow margin of four and five votes respectively.

Other officers elected were: Elaine Bright, secretary; Beronica Ray, devotional chairman; Janet Askew, listen chairman; Pat Watson, outreach chairman; Judy Cox, publicity chairman; Billy Howell, music chairman; Vernon Bryant, and Shirley Hogge, social chairman;

Wayne Yates, periodical chairman; Lois Beechem, Y. W. A. representative; Fran Dicks B. T. U. representative; and Gerald Byrd, Sunday School representative.

Miss Gloria Blanton of the North Carolina Baptist Student Department installed the new officers. She challenged the new executive council members to assume christian responsibility for their fellow students.

I have a friendly feeling for old women who behave themselves.

Ft. Caswell Camp

Chowan will be represented at the annual Fort Caswell student work camp this summer. Gloria Sumner, Peggy Carr, and Mary Hunter are planning to work and vacation at this island resort thirty miles south of Wilmington.

They will work at renovating the site for student retreats, and will swim, fish, and play in the sun, plus meetings.

The sixty students from North Carolina (60 boys and girls) will each be paid $15.00 a week.
