

SALT RHEUM CURED BY Johnston's Sarsaparilla

QUART BOTTLES.
JUST SEEN IN TIME.

Slight Skin Eruptions are a Warning of Something More Serious to Come
The Only Safe Way to Meet the Warning, Johnston's Sarsaparilla is the Most Powerful Blood Purifier Known.

Nature, in her efforts to correct mistakes, which mistakes have come from careless living; or it may be from ancestors, shoots out pimples, blotches and other imperfections on the skin, as a warning that more serious troubles (perhaps tumors, cancers, erysipelas or pulmonary diseases) are certain to follow if you neglect to heed the warning and correct the mistakes.

Many a lingering, painful disease and many an early death has been avoided simply because these notes of warning have been heeded and the blood kept pure by a right use of JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA.

Miss Abbie J. Rande, of Marshall, Mich., writes: "I was cured of a bad humor after suffering with it for five years. The doctors and my friends said it was salt rheum. It came out on my head, neck and ears, and then on my whole body. I was perfectly raw with it. What I suffered during those five years, is no use telling. Nobody would believe me if I did. I tried every medicine that was advertised to cure it. I spent money enough to buy a house. I heard JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA highly praised. I tried a bottle of it. I began to improve right away, and when I had finished the third bottle I was completely cured. I have never had a touch of it since. I never got any thing to do me the least good till I tried JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA. I would heartily advise all who are suffering from humors or skin disease of any kind to try it at once. I had also a good deal of stomach trouble, and was run down and miserable, but JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA made me all right."

The blood is your life and if you keep it pure and strong you can positively resist disease or face contagion fearlessly. JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA never fails. It is for sale by all druggists, in full quart bottles at only one dollar each.

Valuable Farm for Sale.

By virtue of the power conferred upon me in a certain deed of trust executed on the 10th day of July, 1894, by Messrs. W. P. Mangum and M. S. Mangum, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Durham County, in Book 22, pages 243 and 244, I will on Thursday, February 20th, 1902, at Court House door in the city of Durham, at 12 o'clock of the day, sell to the highest bidder at public auction, the land described in said deed of trust, situated in Mangum township, Durham County, lying on both sides of Deal's Creek, adjoining the lands of Mrs. W. B. Lunsford, Captain Bowling, Claud Unstead and others, containing 563 acres, more or less, being the tract on which Messrs. W. P. Mangum and M. S. Mangum in 1894, resided, and being the land allotted to the said Messrs. W. P. Mangum and M. S. Mangum in the division of the lands of their father, Hon. W. P. Mangum, for a more particular description reference is made to deed from Salie M. Leach and Mary S. Mangum to W. P. Mangum, recorded in Book 14, page 169, and deed from Salie M. Leach and W. P. Mangum to M. S. Mangum, recorded in Book 14, page 224 in the office of the Register of Deeds of Durham County, excepting the lands sold by the said Messrs. W. P. and M. S. Mangum prior to July 10th, 1894, the said tract being known as the Mangum Home Place.

This is a valuable tract of land situated in the northern part of the County of Durham, in a fine farming section. For further particulars apply to the undersigned or J. S. Manning, Durham, N. C.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 6.

DESPERATE CONVICT SHOT.

Armed With a Knife He Made a Fierce Fight for Liberty.

BAKERSVILLE, N. C., Feb. 5.—M. C. Davis, a white convict, at the stockade, just below Bakersville, was shot and instantly killed by one of the State guards. Davis was one of the long term men, thirty years being his sentence for the killing of Odell.

Saturday morning, when Major J. H. Melver, gave the command for the guards to move out their respective squads for the day's work on the Ohio River and Charleston Railroad, Davis refused to go and swore that he would die first, whereupon the Major told one of the yard convicts to bring Davis to the commissary, where he and Davis would talk over the affair in a more satisfactory manner, and not drag the movement of the various squads, which were then ready to move. The negro, whom Maj. Melver told to go inside the stockade building and bring Davis, did as he was told. When he approached Davis he took hold of him, and as he did so Davis threw his arms around the negro and, slipping a knife from up his sleeve, cut the negro so deep that his lung projected from the open wound.

Then Davis ran out of the building into the stockade yard, cutting and slashing with his knife as he fled. Then he began to throw rocks. He backed his way up to the big gate of the stockade, which he opened with one hand, while he held the knife in the other to keep the men away. As he rushed through the gate Major Melver commanded the guard to fire. The guard told Davis to halt. Davis stopped but for an instant. Then he ran up the river toward the armory and Major Melver's quarters, where he hoped to arm himself. Fire! said Major Melver, and a guard who had come from the farms with the convicts, fired, Davis fell, his heart pierced by bulletshot, which passed entirely through his body.

Davis was a young fellow who could not bear to be "bossed," as he called it. It was this that led him to prison stripes, and finally to his grave. It is said that last Friday night he swore that he would kill ex-Sheriff Z. T. Phillips' son, who was the railroad boss over him, because young Phillips told him that unless he did not idle so much he would be obliged to report him to the Major for punishment.

At the postoffice in Bakersville, Saturday night was found a Bible sent to Davis from South Carolina, from which State Davis came to North Carolina. It is said as a cotton mill operative had this Bible reached poor Davis one day earlier, who knows but what the result might have been different.—Special to News and Observer.

Something That Will do You Good. We know of no way in which we can be of more service to our readers than to tell them of something that will be of real good to them. For this reason we want to acquaint them with what we consider one of the very best remedies on the market for coughs, colds and that alarming complaint, croup. We refer to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. We have used it with such good results in our family so long that it has become a household necessity. By its prompt use we haven't any doubt but that it has time and again prevented croup. The testimony is given upon our own experience, and we suggest that our readers, especially those who have small children, always keep it in their homes as a safeguard against croup.—Camden, (S. C.) THE SUN.

The One Day Cold Cure.
Cold in head and sore throat cured by Kerrett's Chocolate Laxative Gummi. An easy to take as candy. "Children cry for them"

Fond of Riding.

President Roosevelt's fondness for horseback riding recalls the fact that a number of his predecessors had weaknesses in the same direction. Washington, who vies with Roosevelt as the best all-around athlete who has occupied the presidential chair, was a fine horseman, and Jefferson had also the Virginia gentleman's fondness for the sport. The Puritan ancestry of John Quincy Adams did not deter him from riding and taking an interest in horse racing. Franklin Pierce was a good horseman and always well mounted. The first Harrison, Taylor, Tyler and Polk were at home in the saddle. Andrew Jackson was not only one of the best horsemen of his day, but was also a daring rider to hounds. The presidents of the last generation have not been given to athletic sports, Mr. Cleveland least of all.

Not Her Ideal.
Rudyard Kipling tells this story against himself: He had been presented to a young lady, who almost immediately began to whimper and whose eyes were so full of tears that he felt compelled to ask if she were ill or if anything were the matter. Looking at him between her sobs, the disappointed maiden broke out, "Oh, I thought you were so tall and so handsome!"

Kelvin's Appropriate Keynote. The jubilee of the submarine cable, says the London Express, recalls a little story of Lord Kelvin. At the time Professor Thomson, as he was then, was engaged on his deep sea soundings work he one day discovered by a visitor experimenting with a long coil of wire.

"What is that for?" inquired the visitor, pointing to the wire.

"Making sounds," replied the professor.

"Ah," said the guest jeocularly, "what kind of note does it give off?"

"The deep C, of course," came the answer like a shot, accompanied by the well known twinkle in the professor's eye.

Partisan Arithmetic. An arithmetic published in Richmond during the civil war contained the following example: "If one Confederate soldier can whip seven Yankees, how many Confederate soldiers will it take to whip forty-nine Yankees?"

Mr. Wheeler Got Rid of His Rheumatism. "During the winter of 1898 I was so lame in my joints, in fact all over my body, that I could hardly hobble around, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. From the first application I began to get well, and was cured and have worked steadily all the year."—R. Wheeler, Northwood, N. Y. For sale by W. M. Yearby.

Tot Causes Night Alarm. "One night my brother's baby was taken with Croup," writes Mrs. J. C. Snider, of Crittenden, Ky., "it seemed it would strangle before we could get a doctor, so we gave it Dr. King's New Discovery, which gave quick relief and permanently cured it. We always keep it in the house to protect our children from Croup and Whooping Cough. It cured me of a chronic bronchial trouble that no other remedy would relieve." Infallible for Coughs, Colds, Throat and Lung troubles. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at R. Blacknell & Son's. 3

BRAIN FOOD.

Not long since there was a great run on the fish markets because it was announced that fish was food for the brain. Of course the fallacy of the fact was soon exploded. Normally the food we eat nourishes brain, nerves, muscle, bones, etc., each part of the body assimilating phosphorous salts, lime, according to its need. When the brain begins to show weakness or the nerves become sensitive it is a sign that there is a loss of the nutrition contained in the food eaten, and this loss is in general due to disease of the stomach, and its allied organs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food, which is the source of the strength of both brain and body.

"I was troubled with very frequent headaches," writes Miss Belle Summerton, of San Diego, Duran, Texas, "often accompanied by severe vertigo. My bowels were irregular and my stomach and liver seemed continually out of order. Often I could eat almost nothing, and sometimes absolutely nothing, for twenty-four hours at a time. I was entirely unfit for work, and my whole system seemed so run-down that I feared a severe sick spell and was very much discouraged. I was advised to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and did so with such satisfactory results that before finishing the third bottle I felt perfectly able to undertake duties attending public school life."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser in paper covers is sent free, on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
