

THE ACCIDENT WAS FATAL.

Mr. VanGunden Breathed his Last Yesterday Afternoon.

Mr. Christian VanGunden, the gentleman who was building the Duke mausoleum, and who received a severe fall last Thursday, died from his injuries yesterday afternoon, about 4:30 o'clock, at Mrs. Brandon's boarding house, the place of his residence.

Mr. VanGunden was born in Switzerland on the 22d of February, 1825, and came to this country when about seven years of age. He began business early in life, and up to the time of his death was an earnest, careful and energetic worker. He was proprietor of the VanGunden Granite and Marble Works, of Philadelphia, and did an extensive business throughout the south in fine monumental work.

He came to Durham early last fall and began work on the Duke mausoleum, and while here made many warm friends by his genial manner. He returned this spring to complete the work, and his friends here were glad to have him among them again. The work was progressing very finely, and on Thursday last he had occasion to inspect some part of it near the top. In walking on the scaffold, with head bowed, he struck a piece of timber overhead, which caused him to lose his balance and he fell, head foremost, a distance of some 12 or 14 feet. His head came in contact with some of the lower timbers, inflicting the wound from which he died. It was a severe fall and a terrible shock to one of his age—69 years.

He had all the care and attention that sympathetic hands could administer. His wife, Mrs. Emily VanGunden, and his son, W. F. VanGunden, and his brother, Frederick VanGunden, were with him in his last hours. He leaves a wife and two children.

They have the sympathy of our people in the very unfortunate accident, and their sad bereavement, as our people felt a deep interest in the deceased, whom they regarded with the highest esteem.

The family, with the remains, left this morning on the D. & N. for Philadelphia, accompanied by H. Hibbard, of this city.

Death of Tom Cozart.

T. A. Cozart, eldest son of B. H. Cozart, and one of the managers of the Banner Warehouse, a most estimable young man, died from consumption last night, at Mr. Ira Lyon's, near Lyon's station, where he had gone in the hope of being benefited. He was 27 years of age and was a young man highly esteemed for his gentle bearing and unobtrusive manner. He had been a resident of Durham for about three years and drew around him a large circle of admiring friends. His remains will be interred at Oxford, former home, this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

A Serious Accident.

In one of our leading business houses last evening a keg of blasting powder went off at half price. This powerful blaze ignited by D. T. Swindell, is felt throughout the length and breadth of Durham county by all who have priced their goods and who are competent to judge between goods bought and sold for the Musical Cash, and those bought and sold at long profits and accommodation prices.

In addition to the immense stock of the Durham Supply Co., we are renewing new goods every day from Swindell's Mammoth Stock in Raleigh with which every line is kept unbroken, and added to, and in making your purchases remember you have the advantage of selecting from it were from two of the largest and finest stock of goods in our city.

Be sure and see our line of summer wash goods, summer silks, etc.

Our salesmen show you our shoe, gents furnishing clothing and hat departments.

Still have a nice line of matting, carpets, rugs, lace and curtains, trunks, crockery, which we will take pleasure in showing and pricing to you. Respectfully,

D. T. SWINDELL, Durham and Raleigh.

At Police Headquarters.

EDITOR SUN:—There should be some one on duty day and night. Capt. Williams, Chief, is tax collector and has to make his rounds in that capacity. There are only six patrolmen on the force who relieve each other after twelve hours service, three on and three off. Economy in the wrong direction usually eventuates in wild extravagance. There should be at least two more patrolmen so that one could always be on duty at the station. The recent occurrence in our town should demonstrate this. It is hoped that the "City Fathers" will take this matter into careful consideration. CITIZEN.

Laid to Rest.

The remains of the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Z. F. Lyon, whose death was noted yesterday, were brought to Durham today, and the funeral took place from the First Baptist church this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, and was attended by quite a large congregation. The pall-bearers were Lee H. Battle, W. M. Yearby, Wesley Cheek, Henry Barbee, J. H. Sneed, and V. T. Lambe.

Mayor's Court.

No cases this morning. It is better to have good order than fines and costs. The Mayor released Calvin Glenn, an old offender, from the chain gang at the request of Mrs. Glenn, as Glenn has a small farm which needs immediate attention. Mrs. Glenn gave her husband a severe lecture in the presence of the court, and he made many promises of future good behavior.

A Texas Mad Dog.

DALLAS, Texas, June 11.—A mad dog, a huge specimen of the St. Bernard breed, yesterday bit seven persons, three of them it is feared fatally, besides killing two dogs and three dogs. Albert Adams, a negro boy, was bitten so badly that he cannot live. Mrs. Mary Arthur, an invalid, was attacked in her bed and so badly lacerated that her life is despaired of. Jennings Moore had his arms, legs and body badly torn, and Geo. Young, Mrs. Worden and Nick Powers were severely bitten. It is feared hydrophobia will result in a number of cases. Doctors are applying mad stones but they will not stick.

An exchange says: "Don't make fun of a boy whose clothes don't fit. In five years his clothes may be tailor-made, while yours are second hand. Don't make fun of a poor girl, for in a short while she may be the happy wife of some rich man of brains and wealth, while you may be glad to clerk for him and sleep in the attic."

Ladies, Misses and Children's Oxford Ties are now going at cost, and this cost is the very thing for your pocket book. Thaxton & Patton is the firm that invites you to call and purchase shoes at low prices. They will give you something good at a way down bargain.

Liddell Company, of Charlotte, N. C. manufacturers of engines, saw mills, cotton presses, pulleys, shafting, etc. will furnish prices on machinery for large or small outfits. They have finely equipped shops and modern tools.

Ex-Mayor Ludlow Shot.

NORFOLK, Va., June 11.—Ex Mayor John R. Ludlow, was shot and painfully wounded by A. Jordan, a saloon keeper of this city this afternoon. Captain Ludlow went to Jordan's saloon and called for a drink. He was intoxicated and liquor was refused him. He used threatening language and drew his revolver. Jordan grabbed up a pistol and fired four shots in rapid succession, two of which took effect, one in the head above the right ear and the other in the right arm. Neither is dangerous. Jordan was arrested and bailed in the sum of $1,000.

THE COLORS OUT.

Durham is a Blue Looking Town Today—Decorated with Trinity Colors.

Not blue in spirits, as you might infer, for cheerfulness and happy feeling is evident on all sides. The town is blue because it is decorated in the color of Trinity College, and our business men are showing their appreciation of the occasion. Hotel Carolina and our factories, stores, banks, dwelling houses, carriages, and even some of the drays, are flying navy blue bunting. National flags are waving, too, and Durham is ready for the second commencement day exercises of Trinity which will be ushered in tomorrow. It is a gay looking scene, and the throngs of people that move about on our streets gives the town an air of life and vigor.

Among the decorations that are attracting the most attention, perhaps, are those of P. W. Vaughan, who has a large banner upon which is printed in large letters the words of the college boys yell song, and the other is at J. M. Wyatt's harness store, where he has a splendid looking horse in the door decorated with the colors. The stores are handsomely draped, and navy blue badges are on hundreds of wearers.

The Board of Trustees is in session at the college. They met something after 2 o'clock.

Senior class-day exercises take place at Stokes Hall tonight. Dr. Steele preaches the baccalaureate sermon in Trinity church tomorrow at 11 a. m., and Dr. Milburn will deliver the literary address tomorrow afternoon at Stokes Hall.

The Junior's Last Night.

The audience last night at Stokes Hall was no smaller than it was the two preceding evenings—a house full. These oratorical contests have been attended by unusually large numbers, and the speakers have been listened to with marked attention, which is very gratifying to the College and all interested in its success.

Last evening the junior's had their say. It was an animated occasion. The successful contestant was G. T. Rowe, of Statesville, who won the medal. His subject was "History's Demigods and Pigmies." The other subjects and speakers were:

- "The Cost of Progress," J. H. Fitzgerald, Lexington.
- "Witness to Immortality in Literature," Robert B. Crawford, Durham.
- "The Will Unconquerable," T. A. Smoot, Kappa.
- "Reforms," Chas. C. Weaver, Greensboro.
- "Conflict the Builder of Character," W. A. Finch, Nashville.
- "William Wallace," J. L. Bost, Davidson College.
- "North Carolina's Herd," E. K. McLarty, Monroe.
