THEY TOE THE MARK.

A New Order of Things on the R. & D. Platform.

The hackmen, draymen and porters for the different boarding houses, who usually have things all their own way on the platform at the Richmond & Danville depot, had to toe the line today. They have been in the habit of rushing up to the trains as soon as they stopped and crowding about the steps, making it exceedingly unpleasant for passengers getting off and on the cars, and the railroad authorities and Mayor Angier say it must be stopped. This will certainly be gratifying news to the travelling public and people who have to go down to meet friends.

The new order of things went in effect today at noon and there was bustling around on the platform just before the train came in, for the hackmen and draymen were getting in position. They are made to stand back against the railing, and the policemen will see to it that the order is always enforced.

Contest in the Third District.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Representative Grady has received notice of a contest for his seat in Congress for the third district from his competitor, Koonce. Mr. Grady says: "He shells the woods, alleging illegal voting in Craven county; in one precinct 100 votes; in another 150; in still another 200 and so on. He also charges irregularities in Jones and his own county, Onslow. Koonce wants $2,000 very bad."

Chairman Simmons says Koonce's allegations of fraudulent voting in Craven county amounts to nothing; but, as everybody knows, several precincts were thrown out as irregularities. Of course, like Mr. Grady, he laughs at the Koonce contest in a district giving nearly 2,600

Runaway Accident.

Mr. B. H. Cozart, one of the proprietors of the Banner Warehouse, and A. N. Thompson, started out this morning at the junction of the D. & N., and O. & C. railroads, about four miles from here, the horse ran away and threw both of them out. Mr. Cozart had a nose broken and was lacerated about the face. He left the buggy, which was considerably broken, and rode the horse to town. Mr. Cozart was considerably bruised up. He was brought to town on a farmers wagon. He cannot walk, his hip being knocked out of place, and it is thought, at this writing, that one or more of his ribs are broken. He is very badly used up.

Miss Mangum Won the Medal.

There was a pleasant incident at Trinity Sunday School yesterday morning it was the presentation of a gold medal to Miss Minnie Mangum for attendance during the past year. The presentation speech was made by Prof. E. S. Sheppe in his own inimitable style. Each year Mrs. W. A. Muse offers a medal to the member of her class who will be present every Sunday during the year, and for three years in succession Miss Mangum has been the winner of the medal.

Stop Crowding, or Pay for It.

The crowding trains at the depot is still being kept up and something is going to be done. A line is to be drawn and those not having tickets or business with the train men must stand back and give the traveling public room, or else they will be arrested and to pay a fine. This is a very important notice to those who loof and congregate around the car steps. A stop should be put to such a nuisance and the effort will be made to do it.

Fire at Charleston.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Jan. 7.—The loss occasioned by the burning of the Read Fertilizing company's works, the building of the Piedmont Guano company and other properties and on the marine wharf last night is estimated between $50,000 and $60,000. The stock of the Read Fertilizer company is estimated to be worth between $30,000 and $40,000. The insurance amounted to about $30,000. Several hundred barrels of rosin and fifty casks of spirits were burned. The stock of the Piedmont Guano company is valued $40,000, with insurance. The contractors lost about $2,000 in tools and machinery, which is uninsured. The other losses are small and scattered.

Alarm of Fire at the State Hospital.

MORGANTON, January 6.—At 4 o'clock this morning the night watchman at the State Hospital discovered fire over the furnace of the chrysanthemum and rose house caused by an over-heated flue. Within five minutes the fire department of the Hospital had a stream of water from the immense fire pump turned on through the hose. The night was exceedingly cold and steam was in the boilers all night. Ten dollars will cover the damage to the house. A number of plants and cuttings were frozen or destroyed by the fire and water.—Charlotte Observer.

Literature in the Great West.

The number of books printed in this country now passes knowledge. No man can name them. They are coming in translation from every civilized land, they are coming from every nook and corner of our own land, from the young and the old, from the learned and the unlearned. They are dropping from passes in the Northwest, where only a few years ago the pioneers got drunk with the Indians.—Pittsburg Times.

Yearby's

GREETING.

MY DEAR FRIENDS:

I take a great delight and my usual annual pleasure of New Year's Greeting to express my appreciation of the patronage and support you have extended during the year. Christmas comes but once a year, yet it is always welcome and brings us all joy, and affords me much pleasure of greeting my friends and customers. I hope the holidays, with its gayeties and festivities, have left you all a sweet remembrance and many pleasant faces to be remembered. I trust the Drug house of YEARBY has dealt with you satisfactory and our business relations in the past have been in all respects pleasing and you like us, our goods and our methods. I have been at the business since 1890, (12 years ago) and during that period could not have pleased everybody, yet we have generally been given the credit for honest intentions and liberal treatment in my line of business. We strive to keep with the leaders, and believe we do so. Our goods are of the best quality and at reasonable prices. We strive to be progressive and up with the times; liberal, yet not careless; to be fair to all, and try to do things right. If we have accomplished this, we have good reason to feel satisfied. The writer greets you all daily behind his counters, and has the pleasure of serving you personally and seeing your wants attended to, assuring you when a package from our store bears our name, it is guaranteed to be of the best quality, fresh and genuine. Extending the compliments of the season, and wishing you all a bright and happy New Year, I am sincerely your friend,

W. M. YEARBY.
