THE MESSAGE.

President Wilson's Clearly Defined Remedies for Evil of High Prices.

The President promises—Sell at cost surplus food and clothing in hands of the government.

Limit wheat exports. Remove supplies from storage and put them on the market.

Prosecute traders who seek to control supplies and prices. Expose profiteering retailers.

WHAT HE ASKS CONGRESS TO DO.

Extend life of the present food control act and include other commodities.

Exclude goods from interstate commerce if law is not complied with.

Impose a penalty for profiteering.

Limit the period during which goods may be kept in cold storage.

Require that price at which goods were placed in storage be marked on them.

Require that all goods destined for interstate commerce shall be marked with the price at which they left the hands of the producer.

License and regulate corporations engaged in interstate commerce to prevent "unconscionable prices."

WHAT HE EXPECTS OF THE PEOPLE.

"We of all peoples can afford to keep our heads and to determine upon moderate and sensible courses of action which will insure us against the passions and distempers which are working such deep unhappiness for some of the distressed nations on the other side of the sea. But we may be involved in their distress unless we help with energy and intelligence.

"We must face the fact that unless we help Europe to get back to her normal life and production a chaos will ensue there which will be a disaster to this country. For the present, it is manifest, we must quicken, not slacken, our production. We, and we almost alone, now hold the world steady. Upon our steadfastness and self-possession depend the affairs of nations everywhere. It is in this supreme crisis—that America must prove her mettle. In the presence of a world confused, distracted, she must show herself self-possessed, self-contained, capable of sober and effective action.

"Passion and a disregard for the rights of others have no place in the counsels of a free people. We need light, not heat, in these solemn times of self-examination and saving action. There must be no threats. Let there be only intelligent counsel and let the best reasons win, not the strongest brute force.

"I appeal with entire confidence to our producers, our middlemen and merchants to deal fairly with the people. It is their opportunity to show that they comprehend, that they intend to act justly, and that they have the public interest sincerely at heart. And I have no doubt that housekeepers all over the country, and every one who buys the things he daily stands in need of will presently exercise a greater vigilance, a more thoughtful economy, a more discriminating care as to the market in which he buys or the merchant with whom he trades than he has hitherto exercised.

"I believe, too, that the more extreme leaders of organized labor will presently yield to a sober second thought, and, like the great mass of their associates, think and act like true Americans."

Less Than 100,000 Overseas.

General Pershing cables the War Department that on July 31 a total of 98,497 troops still were overseas. Except for about 1,000 these troops scattered through the American areas in Europe.

Those in England on that date were 219; in North Russia 44; north Russia forces on route to Brest 780.

Of the marine corps there remained 857 men and 29 officers, and of the army 92,448 men and 8,788 officers. Nurses numbering 910 and army field clerks, 630, completed the list.

Andrew Carnegie, steel maker and philanthropist, died yesterday morning at his summer home at Lenox, Mass., of bronchial pneumonia.

SANFORD CITY SCHOOLS

Open September Third—Twenty Teachers.

The Sanford Graded Schools will open for the fall term Wednesday, September 3rd. All pupils from Lenox county, who enter the high school, will be given free tuition. It is desired by Superintendent C. E. Teague that all pupils who will be in attendance from outside the school district notify him at once. All children should enter the first day. Mr. Teague is at a loss to know how to furnish accommodations for pupils who live outside the school district and who will have to board and room here during the five school days of the week. He is unable to find an available building that can be used as a dormitory. It will be difficult to get board on boarding houses or in private homes at low rates. In fact it is going to be hard to get it at all. Mr. Teague suggests that the county buy auto trucks and bring the children from their homes to school and carry them back at the close of school hours. These trucks could be run according to schedule and pick up the children at certain points on the main highways. We believe this is done in some parts of the country.

Ten new teachers have been selected to fill vacancies in the school faculty which is now complete. They are: Mrs. Mary Paschal, of Stier City; Mrs. E. E. Eohler, of Sanford; Miss Mary Spangh, of Mt. Airy; Miss Pauline Whitsont, of Hook Hill; S. C. Miss Nellie Rosier, of Virginia; Miss Alice Taylor, of Stovall; Miss Edwina King, of Wilmington; Miss Ruth White of Stovall; Miss Margaret Tabor, of Morganton; and Mr. J. S. Truitt, of Sumnerfield. Miss Paschal was educated at the North Carolina College for Women; Mrs. Eohler, North Carolina College for Women; Miss Spangh, Asheville Normal School; Miss Whitsont, Winston College; Miss Rosier, Bickstone College; Miss Taylor, Lenoir College; Miss King, Greensboro College; Mr. Truitt, Blue College.

Misses Addie and Josephine St. Clair will teach the 1st grade; Mrs. C. C. Cheek and Miss Lela Russell, 2nd grade; Misses Maude Holmes and Ma Paschal, 3rd grade; Mrs. Eohler and Miss Carrie Howard, Principal of the West Sanford School, 4th grade; Miss Pearl Temple and Mrs. J. L. Gilmore, 5th grade; Misses Mary Spangh and Pauline Whitsont, 6th grade; Miss Nellie Rosier, 7th grade. High School teachers: Misses Edwina King, Mary Spangh, and Mr. Truitt, Principal.

Twenty-fourth Century Women's Club.

Under the direction of Mrs. L. Floyd of Atlanta, and Mrs. Jean E. Lecky, of Lexington, Ky., State organizers for North Carolina, a mother's club was organized at Sanford on Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 12th. The first regular meeting of the club will be held in the Auditorium of the West Sanford Graded School at 4:30 p. m. September 5.

This club is a part of a national organization and is represented in almost every State in the Union. The mothers of Sanford realize that the children to be born to them will face the great problems of the town, State and nation. With this realization comes the desire to promote every phase of our civic life that relates to the physical, mental and spiritual development of the children in Sanford.

The club programs represent the best work of the leading men and women of our day in child welfare.

With Mrs. Floyd acting as chairman and Mrs. Lecky as secretary, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. J. U. Cure Your Tobacco Bright.

It is reported that in some parts of the State there has been a loss of thousands of pounds of tobacco caused by the recent heavy rains. While there has been some loss in this section, yet it has not been great as in some other parts of the tobacco belt. The planters in this section are now busy gathering and curing their crop and there is going to be some beautiful bright tobacco put on the Sanford market this fall.

Col. John S. Cunningham, of Durham, who has much experience in growing tobacco, advises the tobacco planters to cut their tobacco ripe and to be sure to cure it bright. The bright types, according to reports which have come to him, are now selling in South Carolina at over thirty cents the pound. The dark and inferior grades are not selling so well. Let the planters of Lee county save samples of their best grades of tobacco so that they can be exhibited at the State Fair in October. We understand the fair offers very attractive premiums for tobacco. A good exhibit at the State Fair would do much to advertise Lee county as a tobacco growing section. It is hoped to have a general agricultural exhibit from this county at the fair this fall and the tobacco can go along with it.

Get Vaccinated Against Typhoid.

While Dr. Esvander Melver has vaccinated many people against typhoid fever at his appointments in this county, there are many others that ought to be vaccinated so as to eradicate this disease among our people.

Typhoid vaccination is the cheapest insurance that a man can get. It costs him absolutely nothing, his county and State are paying for it; in other words he has paid for it already in paying his taxes. It gives him almost absolute insurance against typhoid fever, regardless of his surroundings, for four years and some insurance against typhoid fever for life time. And it does not take it and within the next four years somebody hauls his or her wife to the cemetery dead of typhoid fever, a death that he could have easily prevented—by vaccination, free vaccination, too. What about the question of moral responsibility? "Thou shalt not kill," the fifth great civil law, covers both homicide and suicide; includes killing your neighbor, killing a member of your family, or killing yourself by an act of omission, such as a gun or a knife or a stick, or an act of omission, original or secondary in declining to be vaccinated against typhoid fever when the opportunity was presented at your very doors.
