FRIDAY, May 9, 1913

A Guilford county farmer has refused $12,000 for a piece of property that has been assessed for taxation at $1,500, being raised just last year to that figure from $1,200 over the vigorous protest of the owner.

The News and Observer says the three citizens of Raleigh who did most for it and whose names will be longest remembered are John Rex, Stanhope Pullen and John T. Pullen.

The Democrats propose to reduce the tariff on sugar and to place sugar on the free list at the end of three years.

Magnify Your Calling. "An exchange says the failure of people to pay to farming the same measure of respect that they pay to other occupations is one of the anomalies of our life.

The "Manufacturer's Friend," and the name proved to be the best advertisement he could have devised. Every manufacturer wanted the new loom in his mill.

Memorial Day. Tomorrow, May 10th, is Memorial Day. In a number of towns and in some county places in this State the descendants of our 40,000 Confederate dead will gather and local orators will recount the sacrifices made by their respective communities in the greatest of all the wars that have been fought on American soil.

The celebration of Memorial Day by Southern people is not a glorification of war. It is rather a glorification of peace. Yet the younger generation feels a strange thrill, not unmixed with martial pride, at the sight of a faded gray jacket or a tattered flag that flew upon the field of Shiloh or was stained with blood at Gettysburg.

Although the eloquence of the orator tomorrow make vivid to you the sacrifice that is a precious part of our Southern inheritance, you can grasp its deeper meaning only when you think alone.

Vice President Marshall's Address to Lawyers. In his speech at the first annual dinner of the George Washington University Law School, Vice President Marshall, himself a lawyer, laid down some rules for the moral and professional guidance to young lawyers.

- 1. Don't put a fee before a just cause.
2. Don't worship money to the extent of being willing to write a dishonest contract in order to get a large fee.
3. Be a peacemaker; that is the lawyers business.
4. Don't chase ambulances.
5. Honor your profession as your own sacred honor; therefore do not seek or confound litigation.
6. Don't accept contingent fees.
7. Use your influence against the system of allowing attorneys' fees in advance in divorce cases; therein lies the evil of the divorce laws; when that has been abolished half the divorce cases will be stopped.
8. Use your influence to compel a person charged with crime to testify in the cause; the innocent man cannot be harmed thereby.
9. Take the part of the known criminal, but only to see that justice is tempered with mercy.
10. Don't inquire as to your client's pocketbook before fixing your fee.

A DISTINGUISHED EDITOR

Dr. James A. McDonald, Who Will Deliver the Annual Address Before the Scottish Society and Presbyterian College in Red Springs, May 21.

The Scottish Society of America and the Southern Presbyterian College and Conservatory of Music count themselves fortunate in having secured for their speaker at the meeting of the Scotch Society and the commencement of the college May 21st, Dr. James MacDonald, editor of the Toronto Globe.

In introducing Dr. MacDonald to a great audience at Washington, the Honorable William Jennings Bryan, in his first speech as Secretary of State, said: "Dr. MacDonald is not only a distinguished citizen of a neighboring country, but one whom I am glad to count among my personal friends. He stands in Canada as Gladstone for so many years stood in Britain, the representative of Christianity, applied to government."

In addition to his strenuous work as managing editor of one of the foremost papers in the country, Dr. MacDonald is also a member of the Board of government of Toronto University. He knows the manifold problems that confront the great universities. He knows, also, as few men can, the international questions of the day. It is his business to confront world situations, and interpret them to his countrymen.

Dr. MacDonald is one of Canada's great orators. He had the honor of having been asked to deliver the Lincoln address on the occasion of the Centenary in Chicago. When on account of the ill fated wreck of the Titanic the late W. T. Stead was unable to fulfill his engagement to deliver the address on "Peace" at the World's Conference in New York, Dr. MacDonald was chosen to take his place.

He and Mr. Bryan have often spoken from the same platform as recently in the city of Washington, and if perchance he lacks the eloquence of Mr. Bryan, he has at least a vigor of utterance, a precision of statement and a clearness of thought that our honored Secretary of State lacks. He is a great man physically, intellectually and spiritually, a prophet of rightness, who is honored both at home and abroad.

"Dr. MacDonald is a fearless and fascinating orator of rare power. He comes with a great message. He is the editor of the Toronto Globe, which he has made a tremendous power in the dominion politics, because he actually stands up for Jesus Christ in his editorials; he tests and challenges men's lives by scripture and Christ's principles. Not only is he a leader in Canadian politics, a student of world affairs and a power in them and a servant of Jesus Christ. He is a brilliant speaker as well."

"If that man lived on this side the Canadian border he would be President of the United States," said an enthusiastic admirer of Dr. MacDonald after listening to his oratory for an hour at a great meeting in New York recently. He possesses the gift of swaying an audience to such an extent that the passing of time is forgotten. Dr. MacDonald is coming to be recognized to be one of the strong forces in the civic and religious life of North America. He was for a number of years editor of The Westminster, a Presbyterian journal of Canada, being called thence to the editorship of the Globe, the leading Liberal paper in Canada.

Attitude of Republican Senators Toward Appointments. By unanimous vote, the Republican Senate caucus agreed there should be no general reprisal upon President Wilson for the Democratic holdup of the Taft nominations during the last session of Congress, but that Republican opposition should be shown in the following cases:

In appointments to the consular service or to minor diplomatic posts, such as secretaries of embassies or legations, where the merit system resorted to by former Presidents Roosevelt and Taft was not followed.

Where vacancies were created by removals from office which carry a fixed tenure, unless made for cause, and particularly where removals are made from offices which require technical or special knowledge. A statement issued after the caucus declared that removals from office of indeterminate tenure should be made "only for cause."

Republican Senators in executive session suited the action to the word and the nominations of a dozen postmasters were held up until an investigation could be made as to the reason for vacancies in those cities. Postmasters from the "home towns" of Senators were confirmed without opposition. There was considerable debate over the appointment of William H. Osborn of North Carolina as commissioner of internal revenue, but it was confirmed, and several minor appointments from the Department of Justice also were approved.

Reno Crowded With Seekers For Easy Divorce. Reno, Nev., Dispatch: Never has this city witnessed such a crowd of women and men seeking divorces, particularly the former, in its hotels, apartment houses and cottages, walking its streets and flocking to its places of entertainment, cafes and resorts.

Fully 700 of such temporary residents are here for no other purpose than securing a legal separation from their husbands or wives. They are spending an enforced seven to nine months in any manner which will most pleasantly "kill time" until they are maritally freed.

Unquestionably the final rush for a Nevada decree is in full swing. The three leading hotels, which have been housing many of these so-called residents, are literally swamped. Every train from the East adds to somewhere.

There is hardly a modern cottage available, although other divorces, having secured their decrees, are departing each week, giving place to others. The cafes are running at high tension, the music continuing frequently until the early morning hours.

The courts have been compelled to set aside entire days of each week for divorce business, some single days witnessing 14 trials.

MATTERS OF NEWS. LaGrange, Leior County, had a $50,000 fire in the business section of the town Friday. The commencement of the University of North Carolina will be held June 1, 2, 3, and 4.

Out of a graduating class of 25 or more students at the North Carolina Medical College, a woman leads with a mark of 94.73. This woman is Miss Mary Moultrieville Parker, of Georgetown, S. C.

Wilson dispatch, 1st: "Wilson, that's all!" Not beverage, not the man in the White House, but Wilson, North Carolina, the town dear to his heart, was the subject announced by Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, this afternoon in his address in the court house to the citizens of this, his former home. The occasion was "Native Son's Day," and he was guest of honor.

Dr. Charles W. Stiles of the United States Public Health Service, known almost the world over as an eminent scientist, discoverer of hookworm disease and foremost in the campaign for its eradication, arrived in Wilmington Saturday morning to take up his permanent residence. He comes under orders from Surgeon General Blue, of the Public Health Service, to take command of the Marine Hospital in that city and will continue his research work on the Government reservation there.

The woman suffrage army marched up Fifth avenue Saturday afternoon 20,000 strong to the martial music of the Marseilles blared from 40 bands. In uniforms of white, gleaming with yellow streamers they paraded in the heat of a midsummer sun for three miles from New York, Washington Square to Fifty-ninth street. A forest of yellow banners appealed for "Votes for Women" to an unbroken wall of spectators estimated at a quarter of a million.

For a sprain you will find Chamberlain's Liniment excellent. It allays the pain, removes the soreness, and soon restores the parts to a healthy condition. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by ALL DEALERS.

PASTURE FOR RENT. Will pasture your cows and yearlings from now till Nov. 15th at 15 cents per head per month. A. A. and C. C. Rogers.

THREE WAYS TO BUY CLOTES

- 1. You may go to a custom tailor and have them made to order. You have delays, "try-ons," you don't know what you are going to get; and if he's a cheap tailor—$25, $30 or $40—you don't get much.
2. You may pick out a piece of cloth from a book of samples, send your specifications away somewhere, and wait. If the suit "makes up" as you expected, if it is trimmed as you hoped, if it fits as you want it to you're lucky.
3. You may come to us for Hart, Schaffner and Marx clothes; see them ready, not merely a piece of cloth; see how they look on you, not in an illustration or on a dummy figure; see the linings and trimmings, not merely words about them, see how the suit fits before you buy, not after; see if its becoming to you, not just guess at it and take only a few minutes of your time.

This third way is right; you pay less than in 1, and get more than in 2. As a demonstration of it, ask us to show you one of our suits at $18

Williams-Belk Co. This Store is the home of Hart, Schaffner & Marx Clothes.
