Chowan's Library Has 1000 Volumes

By Mrs. Neva Campbell ('28)
Librarian

Well over 1000 volumes have been catalogued this academic year and made available to our Chowan students through the college library.

A number of classifications are included among these newly-catalogued additions to the library. The field of religion has been greatly strengthened by many new books, as has the college department of music. Substantial increases have been made also in volumes pertaining to the departments of English, science, and history.

Several important sets of reference materials have been added this year, including the 8-volume Library of Literary Criticism of English and Western Authors, the 54-volume set of Great Books of the Western World, the 15-volume Encyclopedia of Science and Technology, a new set of Americana, and the 4-volume Illustrated Medical and Health Encyclopedia.

The library staff, in addition to Mrs. Campbell, consists of: Mrs. Lois Cadle, assistant; Mrs. Joy Sandifer, night librarian; and six students who assist in various phases of the library work are: Janice Askew, Vivian Burgess, Everett A. Sadler, Gene Townsend, Bern McCutcheon, and Sue Mitchell.

Our Chowan College library now contains about 12,000 volumes as well as a wide variety of significant periodicals. Actually, the old building which now houses the library will soon be unable to accommodate the number of volumes needed for our ever growing student body. In spite of its anti-quoted condition, however, there is plenty of activity going on at every hour of the twelve hours per day that the library facility is open.

From time to time, we are receiving from friends either donations of books for the library or sums of money for the purchase of books. These gifts of books and money have helped considerably in the growth of the library.

We are happy that we are able to add many new volumes to our library each year; but we are proud also of many of the older volumes which have been on our shelves for a number of years. Many of these older treasures cannot be replaced. Needless to say, they add a dignity and a value which money can never buy.
