PITTSBOROUGH PENCILLINGS.

Judge McIver Holding Chatham Court,

Pittsborough, May 4th 1891.—

The amateur entertainment given by the young folks of Pittsborough, in the court-house on last Friday night was a decided success. The music was good, and the pieces performed on the stage were of superior excellence and very entertaining to the large audience. The acting was all in good taste and the parts rendered with spirit, but we hardly know whether to give the preference to the comedy, the farce or the pantomine. pantomine.

We learn that Mr. W. M. Brooks, of Hickory Mountain township has made arrangement to have the stave timber cut on his magnificent tract of land. The machinery to get out the staves is going forward and will soon be in readiness for work. Mr. Brooks' land contains the finest body of hickory timber we have ever seen and when that is put on the market it will bring a pile of money.

Civilization's Doings.

Wil. Star. It seems strange that in this civilized, Christian and enlightened age a nation could be found claiming to be civilized, Christian and enlightened which would pursue an innocent, law abiding people with the bigoted relentless persecution that the Russian Government pursues the Jews, whose only cause of offence is that they are more industrious, thrifty, and better able to take care of themselves than the shiftless populace amongst whom their lot was thrown. There is no accusation of wron; doing, of vio-lation of the laws, or of disloyalty to the government under which they live as an excuse for the mandates of expulsion and the brutal Mrs. Rockwell's school will close its present session Friday next with a picnicat Johnson's pond.
