SHEPHERD WAS FINED $10.

WIFE SWORE HE TREATED HER BADLY.

Parties in the Vicinity Heard the Disturbance—This is Not the First Instance.

John W. Shepherd was up in the police court this morning charged with assault and battery upon his wife. He was fined $10 and costs, the total amounting to about $12.50.

From the evidence, it seems that Shepherd went home with several drinks in him on Thursday night, and abused and cursed his wife. Mrs. Shepherd testified that he kicked her; he drove her out of the house. He left but afterwards came back and kicked the door open. Mrs. Shepherd testified that he never offered to hit her except when he was drinking. She considered him drunk last night. It had gotten so that she was afraid of him.

Witnesses testified that Shepherd had his wife down in the street, and that she screamed for help.

If we are correct, this is not the first time Mr. Shepherd has been up on the charge of mistreating his wife. He got off remarkably light this morning, considering the gravity of the offense. The defendant pleaded to the court that if let off, that he would not drink any more, but the mayor could not see his way clear to do this and made the fine as light as possible.

We have little patience with any man, whether sober or intoxicated, who will mistreat or beat his wife.

N. C. CHIVALRY.

A Tar Heel Gentleman's Remark to a South Carolina Beauty.

A gentleman from another town, who is in the city, relates the following incident concerning the chivalry of the Old North State:

"During North Carolina week at the Charleston Exposition, an incident occurred, which speaks well for the chivalry of the Old North State. A North Carolina gentleman, in conversation with a beautiful South Carolina lady, remarked that he saw more pretty people on President's day than he had seen for a long time, when the young lady said she saw pretty people every day. 'Then you must look in the glass every day,' replied the gentleman. The blush that suffused the cheeks of the fair South Carolinian only served to add to her beauty, though, it is said, she was somewhat embarrassed for the moment and graciously forgave the chivalrous North Carolinian with the understanding that he would do so no more."

Liquid Air.

"Extremes meet," certainly, in one of the experiments performed next Wednesday night at the Liquid Air entertainment, where an electric carbon is burned at a temperature of over 3,000 degrees above zero in a tumbler made of ice and containing Liquid Air 312 degrees below zero, yet with no injury to the delicate ice receptacle. This is but one of the many feats that are promised our expectant public.

Probably every teacher and nearly the entire High Schools will attend the Liquid Air entertainment next Wednesday night.

MR. PERKINS MANAGER.

Atlantic Hotel, at Morehead, to be in Most Comfort Hands.

The SUN published the fact Thursday afternoon in connection with the article concerning the North Carolina Teachers Assembly, that the Atlantic Hotel, at Morehead City, would be open during the season. A message received in Durham states that A. M. Perkins, formerly manager of the Benbow House, in Greensboro, will have charge of the Atlantic during the season. Mr. Perkins is one of the most capable hotel men in the State and as a manager ranks among the best to be found.

It is thought that quite a number of teachers and friends of education from Durham and throughout this part of the State will be in attendance upon the meeting of the Assembly, to be held June 10th to 15th, inclusive.

The Clay Literary Society will have its exercises on Friday night. Subject of debate: "Resolved, That it is expedient for the United States to pursue the policy of expansion." Speakers for the affirmative, W. H. Weatherspoon, P. W. Covington and B. B. Woodlief. Negative, H. H. Cheek, E. H. Broughton and C. W. Huntley. The declaimers are V. C. Matthews, C. P. Franklin, D. Blanchard and G. D. Stephenson. The marshals are as follows: L. O. Lougee, chief; Peter Powers, E. C. Pearson, O. D. Middleton, Amed Tillery and G. C. Norris.

Bright Remarks.

The Baltimore Sun tells about a school teacher in Baltimore county who recently asked the class what were the five senses, and a bright boy replied: "A nickel."

This reminds us of a good one Mr. M. Summerfield tells. He was in New York a few days ago, and was strenuously imperturbed by a small newsboy to buy an evening paper, calling them by name and winding up with the Sun. Not wishing a paper, Mr. Summerfield thought he would rid himself of the news vendor by saying: "If you have a moon, I'll take one." Quick as a flash the urchin replied: "Well, Mister, that will be out tonight." Mr. Summerfield was so struck with the quick and witty remark that he bought two papers and gave them away.

To Succeed Himself.

President Roosevelt has sent the nomination to the Senate of Patrick J. O'Brien to be postmaster at Durham. He has been postmaster here for the last four years and succeeds himself for the next four. He has made a good official, and the SUN congratulates him on his nomination.

—Mrs. B. W. Matthews has gone to Johns Hopkins Hospital, in Baltimore, for special medical treatment. She was accompanied by her son, Dr. J. B. Matthews, of Greensboro.

Notice!

I have this day associated with me, in my practice, my son, Dr. Geo. A. Carr, a graduate of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. Office over Kronheimer's store in Summerfield building.
