HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side. The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair. At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without my crutches, and am doing all my work. If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has cardui for you. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

FRIDAY - November 5, 1915

LOCAL BRIEFS

Mr. R. E. Bryant, of Surry county, spent a few days in Lee county last week prospecting for lead. The County Commissioners held their regular monthly meeting Monday. Only routine business was transacted. Lee County Superior Court will open next Monday with Judge Devia presiding and will last one week. It will be a mixed term. A force of men have been busy this week putting in drainage piping along the Southern Railway track next to the embankment on Moore Street. Mrs. Sam Ellington, whose husband recently died at Monroeville, came to Sanford Monday and will make her home with her niece, Mrs. W. H. Makepeace.

We are informed that while on a raid in the Spout Springs section Monday a posse of revenue officers shot up a negro blockader. We failed to get particulars.

Quarterly conference for the Sanford Station was held in Steele Street church last Monday morning by Presiding Elder Gibbs. He found everything in good shape.

Mr. John Reeves, who took a textile course at the Agricultural and Mechanical College, Raleigh, spent the week end with his brother, Mr. Charles Reeves. He expects to go to New York and take a position with a large concern in that city.

The Baraca class of the Presbyterian Sunday School entertained the Philistines at the home of Mr. H. M. Williams on Hawkins Avenue Monday night. The Halloween season was observed and all enjoyed the amusements of the evening.

Prof. C. E. Teague went to Randolph county last week to attend the funeral of his uncle, Mr. Francis Teague, who died in the hospital at High Point the Sunday before. Mr. Teague died at the age of 64 years and is survived by his wife and five children.

The Philistines class of the Baptist Sunday School gave a Halloween party at the home of Mrs. Marion Vestal on Steele Street Monday night for the benefit of the church. A large number of young people were present and enjoyed the amusements of the evening which were appropriate to Halloween season. A nice little sum was realized.

Mr. R. G. Hanson, Jr., of Asheville, who holds a position as immigration agent in the industrial and agricultural department of the Southern Railway, was in Sanford Thursday. He was impressed with the spirit of progress in Sanford and Lee county. He came to this office and arranged to have The Express sent to his department of the road so that it can keep posted on the developments and improvements being made in Sanford and this county.

Wake, as well as Lee county, is confronted with the problem of how to keep its improved highways in repair. Last week while on a trip through that county we noticed that some of the improved roads were in bad shape, going to pieces for lack of attention. The roads around Raleigh are about as good as the improved highways of this county, but a few miles out from that city much of the surface has been washed off and one finds it very rough traveling over the roads. They are not so wide as the roads in this county and were built without much grading. This makes the surface easy to wash away. Wide well graded roads will stand the wear and tear of travel much better than narrow ones built on the surface.

The Board of Highway Commissioners at their meeting Monday ordered that the short link of road connecting Chatham Street with the road leading by the court house to Jonesboro be built. This link is only 200 or 300 yards long and connects with Chatham street at the railroad crossing in front of the home of Mrs. Lizzie Alcott. At almost every meeting of the commissioners citizens of the county appear before them and ask that they be permitted, at their own expense, to build short roads leading out from the main highways through certain sections, these roads to be surveyed by the highway engineer. The commissioners decided Monday to have these surveys made so that the proposed roads can be built. A survey will be made for a road from Trampusy to Center Station church. Mr. D. A. Cole has already built about one mile of this road, and it is in good shape, too. A road will also be surveyed and built from Lemon Springs to Swan Station, and one from Swan Station to Cox's mill. Citizens in other sections of the county are planning to build short roads. In doing this the farmers show a progressive spirit. They realize the advantages offered by good roads and are determined to have them even at their own expense. The county should make provision to keep these roads up.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Underwood, together with a number of friends, made a trip to Mr. Harpe's farm, at Pleasanton, in Harney county, Sunday afternoon in Mr. Underwood's car. We noticed along the way that some of the fields were still white with cotton. Some of the farmers have put in small grain. However, some had not gathered their corn. With the exception of one place just across the line in Harney county, the road between Jonesboro and Pleasanton is in pretty good shape. However, a good dragging after the next rain would improve it. Many good farms could be opened between Little River and "Never Fall Farm." We doubt if there is as much as ten per cent of the land in that section now under cultivation. This is about the per cent of land under cultivation in much of Lee, as well as Harney county. There is room for thousands of good farmers in the two counties. Much of the idle land is as good, if not better, than that that is under cultivation. Mr. Harpe has put down much of the land on his big tobacco farm in rye and will, we are informed, turn it under next spring as a legume. He gathered a large crop of tobacco this year and as much of it is a fine quality he expects to sell it at good prices.

THE COUNTY FAIR.

Program for Thursday and Friday—Aeroplane Flights Both Days.

The Lee County Fair opened Wednesday morning under most favorable circumstances. It was an ideal day for the opening, the weather being clear, cool and bracing. People from all sections of Lee, and from Chatham, Harney, Moore and other counties began to arrive at an early hour and by ten o'clock the streets were thronged with people. The fair was opened by a short and appropriate speech by Congressman R. N. Page, of this district, at the entrance of the Graded School building. The parade, which was composed of a band, marshals, fair officials, school children, corn club boys, floats, carriages and automobiles, was viewed by the people massed on the sidewalks as it moved through the streets. At the conclusion of this part of the program many of the people went to floral hall and to the carnival grounds. Some of the exhibits did not come in until Wednesday morning, but were soon covered and ready for inspection along with the other exhibits. The exhibits are good. In some departments they are better than they were last year. The exhibit by the girls' sewing club of the county is a distinct feature of the fair.

A. C. Beach, a celebrated aviator, who has been secured to make daily flights during the fair, made his first flight in his aeroplane Wednesday afternoon. He took flight from the farm of Mrs. Windell Temple just north of town. All eyes watched the machine as it gracefully circled over the town returning to the starting point. Beach will make another flight this (Thursday) afternoon at 2 o'clock, also tomorrow afternoon at the same hour. Following is the program for the last two days of the fair:

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 4TH—FAIR DAY—EVERYBODY'S DAY. Marshals form at Graded School building at 10:00 o'clock, and headed by brass band march down Steele Street to Wicker Street, up Wicker Street to Chatham Street and up Chatham Street to Floral Hall. Aeroplane flight at 2 o'clock p. m. Races commence at 3:00 o'clock sharp. First Race—Trotting. Second Race—Pacing. Third Race—Mule race, running. Must be ridden by owner.

FRIDAY, NOV. 5—RACES OPEN TO LEE AND ADJOINING COUNTIES. Marshals form at Graded School building and march to race track. Aeroplane flight at 2 o'clock p. m. Races commence at 3:00 o'clock sharp. First Race—Trotting. Second Race—Pacing. Third Race—Mule race, running. Must be ridden by owner.

Death of J. C. Vaughn. Mr. J. C. Vaughn, after an illness of some duration, died at his home near Fayetteville last Sunday. The funeral was held at Camp Ground Church on Monday and was conducted by Rev. L. M. Chaffin and Rev. K. A. McLeod. The following people from Sanford attended the funeral: Mr. J. B. King and Master Claude Vaughn, Messrs. A. P. King, D. D. Seymour, J. P. Seymour, J. H. Wicker and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. McLeod.

Mr. Vaughn was born in Wake county April 14th, 1823, and died at the age of 97 years. He married Miss Isabella C. Matthews, daughter of the late Daniel Matthews, Esq., Jan. 26th, 1850. She, with the following children, survives him: John M. Vaughn, T. R. Vaughn and Mrs. Gertriana Vaughn, all of Fayetteville; D. J. Vaughn, of Ardsia, Wyoming; J. W. Vaughn, of Chula, Va., and Mrs. J. B. King, of Sanford. There are eleven grand-children and seven great grand-children.

Mr. Vaughn was one of Cumberland county's best citizens and was held in high esteem by his friends and neighbors.

Memorial For Mr. Hood. It is proposed to erect a Young Woman's Christian Association building in Greensboro as a memorial to R. C. Hood, a prominent business man of that city who was killed recently while hunting. Four men have offered to give $11,000 and a sufficient sum will probably be raised.

During his lifetime Mr. Hood had expressed disapproval of the custom of spending so much money for flowers at funerals. He thought the money thus spent could serve a better purpose and asked that no money be spent for flowers when he died. His wish was respected and out of the incident grew the idea of a memorial of service in honor of him.—Stateville Landmark.

Mr. Hood was among the first people to suggest the improvement of the embankment between Moore street and the Union station in Sanford. In making the improvement the Civic League has followed the suggestions made by this patriotic North Carolinian who had the interest of the entire State at heart.

Death of B. I. Holding. Mr. B. I. Holding, who had been in declining health since last March, died in Wake county last Friday morning. A large concourse of friends and neighbors of the deceased attended the funeral which was held on Saturday morning. Mr. and Mrs. P. H. St. Clair and little son, Ducon, attended from this place. The interment was made in the family burying ground near Wake Forest.

Mr. Holding was 65 years of age Monday of last week having been born Oct. 25, 1850. He was married to Miss Ellen Frances McGhee, of Franklin county, July 22, 1869. To this union were born six children, five of whom survive. They are: Mr. C. Y. Holding and Mrs. Isaac Fort, of Wake Forest; Mr. W. H. Holding, of Raleigh; Mrs. P. H. St. Clair, of Sanford, and Mrs. E. J. Holdingworth, of Norfolk, Va. Mrs. Holding died Aug. 24th, 1907. Before his health failed Mr. Holding was one of the leading and most successful farmers in Wake county. He was a member of one of the most prominent and influential families in that county and numbered among his acquaintances many friends.

Deputy Sheriff Nicholson and Marshal Groce, of Jonesboro, captured four gallons of liquor in the woods near Mr. G. E. Smith's farm Tuesday night. The negro who owned the liquor made his escape.

VISITORS AND OTHERS.

Personal Mention of People and Their Movements.

Miss Flora Ray made a trip to Carthage last week. Dr. Gilbert McLeod, of Carthage, was in Sanford Tuesday. Mrs. Frank Daniels, of Swansboro, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Jones. Mrs. W. W. Jordan and three children, of Mullens, S. C., are visiting her mother, Mrs. J. F. Rivers.
