THE WEEKLY SUN, $1 per year.

HESTER-LUNSFORD.

A Happy Marriage at Knop of Reeds.
Mr. John Lunsford Hester, of Durham, and Miss Sadie Bell Lunsford wife united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mildred Lunsford, at Knop of Reeds.

Rev. W. H. Pickett performed the ceremony that joined together the hands, lives and fortunes of the happy young couple. Quite a number of relatives and friends were present.

Miss Mamie Lunsford was maid of honor, and Mr. Ernest Carrington best man.

Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played in a most impressive manner by Miss Berta Roberts.

After the ceremony the bridal party left for Durham. Mr. and Mrs. Hester went to the home of the groom's parents, near Hickstown. They expect to make their home in this city.

May peace, prosperity and long life be the portion of the happy pair, is the wish of the Sun and numerous other friends.

Marriage in West Durham.

Mr. George W. Hart and Miss Lilla Jolly were united in marriage Wednesday night at 8:30 o'clock, at the home of J. L. Council, in West Durham.

Rev. W. C. Barrett, pastor of the Baptist church, performed the ceremony in a most impressive manner.

Miss Effie McDonald was maid of honor, and Mr. Lucius Bryant best man.

The wedding march was played by Miss Hallie Holeman.

Mr. and Mrs. Hart have the congratulations and best wishes of all their friends. They have taken rooms for the present at the home of Mr. Council.

Police Court Matters.

Five cases were tried in the police court this morning.

Mandy Todd, colored, charged with larceny, was bound over to the Superior Court under a bond of $25.

Mariah Scoggins and Francis Hester, colored, nuisance. Fined $5 each, but judgment as to Scoggins was held up.

Sam Edwards and Caleb Morgan, affray. Judgment suspended on payment of $1.65 cost each.

One defendant was up on two warrants for drunkenness. Fined $5 and $2.30 cost in each case. $2.30 of fine in each case remitted.

The Ladies Walked.

Some ladies were on a street car Wednesday night. A drunken, loud-mouthed negro man got on the car. The ladies left the car, preferring rather to walk the rest of the way than to be anywhere near him.

In speaking of this matter, we have on more than one occasion seen white people compelled to stand in a crowded street car while negroes occupied seats. This may be all right, but does it look so?

The Recital Tonight.

A recital will be given at the Southern Conservatory of Music tonight at 8:30 o'clock, by Miss Saba Doak, a handsome young southern musician. She will be accompanied by Miss Kemp Carlton. Miss Alice Hundley will render three piano selections. A most enjoyable program will be rendered, and it is expected that a good crowd will be present.

The Cherry Tree Swindlers and the Result of Their Trial.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 18.—In the Federal Court this afternoon Judge Boyd passed sentence partially on Dr. Frank Bright, his father, Rev. T. Bright, and C. D. Wilkie, the newspaper correspondent. The court requires these three defendants to return $12,000 of the money to the clerk of the court, who in turn requires them to turn it over to those who were duped by the cherry tree scheme. They are given until the October term of the court which meets in Greensboro to pay over this amount.

The sentence does not stop here. Each of the three defendants are required to give a bond of $2,500 for their appearance at Greensboro, when the judge will give each a term of imprisonment in some county jail. This imprisonment was not indicated at this time in order that the defendants might arrange their business affairs so that the money may be forthcoming by the next term of the court.

As to Lawyers McBrayer and Justice, Judge Boyd states to your correspondent tonight that he is willing to nolle pro the case against each, provided they turn over the $2,000 that was given them by the three convicted defendants. It is understood that both will agree to do this.

The cases against the other men connected with the swindle have been continued until the October term of court, Col. H. C. Cowles, clerk of the Federal Court, has been appointed custodian of the monies to be paid in by the defendants and he will have charge of distributing the same.

The sentence of the court is regarded here as a humane one, as the money will be distributed to those from whom it was fraudulently extracted.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Surprising.

The sight of a row of forceps has closed the mouths of many sufferers even after they had seated themselves in the dentist's chair. Dental surgeons anticipate this and the following amusing instance of how an obstinate Irishman was made to show his teeth may not be amiss.

Pat came to the dentist's with his jaw very much swollen from a tooth he desired to have pulled. But when the suffering son of Erin got into the dentist's chair and saw the forceps approaching his face he positively refused to open his mouth.

The dentist quietly told his page-boy to prick his patient with a pin, and when Pat opened his mouth to yell, the dentist seized the tooth and out it came.

"It didn't hurt as much as you expected it would, did it?" the dentist asked smiling.

"Well no," replied Pat, hesitatingly, as if doubting the truthfulness of his admission. "But," he added, placing his hand on the spot where the boy pricked him with a pin, "begorra, little did I think the roots would reach down like that."

Pythians Meet Tonight.

$30,000 REWARD.

Governor Aycock Offers $400 for Each of Salisbury Lynchers.

Raleigh Times: Governor C. B. Aycock, upon his return from Davie county this morning, created what will prove a genuine sensation in North Carolina, by offering the largest reward ever heard of in the State for the arrest and conviction of the unknown persons engaged in the lynching at Salisbury.

Col. P. M. Pearsall, the Governor's private secretary, this morning drew up the proclamation which the Governor signed offering $400 reward for the arrest and conviction of each one of the lynchers of Harrison Gillespie and James Gillespie, who were taken from the jail at Salisbury on the morning of June 11th and hanged without due process of law.

It is estimated that there were seventy-five persons in this mob and a reward of $400 each means a total reward of $30,000, an altogether unprecedented sum for the executive of this State to offer. If only fifty were in the mob then the reward is $20,000.

The prediction is freely made here that such a reward as this will certainly lead to some important disclosures establishing the identity of many of these men who took the law into their own hands on this occasion. Some one who knows the facts will make a revelation in the face of $30,000 reward.

Solicitor Hammond is now in Salisbury and is at work on this case. He thinks he has the names of several who took part in the lynching, and when further evidence against them is collected arrests will follow. He expects to go to the very bottom of this indefensible lynching.

Besides this there is now a report here, which comes from a very reliable source and is credited there, that evidence has been discovered to establish that one of the negroes executed for the murder of Miss Benson was perfectly innocent. What this evidence is has not been disclosed, but it is said that the youngest one of the negroes, aged eleven years, was not even present when the crime was committed.
