

Anxious About the Situation.
 WASHINGTON, June 30.—Roosevelt's first experience with Congress has not been productive of good results. His pet measure, the Cuban reciprocity, notwithstanding his urgent efforts to force it on Congress, was refused.
 For the first time since McKinley's administration the party is divided over the question of the tariff, and as a result a complete revision of the tariff may be forced upon the next Congress.
 The present session has been disappointing not only to the president, but to the country. After a session of seven months, but eight important bills have been passed. The Republicans are greatly handicapped by the division and dissension and it is said Roosevelt is anxious about the situation.

For Superior Court Clerk.

To the Voters of Durham County: I hereby announce myself a candidate before the primaries to be held the 20th of July next, for the office of Clerk of the Superior Court.

I have no superior claims to urge for your support. Many have done as much, and not a few more than I. Four years of youth and early manhood I cheerfully gave exclusively to the service of my country; whatever, as a public duty or privilege, I have done since has always been under the conviction that it was for the best interest of my people. The office is yours and at your disposal. I need the place and earnestly, urgently solicit your votes.
 Very truly yours,
 Jun20-2w R. G. RUSSELL.

The Tent Meeting.

The tent meeting in East Durham continues to grow in interest every night. Rev. Arthur O'Rear has been in charge and preached every night and the word has been with power. As near as it is possible to count there have been 215 professions up to date. The congregations have been as large as it is possible to accommodate and the order has been perfect. A policeman has been in attendance each night but so far he has had nothing to do. The tent is clean, well lighted, and the singing, conducted by C. P. Howerton and Miss Nannie Holloway, has been excellent and the people who attend find they are indeed in a place where God is working. It is a wonderful sight to see the altars crowded every night and the workers helping these penitents to find Jesus. The older people say it is like old camp meeting days. The public invited to attend and assist in singing or work. Meeting every night 8 o'clock.

Passenger Train Delayed.

An extra freight, going out on the Seaboard Air Line to Henderson, yesterday afternoon, when nearing Bullock's, some six miles from the city, on a down grade, had a loaded coal car to jump the track, and this car was smashed into smithereens; the coal was dumped into a ravine, over which was a trestle, and the caboose followed, turning partly over and having its front end smashed in. The track was torn up for some distance and completely demolished, some of the cross ties being knocked into splinters. Capt. J. W. Nunnally was the only one injured. He was bruised about the head and the left side. He is not thought to be seriously injured. The Southern Railway was kind enough to let Agent Reams have a coach, and we went down with the shifting engine and a large number of passengers, with their baggage, and the mail and express, were transferred and brought to the city about nine o'clock. The passenger train, which should have been here at four o'clock, was caught on the other side of the wreck.

A wrecking crew was sent for and the trains are running all right today. Capt. Nunnally is reported today as getting along nicely, and his friends wish for him a speedy recovery.

Cheapest In the Trade.
 Take time looking through our line of clothing, for the longer you look the bigger bargains you'll see. He who hesitates is not always lost, especially when the buying of clothing is concerned. For our part we don't ask you to listen to our stories, but to simply compare our prices with those of other retailers, the comparison will prove that you can save quite a respectable little sum by purchasing your clothing at the A. Max store, and every little helps you know. Of course we could charge you as much for clothing as other merchants do, and get it too, but then we would forfeit our title of being the cheapest house in the trade and this we won't do.
