

Press Meeting - Cont'd.

come. These machines, according to Mr. Franks, will mean faster newspaper production and higher profits.

This is the fourth meeting of the publishers of North Carolina to be held at Chowan College School of Graphic Arts since it was established in 1952 through their efforts. They have continued to support the school in every area, and only recently raised funds for the attractive addition to the school's building.

In Attendance

Among those attending the meeting were: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stroud, Kinston Daily Press; Ronald E. Clark, Roanoke - Chowan News, Murfreesboro; Morris Lancaster, Herald Printing Company, Roanoke Rapids; Mrs. Ruth P. Grady and daughter, Duplin Times - Progress Sentinel, Kenansville; James Wallace, The Herald, Ahoskie; Mr. Mel Franks, Mergenthaler Linotype Company, Charlotte; Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Warlick, Samuel Bingham's Manufacturing Company, Charlotte; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Daniels, Jr., News and Observer - Raleigh Times; R. R. Page, A. G. Dickson, W. A. Boehling, Star - News Newspapers, Wilmington; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dickson, The News - Journal, Raeford; Mr. Tom Boney, Alamance News, Graham; and Mr. J. N. Robinson, Jacksonville Daily News.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pittard, Lenoir County News, Kinston; Hal Tanner, Mr. Roe, Mr. Howell, News - Argus, Goldsboro; Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Brock, Mt. Olive Tribune; Mr. and Mrs. J. Neal Cadieu, Richmond County Journal, Rockingham; H. L. Oswald, Senior and Junior, Wallace Enterprise; Mr. and Mrs. Don Hall, The Herald, Roanoke Rapids; and Mrs. Elizabeth G.

Swindell and Paul Dickerman, Wilson Daily Times.

Also, Orville B. Campbell, Chapel Hill Weekly; Josh L. Horne and James Willoughby, Evening Telegram, Rocky Mount; Harold Suggs, vice-president and assistant publisher, The Virginian - Pilot and Ledger - Star, Norfolk; Harold Brown, director of printing, North Carolina School for the Deaf, Morganton; J. D. Fitz, publisher, Morganton News - Herald and secretary of the North Carolina Press Association; Joe F. Schuman and Leonard Murdock, Mergenthaler Linotype Company, Atlanta; E. P. Andrews and L. E. Dodson, Washington, D. C., and R. E. Lewis, New York, representing International Business Machines Printing Computer Division; J. Mayon Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Joe M. Parker, James M. Wallace, Parker Brothers, Ahoskie; Bill Treadaway, executive secretary, Printing Industry of the Carolinas, Charlotte.

ONE OF THE FIRST—At a recent meeting of the North Carolina Press Association Mechanical Conference, held in Raleigh, Charles Bridges of the Waynesville Mountaineer, one of the first graduating students of the Chowan College School of Graphic Arts (Class of 1954), was photographed with his former instructor, John McSweeney, director of the school.

TALKING IT OVER—Frank A. Daniels, Jr., president of the Eastern North Carolina Press Association, is shown with Dr. Bruce E. Whitaker, president of Chowan College, as they talked about the explosive growth of both the college and the School of Graphic Arts. The occasion was the recent meeting of the Eastern North Carolina Press Association held at the school of printing.

"IT'S JUST AMAZING!"—Herman Gatewood, Chowan College School of Graphic Arts instructor, explains the new Linotype Elektron, just installed, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pittard of the Lenoir County News, Kinston, and Bill Treadaway, executive secretary of the Printing Industry of the Carolinas, Charlotte. Both the Pittards are graduates of Chowan.

LADIES AT MEETING—Mrs. J. Roy Parker, widow of the man for whom the Roy Parker School of Printing was named, talks with Mrs. John McSweeney, wife of the director of the school, at the recent meeting of the Eastern North Carolina Press Association.

ASSOCIATION SPEAKERS AND PRESIDENT—Second from left is Frank A. Daniels, Jr., business manager of the News and Observer-Raleigh Times and president of the Eastern North Carolina Press Association. With him are R. E. Lewis of New York, E. P. Andrews and L. E. Dodson of Washington, D. C. They are representatives of International Business Machines Printing Computer Division and were speakers at the Association meeting held at Chowan College School of Graphic Arts on Saturday, May 9.