

MR. HILL'S CANDIDACY.

Thomas N. Hill, of Halifax, has announced himself a candidate for the office of Chief Justice of the Supreme court of North Carolina.

His attitude is a very ridiculous one when he says he is subject to such action as may be taken by any State convention composed of Democrats.

As the Charlotte News says: The Democrats have already named their candidate. The Democrats of Mr. Hill's county have expressed their preference, and it was not for Mr. Hill.

There has already been held a State convention, composed of Democrats, the only one that will be held this year, and that convention has named a Democrat for the office of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

If Mr. Hill is a Democrat why did he not submit his claims to that body? Who will call another convention, and what man who has a right to be called a Democrat will participate in it?

Mr. Hill's performance does not reflect credit upon his so-called Democracy. His performance is in the interest of Republicanism, and if he is anybody's candidate this year he will be the candidate of the Republican party.

Let him tear off the mask and come before the people in his true colors.

Poison a Family. A negro named Owen Harris has been arrested at Oxford for attempting to poison an entire family. He placed Paris Green in the coffee of Mr. Oscar Yancey's family.

They all became ill at the table and a physician was summoned. Mr. Yancey suspected this negro, so arming himself with a pistol he went to the field, arrested him and kept him cowered with the pistol until an officer came. The doctor says that the only thing which saved the Yanceys was that the negro put so much poison in the coffee that it caused those who drank it to vomit.

Paris Green was found on the negro's person.

The committee to select a site for the Masonic Temple met in Goldsboro Tuesday, but adjourned without reaching a decision. If Durham expects to make a bid, or do anything towards securing the Temple for this city it is time she was making a move. Another meeting of the committee will be held in Raleigh, but the time has not been set. This handsome temple, which is sure to be built, would be a beautiful addition to our city, and it is worth looking after and securing. It would make Durham the center of Masonic interests and we are accessible to all points for such a gathering yearly. Let us go down to Raleigh and see if we cannot induce its location to be in Durham.

IS WILCOX INSANE?

alleged Murderer of Miss Crosey Makes Murders Assaults. Next month the Supreme court will hear the appeal in the noted Wilcox murder case. There are now indications in Wilcox showing signs of real or feigned insanity.

The Elizabeth City Tar Heel says in part: "Jim" Wilcox, the alleged murderer of Ella Maude Crosey, has made an enemy of one of his once best friends. Since Wilcox's imprisonment jailer A. Newbern has spared no effort to make his prison life comfortable for the doomed man.

Saturday afternoon Wilcox expressed a wish for some matches. Mr. Newbern, or "Bonney," as he is better known, went over to his house and procuring a box of matches returned to the jail. Wilcox is in an upper cell. "Bonney" drew himself up by the bars and extended the matches to the prisoner. Wilcox reached for a knife and aimed a vicious blow at the unprotected hand, inflicting an ugly wound upon one of the jailer's fingers.

Mr. Newbern dropped to the floor and demanded an explanation. The prisoner assumed a murderous attitude and threatened worse were the opportunity presented. He also expressed a regret that he did not succeed in inflicting a more serious wound.

Inside the prison walls an angry argument ensued between the keeper and his charge. Mr. Newbern's reply was, in part: "Jim Wilcox, I have treated you as a friend. I have never once refused to grant you anything within my power, while the hand of every man in the county has been turned against you. Now that you have acted as you have I shall treat you just as I do the other prisoners and when you hang I want to be the man to pull the rope." Wilcox's reply was a sneer.

This is not the first time since his imprisonment that Wilcox has displayed his murderous character. Once Mr. Robert Mitchell visited the jail and sought the cell of the alleged murderer. Wilcox met him at the bars with a beer bottle and demanded: "What in the — do you want here." Mr. Mitchell, expecting a collision with the beer bottle, beat a hasty retreat.

Later: Since the attack upon the jailer Wilcox has made another attack upon a visitor to the jail. Mr. John Sykes was in jail one day this week and Wilcox made threats similar to those above and then attempted attacking Mr. Sykes with the beer bottle.

Summer complaint is unusually prevalent among children this season. A well developed case in the writer's family was cured last week by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy—one of the best patent medicines manufactured and which is always kept on hand at the home of ye scribe. This is not intended for a free pull for the company, who do not advertise with us, but to benefit little sufferers who may not be within easy access of a physician. No family should be without a bottle of this medicine in the house, especially in summer time.—Lansing, Iowa, Journal. For sale by W. M. Yearby.

Heartburn. When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, heartburn is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let six hours elapse between meals and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, indicating that you have eaten too much, take one of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the heartburn may be avoided. The Same Old Story. J. A. Kelly relates an experience similar to that which has happened in almost every neighborhood in the United States and has been told by thousands of others. He says: "Last summer I had an attack of dysentery and purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which I used according to directions and with entirely satisfactory results. The trouble was controlled much quicker than former attacks when I used other remedies." Mr. Kelly is a well known citizen of Henderson, N. C. For sale by W. M. Yearby.

A TITLED LOVE AFFAIR.

The Crown Prince of Germany Rescues His Rank for an American Girl. Paris, Aug. 12.—The Martin, which printed the story yesterday to the effect that the crown prince of Germany had quarrelled with his father and offered to renounce the rank and claim to the throne for love, says to-day that Miss Gladys Deacon, daughter of the late Edward Parker Deacon, who killed a wealthy French clubman, suspected of being his wife's lover, is the object of the prince's affections.

The Martin adds that Miss Deacon told the prince she would not consent to a morganatic marriage and if he desired to marry her a full religious and legal ceremony would be necessary. Three days after the American girl's avowal the crown prince gave her a ring which he had sworn to give nobody except his wife, it being a present from his grandmother, the late Empress Frederick.

Rheumatism

The liniment bottle and fannel strip are familiar objects in nearly every household. They are the weapons that have been used for generations to fight old Rheumatism, and are about as effective in the battle with this giant disease as the blunderbuss of our forefathers would be in modern warfare.

Rheumatism is caused by an acid, sour condition of the blood. It is filled with acid, irritating matter that settles in the joints, muscles and nerves, and liniments and oils nor nothing else applied externally can dislodge these gritty, corroding particles. They were deposited there by the blood and can be reached only through the blood.

Rubbing with liniments sometimes relieve temporarily the aches and pains; but these are only symptoms which are liable to return with every change of the weather; the real disease lies deeper, the blood and system are infected. Rheumatism cannot be radically and permanently cured until the blood has been purified, and no remedy does this so thoroughly and promptly as S. S. S. It neutralizes the acids and sends a stream of rich, strong blood to the affected parts, which dissolves and washes out all foreign materials, and the sufferer obtains happy relief from the torturing pains.

S. S. S. contains no potash or other mineral, but is a perfect vegetable blood purifier, and most exhilarating tonic. Our physicians will advise, without charge, all who write about their case, and we will send free our special book on Rheumatism and its treatment. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.
