IN A SOCIAL WAY.

Enjoyable Occasions Yesterday Afternoon and Last Evening.

The social life of Durham promises to be a gay and brilliant one this season. It has already opened in the most pleasant and enjoyable manner.

At her beautiful home, 702 Duke street, yesterday afternoon, Mrs. L. A. Carr entertained the Tourists Club, in their regularly appointed meeting time. The residence was decorated in a lovely manner with white and yellow chrysanthemums.

The Tourists had an instructive and delightful meeting. A dainty three-course luncheon was served. Mrs. Carr was a most charming hostess, and is deeply interested in the Club. In departing each member was given a large and beautiful chrysanthemum as a souvenir of the occasion.

MRS. ERWIN ENTERTAINS WHIST CLUB. Mrs. J. Harper Erwin's lovely home was last evening a scene of rare beauty. She most charmingly entertained the Whist Club. The front hall was decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums and palms; the front parlor with white and pink roses; the rear parlor with American Beauty roses, the whole effect being very beautiful indeed.

The luncheon consisted of oyster cocktails with cheese wafers, chicken salad, tomatoes, with mayonaisse dressing; hot coffee; peppermint wafers and salted almonds; with punch served during the progress of the games. The Club had a delightful evening and it is praising Mrs. Erwin on her charming entertainment.

INFORMAL RECEPTION. The home of Mr. H. N. Snow, on Chapel Hill street, was brilliantly illuminated and beautifully decorated last evening, the occasion being an informal reception, complimentary to Miss Della, and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Walker, of Richmond. With vocal and instrumental music the guests were pleasantly entertained till time for refreshments to be served. The dining room was a scene of beauty with roses and maiden hair fern decorations. About twenty-five guests were present, all of whom agreed that they had spent a most delightful evening.

New Supply of Chinese Sacred Lilies, Calla lilies, Hyacinths, etc, just received at Haywood & King's drug store.

Fine goods. Low Prices. Sneed-Markham-Pearson Co. n7-3t.

For SALE or Rent. A desirable residence corner Morehead Avenue and Duke street. Apply to L. A. Carr. n6-2w.

No goods reserved at A. Max's. He is retiring from business and they must go. See his stock and get goods almost at your own price.

New Advertisements. Children's Eyes!

If your child is backward in his studies—does not like to study—or has symptoms of headache, you will probably find that there is some little eye trouble. There may be no outward sign of a defect, yet the eyes should be examined to make sure there is no fault in them. I give special care to children's eyes.

Three Small Cases. Bill Smith and June Peoples, both colored, were before the Mayor's court this morning on the charge of soliciting trade at the train. Both defendants were discharged. Matthew Wimberly, for assault and battery with deadly weapon, was bound over to court under a bond of $50.

R. G. Gates, of Rougemont, was in the city this morning and went down to Raleigh on a short trip.

New arrival Men's $7.50, $10.00 and $12.50 suits. Sneed-Markham-Pearson Co. n7-3t.

Take a look at A. Max's west show window. Pretty ladies' hats make a pretty display, and they are going cheap. These goods must be sold. A. Max is retiring from business and now is the time to secure bargains.

Uncle Ivey Quite Sick. Rev. Dr. T. N. Ivey, editor of the Raleigh Christian Advocate, passed through the city on the five o'clock train yesterday afternoon on his way to Granite Falls, Caldwell county, where he was summoned on account of the serious illness of his father, Rev. G. W. Ivey. This beloved soldier of the cross is 77 years of age, and has been in the ministry for 52 years. He is the oldest member of the Western North Carolina conference.

Interred at Raleigh. Mrs. C. T. Foushee, of this city, went to Raleigh Thursday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Allie T. Gill, who died at her home in Franklin county. The remains were carried to Raleigh and interred in Oakwood cemetery beside her son, the late Zach Gill. Mrs. Gill was 97 years of age, and was truly a mother in Israel. She was much beloved and highly esteemed by a large family connection and a wide circle of friends.

To Wed on the 13th. Invitations have been issued to the marriage of Mr. Charles O. Veazey, of Knap of Reeds, to Mrs. Zella O. Coleman, of Morial, on Thursday, November 13th, at half past twelve o'clock, at the home of the bride. The contracting parties have very many friends who will wish for them a long and happy wedded life.

To Marry in Roanoke. Cards are out for the marriage of Mr. John Mason Jameson, son of Mr. M. C. Jameson, comptroller of the Norfolk & Western road, to Miss Mamie Elise Johnson, daughter of Mrs. James David Johnson. The ceremony will take place in Green Memorial church, Roanoke, Va., Wednesday evening, November 19.

To Organize Tonight. The Vance Club will meet tonight at 8 o'clock, in the Board of Education room at the court house. It is hoped that all young men interested will attend this meeting, as business pertaining to the welfare of all will be transacted. Go out and encourage the boys by your attendance, if nothing more.
