

CITY AND COUNTY.

The Notes that are Gathered in a Reporter's Rounds.

Gone to Duncan Springs.

Duncan Springs at Stems, in Granville county, is quite a favorite retreat for some of our people, and they have great faith in the water. A party left here this morning for that place to spend some time. Among the number were Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Farthing, Mrs. W. S. Farthing and little daughter and Miss Carrie Farthing.

Rattle of the Rail.

Capt. Galbraith, conductor on the O. & C. passenger train, smiled serenely this morning when he counted more than a dozen passengers aboard his train. He does not usually have such a crowd.

"Oh, for a shed!" is the exclamation of the passengers who have to wait on the R. & D. platform for the noon train.

The force at the R. & D. freight depot expect to move into the new offices tomorrow.

Death of Mrs. Whitt.

Mrs. Mary Whitt, (nee Morris,) relict of Thomas Whitt, died yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock from some liver trouble. She was 61 years of age, a member of Trinity church, and died in the full enjoyment of the faith she professed. Mrs. Whitt was an aunt of Mrs. C. B. Green, and she leaves a large circle of relatives and friends who deplore the loss of a good woman and one who possessed many admirable traits of character. The funeral conducted by her pastor, Rev. R. B. Hall, took place from her residence on Cleveland street this afternoon at 5 o'clock. Her remains were interred in the city cemetery.

Gay Picnickers.

A party of young people had a most delightful picnic at the reservoir pond late yesterday afternoon. After lunch was served and they had spent about two hours very pleasantly, they started on their return to the city and stopped for an hour or so at Huckleberry Springs and enjoyed a water melon feast. It was an exceedingly pleasant affair in every respect. In the party were Misses Lalla Carr, Lillian Staples, Lizzie Morehead, Blanche Morgan, Matilda Hearst, Mary Wall and Lily Parrish; Messrs. Ed Carr, P. C. Sneed, C. K. Faucett, T. W. Harris, Willard Tomlinson, Ernest Green and W. B. Rowland. Mesdames E. J. Parrish and E. W. Kennedy were the chaperons.

Got Away With Them.

We hear it whispered that a Durham man was in New York a few days ago and by some means fell in with some "green goods" men. It was the usual case—they were to give the Durham man so much money for a small sum of the genuine coin. He had them to count it out, which they did, and our Durham man wanted to leave right away, but he was told that it would be unsafe to leave with so much money in a loose state and they would seal it up. They proceeded to do so. A package was fixed up and every thing appeared to be all right. The Durham man took his package shook it and said it seemed to be there but before he paid over his cash he preferred to look at it again. After some parleying the seals were broken, the package opened, and running his thumb over the edge of the pile, he found a stack of green paper, with a good bill on top. The "green goods" men were very much surprised and acknowledged that they had been caught at their own game. They offered to take the Durham man all over the city and show him every courtesy, but he declined and walked out saying he did his own traveling and paid his own expenses. Not every one who fools with "green goods" men are so fortunate as this man.

MAKING BOTH ENDS MEET.

—Chicago Mail.

Accident to G. E. Webb.

Today about noon Mr. Garland E. Webb was in Parrish's Warehouse standing by a hogshead which was being packed, when all of a sudden he fell forward, affected with something like vertigo. His chin struck the floor and a considerable hole was cut just under the chin bone, in the fleshy part of the throat. Blood flowed from the wound and also from his mouth. Dr. Boddie attended him and dressed the wound. Several stitches were taken in order to hold the wounded parts together.

Mr. Webb was carried to the home of his sister, Mrs. Crabtree, where he is receiving all the attention possible. The wound, while very painful, is not considered a serious one.

Chapel Hill Chat.

Collector F. M. Simmons' family are summering on the "Hill." Several other families have engaged board for the summer.

Several persons have already arrived to attend the summer school. A number of young ladies and young gentlemen from the various schools will take a special train in one or more studies so that they will be enabled to enter higher classes in their schools next fall.

The library, campus and reading room of the University will be freely opened to all visitors during the summer.

A Delightful Affair.

Miss Nellie Watts entertained quite a number of her young friends last evening in a most charming manner at her home on Cleveland street. The evening was pleasantly whiled away with music and conversation, and the occasion will long be remembered by those present as a thoroughly delightful one. Delicious refreshments were served in a very dainty manner.

The guests were Misses Bessie Battle, Kempie Carlton, Bertha McClees, Lottie Markham and Martha Holloway, Messrs. W. J. Christian, E. L. Womble, B. W. Rogers, T. J. Howerton and F. G. Battle.

The Boycott.

CHICAGO, June 26.—The boycott declared against the Pullman Palace Car Company by the American Railway Union went into effect at 12 o'clock to-day. The order is supposed to include every railroad in the United States which handles Pullman cars and, as declared by the union officials, every road which insists upon running the sleepers will be subjected to a strike, if necessary.

As a result of the boycott all of the switchmen in the freight yards of the Illinois Central went out at 5 o'clock this evening and no freight of any character is being handled in the yards.

Strikers got control of the signals at the grand crossing in Chicago to-day, and delayed traffic considerably at different times.

We invite the patronage of the farmers of North Carolina wanting machinery, not because we are a home industry, but because we claim to be able to furnish as good returns for the money as any body else. Our guarantee ought to be worth something because we can always be found at Charlotte, N. C. Liddell Company.

A Epidemic of Tragedies.

Last Saturday and Sunday were prolific of tragedies in various parts of the world. A fire damp explosion in a coal mine in Scotland Saturday caused the death of more than a hundred and seventy miners, Sunday night in the great manufacturing city of Lyons, France, the President of the French republic was stabbed to death by an anarchist and on the afternoon of the same day a tug boat with a pleasure party went to the bottom in New York harbor, causing the death by drowning of about fifty of her passengers. These terrible occurrences formed but a part of the news furnished by the papers in one day.
