Lee Superior Court Adjourns After Two Weeks' Term

After a two weeks' term Lee Superior Court adjourned last Saturday morning without having finished the civil docket. This was, we believe, the first time in the history of Lee county that it required a week to dispose of the criminal docket. It generally takes about two days to try the criminal cases. As so much of the time of the court was taken up in handling the criminal cases it was impossible to reach all the civil cases in the limited time.

Only one civil case of much importance came up for a hearing, the Sule McKay will case. The court was two or three days in hearing the evidence in this case, and after deliberating for 18 hours the jury failed to agree. Under the circumstances there was nothing that the judge could do but order a mistrial and have the case heard again.

Judge C. C. Lyon, who presided, was fair and impartial in his rulings and made many friends among our people. While he is a judge of a deliberative mind, yet he succeeds in dispatching a raft of business in a given time. Judge Lyon will hold a one-week civil term of court here beginning May 9th.

Sheriff Rosser Brings in Two More Stills, Making Twenty-Two in All

Sheriff Rosser continues to let the blockaders know that he is still on the job and doing business at the "same old stand." Accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Groce he went into the St. Andrews section and captured a still of 40 gallons capacity. The cap and "worm" were of copper. The still was in operation the day before, but no one was present when the officers made the raid. They poured out 300 gallons of beer and brought the outfit to the court house.

The next day, Tuesday, Sheriff Rosser and Deputy Sheriff McBryde, while on a raid captured a still of about 40 gallons capacity two miles east of Cameron near the home of Mr. J. D. McLaurin. The still had been removed from the furnace and the officers found the owner away on other business. A number of barrels were destroyed and when the blockader returned he found that the still had disappeared during his absence. If Sheriff Rosser were to permit him to "take a look" in the jail he would no doubt recognize it among other outfits of a similar kind.

This makes 22 stills that Sheriff Rosser and his deputies have captured since he assumed the duties of that office. All except the last four or five captured have been reduced to junk. Had this not been done, and at the rate Sheriff Rosser and his deputies are now capturing stills, it would soon become necessary to enlarge the jail to make room for them.

Miss Pauline Allred, of Rainsau, came down this week to see Mr. J. W. Stout, who has been sick for the past few days. His many friends will be glad to learn his condition is much improved.

EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN

Methodists Meet Here and Perfect Plans to Raise Money for Support of Schools and Colleges

The Methodists of half the Fayetteville district met in the Steele Street Methodist church of this place Tuesday for the purpose of perfecting the working of their organization for big educational campaigns, which they will pull off the latter part of May and the first of June. The other half of the district is meeting in Fayetteville for the same purpose.

Practically every charge in this part of the district was well represented in the Sanford meeting and there were evidences that the campaign is already "warming up" in this section. Most of the charges seem to be organized and ready to get down to business. The ladies served a bounteous lunch in the church at the noon hour.

Besides the presiding elder, Rev. J. D. Bundy, of Fayetteville, Dr. Harry M. North, the education secretary for the Conference, Mr. S. W. Marr, Raleigh, the financial secretary of the Conference, Prof. S. N. Aldridge, of Trinity Park School, Durham, chairman, of the miscite men of the Conference, and Mr. A. A. McDonald, Lillington, financial secretary of the district, were present and made district contributions to the conference by throwing light on different phases and problems of the campaign.

Despite the stringency in money matters at present, the leaders of the campaign seem to be confident that they will be put over in great shape, that the North Carolina Conference will come up with her part of the $33,000,000 for educational purposes during the next five years, which is $1,323,000. The terms on which the pledges to the campaign are made are rather elastic in order to meet the many contingencies that may arise.

The schools that are to share in the benefits accruing from the campaign are Trinity College and Trinity Park School, Lenoir College, Greensboro College for Women, Carolina, Marion College, and the University of North Carolina.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT SOUTHERN PINES

Southern Pines, April 13.—A fire originating about 2 o'clock this morning, supposedly from the heating plant of the Perkins hotel of Windham's land office, wiped out the major portion of the town. The main block of the town, Mrs. H. H. Perkins, owned by H. R. Wiley, J. V. Perkins, H. A. Lewis, and J. Reynolds, was partially covered by insurance. There was little saved. The telephone operator, Miss Eva Payne, stayed by the phone, sending out warnings, while the rear building burned. She was removed at last by force. The Southern Pines, Pinehurst and Carthage fire departments rendered heroic service.

Dr. W. P. Swett, a well known physician, died of heart failure while arousing inmates of the Southern hotel. Mr. Ferguson, of Pinehurst, was injured while fighting the flames.

Howe's jewelry store, Lewis' market, Home Furnishing Company, Perkins hotel, Windham's land office, Eddy's art studio and Thomas Cameron's clothes shop were the principal business concerns destroyed.

A TRAVELING LEGION POST

Maintaining contact with the main body of the American Legion by native runners, the traveling post of the Legion is today moving through the jungles of Portuguese West Africa. The post is the first on the Dark Continent and its establishment leaves Australia as the only continent which has not been penetrated by the Legion. Twenty-three explorers for oil, headed by Robert H. Wamsley, fell out of Loanda, Angola and it was discovered that 11 of the number were ex-servicemen.

Wamsley communicated with Akron, O. Post of the Legion, which arranged to obtain the necessary papers from National Headquarters to establish the Africa post. The explorers will remain in the wilds for three years.

MEETING OF NURSES

A meeting of the Seventh District Nurses' Association was held in the Commercial Club rooms in this place on April 5th. There were about 40 nurses present. Miss A. E. Kelly, of Fayetteville, is president of the association, and Miss Pearl Smith, superintendent of the Central Carolina Hospital, of this place, vice president.

The principal thing discussed was how to organize the nurses into a society similar to the medical society. Dr. I. B. McBrayer, superintendent of the State Sanatorium at Montrose, was present and made a very interesting address to the nurses on this subject.

BASEBALL

In a game Thursday featured by heavy hitting of the Sanford team, the locals won from the Bontee high by the score of 11 to 9. The game was won in the ninth inning with two men on base. Pitcher Rosser hit a scorching liner to center, freeing two men. Davis of the local team, also did well.

The Carthage alphas defeated the Sanford highs by a score of 14 to 6 in a hard fought game at Carthage last Tuesday. The two teams played here Saturday, Carthage winning by a score of 12 to 3.

JOE W. STOUT

Inherits From One Who Knew Him When a Boy in Randolph County

Twenty odd years ago there was a young man, a mere lad then, clerking for the late W. J. Miller in his general store at Asheboro. He was from Columbia township, a son of one of the best citizens of that township, J. A. Stout. He started then at the customary salary paid for such work about what an ordinary clerk now-a-days would get and burst up in high priced cigars like some of our young fellows, smoke who do not try to meet their bills when due. Young Stout was not afraid of work and he saw money for him working in the shade at a small salary when he could learn to lay brick and earn more in two days than keeping store for a week.

So to brick laying he devoted himself and took advantage of every opportunity. It was not long, however, that he had learned so much about building he not only could build any kind of a brick building, but could build anybody could build.

Stout became a contractor, and had the following which recently appeared in the Sanford Express about one young man who was not afraid to work, who went to Sanford, N. C., several years ago and is one of the most if not the most influential business men in that section of the state:

The stockholders of J. W. Stout & Company, Contractors, held their annual meeting in the offices of the company here last Saturday. All stock was represented. The report showed that last year the company did a larger amount of business than during any previous year in the history of the concern, the figures representing about one million dollars. The first seven months of this year the company turned about $500,000.00 in business to the banks of Sanford. Ninety per cent of these funds came in from the outside. They now have three-quarters of a million dollars worth of work under construction and are figuring on other contracts. This company opened an office and started business here some time ago on a very small scale, but is now one of the leading contractors of its kind in the South. This office is doing much for the building of Sanford.

Mr. W. E. Lane, secretary and general manager of J. W. Stout is the chief stockholder. His brother, J. Roy Stout, of Columbia township, has gone to Smithfield, N. C., to superintend the building of a new court house there by Stout & Company.—Asheboro Courier.

Dr. W. P. Swett, a well known physician, died of heart failure while arousing inmates of the Southern hotel. Mr. Ferguson, of Pinehurst, was injured while fighting the flames.

Howe's jewelry store, Lewis' market, Home Furnishing Company, Perkins hotel, Windham's land office, Eddy's art studio and Thomas Cameron's clothes shop were the principal business concerns destroyed.
