DURHAM DAILY SUN. ALL OVER THE HOUSE. CRASH IT!
THURSDAY, JULY 17.
A PET SHOEBILL STORK.
In the grounds of the sirdar's palace at Khartum there is now a gigantic pet bird, originally described as an abnormally large pelican without a pouch. This is a shoebill stork which was shot in the wing by a sportsman last summer about a hundred miles above Khartum. As the bird was unable to fly, it was captured without difficulty and now stalks about the grounds with the dignity befitting a bird which when adult stands five feet high and has a monstrous bill, which has been compared to a whale's head, a boat turned upside down and a shoe. Only two specimens have been brought alive to England. These were sold to the Zoological society in 1860 by Consul Petherick, who after several failures to keep young birds taken from the nest hatched out some eggs under hens, though only two reached London, and these did not live long in confinement.—Westminster Gazette.

Wall Paper From Old Shoes.
Old shoes are not waste from the standpoint of modern industry. After they have done their service and are discarded by the first wearers a secondhand dealer restores the worn shoes to something like their former appearance, and they are sold again, to be worn a little by the poorer classes. When the shoes are finally discarded by them, they are still good for various purposes. In France such shoes are bought up in quantities by rag dealers and sold to factories, where the shoes are first taken apart and submitted to long processes, which turn them into paste, from which the material is transformed into an imitation leather, appearing very much like the finest morocco. Upon this material stylish designs are stamped, and wall papers, trunk coverings and similar articles are manufactured from it.—London Answers.

The Sun Spots Coming Back.
Evidences of the gradual revival of solar activity, as manifested by the presence of dark spots on the face of the sun, are becoming more numerous and conclusive. It is considered certain that the sun has now passed the minimum of the spot period, and during the present year many spots may be seen. The increase of a sun spot period is more rapid than its subsequent decline. The minimum just passed has been somewhat long drawn out, and the return of the spots has been awaited for a year. In March the first spots bearing all the traits of those that belong to a new period were seen in the sun's northern hemisphere in latitude 25 degrees. It is characteristic of a new period that its first spots appear far north or south of the equator, while at the end of a period they are near the equator.—Youth's Companion.

The Best Lintment for Strain.
Mr. F. H. Wells, the merchant at Deer Park, Long Island, N. Y., says: "I always recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm as the best lintment for strains. I used it last winter for a severe lameness in the side, resulting from a strain, and was greatly pleased with the quick relief and cure it effected." For sale by W. M. Yearby.

RHEUMATISM CURED IN A DAY.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE. CRASH IT!
A Few Accessories Which add to the Pleasure of the Toilet. Very significantly did mythology represent Venus as being born from the sea, and the masters of art depict the golden haired goddess of beauty as rising from the crest of a wave. Cleanliness is not only next to godliness, but it is the foundation of feminine good looks. "God bless the man who first invented bathtubs!" we have good reason to exclaim. One can hardly realize a time when the bathtub was a luxury, while certainly modern women hardly appreciate that what has become a taken for granted necessity was not so to the beauties of the past. To add to the comfort, pleasure and healthfulness of the bath come many dainty perfumed toilet waters of various kinds, which cost very little considering the amount of good derived from them. A large bottle of violet ammonia can be bought for 25 cents. A tablespoonful of an ordinary basin of water will soften it and not only impart a pleasing fragrance to the bath, but give cleanliness to the skin. Toilet waters perfumed with violet, lilac, heliotrope, white rose, lavender or crabapple are quite expensive and dainty, refreshing and agreeable to use. Florida water is one of the popular and standard toilet essentials. Then there are various kinds of eau de cologne. Aromatic eau de cologne is refreshing for bathing purposes, and a cologne comes especially for invalids that is grateful and soothing to the sick one and pleasant to sprinkle about the room. Rue de la Paix glycerin, which is delicately perfumed, is put up in bottles. Twenty-five cents will purchase enough to last a long time. Of lanoline and cucumber preparations to be used as a skin food and for massage or to improve the complexion there are a number of varieties. The ever useful cold cream perfumed with rose comes in one ounce round china boxes for 15 cents or in pretty little glass jars of two ounces for 25 cents up to jars that contain eight ounces, which cost 75 cents. Small bottles of the equally useful vaseline can be added to the toilet table at slight expense.

The Children's Health.
How many mothers are worrying over their children's health, never realizing that the food they are giving them from day to day is laying the foundation for a long, vigorous and healthy life or enfeebling the powers God has given them for an otherwise useful career. Is the subject not worthy of a little thought—may, is it not deserving of some intelligent study on the part of mothers, to inform themselves upon one of the most vital questions of the present day—the health of their children? See that they have the proper amount of properly cooked food at proper seasons and that sufficient time is given to thoroughly masticate and hence to properly digest the same. Overeating of unsuitable food causes more headache among growing children than parents are aware of and at the same time weakens them, both mentally and physically, now and for all time to come.

A Dish of Peas.
A pretty bit of color is given by new peas stewed in an agate saucepan without salt and without a cover, thus keeping their color perfectly. Stew with them half a dozen or more French or shorthorn carrots cut into slices. Dressed with melted butter, salt and white pepper, this is a dainty dish. For "company" it may be served in large white turnips, hollowed and boiled in salted water until tender, but not broken. Put a cream sauce with the vegetables in this case.
