Chowan Signs FMA Star

Pat Callahan, a baseball and basketball star at Granby who attended Frederick Military Academy this year, has received a scholarship to play the two sports at Chowan College.

Callahan averaged 19.8 points a game in his senior season for Granby and 15.1 for the FMA Prep team last winter. The 5-10 guard was considered one of the best outside shooters in the Eastern District.

He played outfield and second base at Granby and in American Legion ball.

"Pat is an outstanding shooter and is very effective against man-to-man defenses," said FMA basketball coach Rufus Outland. "If you let him shoot from the right side; it's two points."

Callahan competed for the Frederick track team (there is no baseball program at the school) and was a standout in the hurdles and the 100-yard dash.

Outland also announced that Tom Neer, a 6-1 guard who played high school ball at St. Stephens in Alexandria, will attend Randolph-Macon.
