VETERANS OFF TO DALLAS.

LEFT ON A SPECIAL TRAIN FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

They Are Due to Arrive There Sunday Evening—Route is by Atlanta and Shreveport.

The special train bearing the Confederate Veterans to Dallas, Texas, to attend the reunion passed through Durham Friday afternoon between 5 and 6 o'clock.

Among those who boarded the special here were General Julian S. Carr, commander of the North Carolina division; Capt. N. A. Ramsey, commander of John Manning Camp; Sheriff F. D. Markham, commander of R. F. Webb Camp; Robert Holloway, H. H. Vickers, W. E. Glenn, A. K. Umstead, A. S. Carrington, J. S. Forsythe, Z. T. Hampton, W. H. Holloway, P. H. Smith, R. M. Jones; Wm. Thomas, of Person; J. P. Thomas, of Granville; Major H. A. Edmondson and R. R. Noblin, of South Boston, Va.; W. J. Roberson, of Warren county. Mrs. S. Bowling and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bowling left on the same train for Temple, Texas, to visit relatives.

When the special train reached Durham it was in charge of, or rather being looked after by R. L. Vernon, traveling passenger agent of the Southern railway. At this point he was joined by R. O. Dean, traveling passenger agent of the Southern Pacific road, who will accompany the veterans all the way through to Dallas.

The coaches of the train were appropriately decorated with streamers on their sides. One was, "Tar Heels En Route to Dallas, Texas." Another, "Tell it in Laocadaemon, We Died in Obedience to Her Laws." And another, "Carolina, Carolina, Heaven's Blessings Attend Her."

The route to Dallas is via Atlanta, Ga., and Shreveport, La., and the train is scheduled to arrive at its destination Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

VIRGINIA-CAROLINA GAME.

The Tar Heels Were Defeated by a Score of 5 to 4. The game of ball at Chapel Hill Friday afternoon between the University of Virginia and the University of North Carolina, was a close and exciting contest and required ten innings to decide.

Both teams were in prime condition and gave a splendid exhibition of ball. From the beginning to the end the game was strenuously contested. For the first five innings things looked bright for the Tar Heels, for they put on their batting clothes, scoring two runs in the second and one in the fifth. The Virginians sent two men across the slab in the fifth. In the sixth the Tar Heels scored one and the Virginians two, tying the score.

Batteries: Carolinas, Sweeney and Council; Virginia, Cracraft and Pollard.

Two base hits, Carr, Sweeney, Council, Holt, for Carolina; Nalle, for Virginia. Bases on balls, Sweeney 2, Cracraft 3. Struck out, by Sweeney 8, by Cracraft 8. Double play, Wilcox to Holt. Umpire, George G. Stephens, of Charlotte.

The Carolina and Virginia teams passed through Durham this morning going to Raleigh, where they played this afternoon.

DURHAM TEAM PRACTICING.

COACH WILLS SAYS IT IS ONE OF THE STRONGEST.

Pitcher Sullivan a Whirlwind—Kentucky People Speak Highly of Mr. Morris.

Durham ball players are arriving fast, and those now in the city are putting in hard work under Manager Stockdale's skillful direction. Mr. Taylor, the fast outfielder, and Mr. Morris, the star pitcher of the Three I League, are among those here, and give promise to be even better than their previous records showed them to be.

Mr. J. J. Sullivan, who pitched the season of 1901 in the Canadian League, is also in the city engaged in practice. He is said to be a perfect whirlwind in the box, with great control and possessed of a cool head. Coach Wills, of the University of Virginia, a National League player, after looking over the list of Durham players, remarked that it was the strongest aggregation of minor league players that could have been gathered together.

Great care and a tremendous amount of work on the part of the gentlemen back of the Durham team has secured for this city a great team, and the only returns the management asks is patronage from our people, which is assured.

The following extract is taken from the Hopkinsville (Ky.) New Era: "Forrest Morris left last night for Durham, N. C. He has signed a contract to pitch for the baseball team of that city. Will Bramham, formerly of this city, is manager of the team, and if all his players are as good as Forrest he has a winning aggregation. The Durham club is somewhat of a 'farm' for the large league, and the young Hopkinsville pitcher's work will be watched by the big managers, and his friends are confident that all he needs is a chance."

WILL REMAIN HIGH.

Tobacco Farmers Should Plant All They Can Attend.

The prospect of the Imperial Tobacco Company, of England, with its $75,000,000 capital, being immense purchasers of bright leaf in North Carolina the coming season, together with the competition of the American Tobacco Company, the Continental Tobacco Company, the Universal Tobacco Company and many independent manufacturers, will insure high prices the coming season.

Durham during the next tobacco year will want more leaf than ever in its history, and all farmers adjacent to the city will do well to plant all that they can care for. The high prices of this season indicate what can be expected next season.

In Need of Help.

John Barker, an old Confederate soldier, living in Patterson township, near Pickett's mill, is in feeble health and destitute circumstances. He is unable to work, and stands in need of the necessities of life. A gentleman from that section tells us that his case is indeed a pitiful one. Something should be done for him, or he ought to be carried to the County Home, if they cannot get him in the Soldiers Home. He has been a hardworking man and served four years in the Confederate army. He should be looked after and cared for by our humane citizens.

C. Thomas Co. Get his prices and styles before making your selections.
