

New Facility Appealing To Students

Plenty of room and excellent equipment make the new $1.3 million science-engineering facility appealing to both students and faculty. The opening of the building has been met by increased enrollment in the physics and chemistry courses and as students anxiously look forward to their lab work in the gleaming new facility.

Photo
by
Gary
Hannis

