You've heard of C. O. D., and F. O. B. and C. F. F. but now comes something that means real service—
AT YOUR DOOR
When you buy OVERSIZE and ANDE Fertilizers from us or our dealers to be delivered from the mill, you get at your door delivery.
We have arranged with trucks to deliver within fifteen or twenty miles of Sanford on reasonably good roads our Fertilizer at the same cost that the railroads would charge to carry to your nearest railroad station. This is service which costs neither you nor us anything extra, but delivers the goods at your door
All we ask is that the roads be so that the trucks can deliver without delay and that your load be enough to make the trip.
In addition to all of this you get OVERSIZE and ANDE Quality which is something worth considering when you are buying fertilizers.

WIN A PRIZE
$20,000.00 Slogan Contest to Describe Victory Six Performance.
A nation-wide contest to find the best slogan that describes the performance of the new Victory Six car of Dodge Brothers, Inc., was launched March 1st, through the organization of more than 4,500 direct and associate dealers of the company. A total of 708 prizes amounting to $20,000 has been offered, the contest closing at midnight, March thirty-first.
For the person who submits the first slogan of ten words or less in length, a cash prize of $1,000 will be given by Dodge Brothers. The slogan must describe the performance of the car from impressions obtained in driving or riding in the new Victory Six. The lower center of gravity of the Victory car, the powerful flexible motor, the ease of riding and the feeling of safety in the battleship type of body construction are features which may suggest the winning slogan.
A second prize of $500 is offered in the contest, and in the event of a tie the full award will be given to each tying contestant. There are two third place prizes of $250 each; twenty fourth place prizes of $100 each; thirty fifth place prizes of $50 each; 100 sixth place prizes of $10 each. Any one is eligible for this contest, except employees of Dodge Brothers, or their dealers, service stations or the relatives of such employees.
According to rules of the contest, it is necessary to be a car owner to compete. The winning slogan must be submitted by a person who has received a demonstration in a Victory Six. The contest is open to owners of any make of car as well as the owners of Dodge Brothers cars. All that is necessary is for the person entering the contest to apply to the nearest Dodge Brothers dealer for a demonstration card which contains contest rules in detail, and on which the slogan must be written. Contestant may submit any number of slogans, but all must be mailed to Contest Editor, Dodge Brothers, Inc., before midnight, March 31st.
Judges of the contest are: E. G. Wilmer, president of Dodge Brothers, Inc.; John R. Lee, general sales manager, and H. J. New, and W. M. Purvis, assistant sales managers. The decision of the judges will be final.

MANY DIVORCES ARE FOUND ILLEGAL
Asheville — One hundred and thirty-two divorces were granted in Buncombe county since 1900, and on the strength of which many of the persons have married again, are invalid and technically without standing in the eyes of the law, it was disclosed Saturday in records of the Superior Court.
The invalidity of these divorces arises from non-payment of court costs in the cases. Under the laws of North Carolina a divorce decree is not in effect until all costs have been paid. This law holds even in cases where the court has decided in favor of granting a divorce and the judgment has been signed by the presiding judge, for the bill of costs must be satisfied in full before the verdict of the jury or the decree of the judge legally becomes affective and valid.
In the 132 invalid divorces on file in the office of the clerk of Buncombe Superior Court, the fault in the failure to pay costs and make the divorce effective has sometimes been on the part of the attorneys and sometime on the part of the parties in the case. The non-payment sometimes has been the result of neglect and sometimes of ignorance, deputies in the clerk's office explained Saturday.
Regardless of why the costs in the 132 invalid Buncombe divorces were not paid, persons involved who have remarried are technically and legally if not morally, guilty of bigamy. Many "bigamists" unaware of their predicament, are living in Buncombe county, the records indicated. The situation is at once ridiculous and serious because although the unwitting bigamist undoubtedly had no intention of violating the law, they technically are liable to indictment should anyone want them indicted. Some of them are dead and some have grown children.
Of course, all these persons whose divorces are mere counterfeits have not remarried but should they desire to do so they might be embarrassed by being confronted with the announcement that they are not divorced, however much they might think so.
(There are parties in Lee county who have obtained divorces but the costs remain unpaid. According to what is said above, they are not legally divorced and without a legal divorce they cannot legally marry again, should they wish to do so.—Express.)

PARKER WARNING TOBACCO FARMERS ABOUT NEXT CROP
Lee county tobacco growers who are now turning their thoughts toward tobacco seed beds for the 1928 crop, will perhaps be interested in the comment of Frank Parker, agricultural statistician of the crop reporting service of the State and Federal Department of Agriculture, on last year's crop. Mr. Parker warns of the danger of over production in the following manner:
"The tobacco crop record has been broken for the bright leaf type. North Carolina did the deed this season with the probable production of over 486,000,000 pounds. The cigarette crop probably also made a record. At an average price of 23 cents, the crop brought to the farmers over $111,000,000 or about $1200 to the average of 79,000 tobacco farm owners.
"With an average yield of 720 pounds of leaf tobacco for the past season, the return was $165 per acre. This compares with about $51 for cotton. This tells the story of why Georgia has gone tobacco crazy. It also tells why the farmers from Virginia to Florida will put in a greater record crop in 1928. That they will be disappointed in the price received is easily anticipated. The supply will probably be greater than the demand.
"Kentucky twice made more tobacco than North Carolina has just disposed of. The record year was 512,000,000 pounds in 1914. It was in 1920 when North Carolina went west, with 433,000,000 pounds—the record until now. The Tar Heel's crop is now about twice that of Kentucky.
"That there were several markets that sold twice as much tobacco as during the preceding season is significant. Five markets sold more than 35,000,000 pounds. Winston-Salem, Oxford and Henderson of the old belt made, notable increases in their sales. Tarboro, Rocky Mount and Greenville made the largest increases in the new belt excepting markets closed in January."

LOWER PRICES SECURED ON SCHOOL BOOKS
Only in two subjects are the adopted public school books changed for the 1928-1929 school year. These are the Healthy Living series and the language series, some four or five books in all, scattered over several grades.
In families where there are several children in school the practice of handing books down from one child to another amounts to a considerable saving. For the most part this can be continued next year, it is pointed out, since only a small per cent of the total number of books have been changed by the State department of Education.
Below will be found a list of the newly adopted books and prices, as reprinted from a story sent out from Raleigh. Small reductions are made in most of these prices from the adopted prices formerly prevailing. However, a goodly number of these reductions are not actually in effect, it is pointed out, as some reductions were agreed upon several months ago.
The State Board of Education Thursday announced a list of 57 books adopted by it at reduced prices for school children of the State.
The books will be used for from one to five year periods. The language and health are the only ones to be used for five years. They were newly adopted. Of the 57 books adopted, all but eight may be bought at a cheaper contract retail price than the retail price of August 1, 1926, or before the adoption.
One new feature in all the contracts for distribution of elementary books is the provision that county and city boards of education may purchase the books direct from the publishers at wholesale price, f. o. b., the publisher's nearest point or points of shipment.
"This makes it both possible and feasible for such bodies to set up their own depositories." Superintendent A. T. Allen, of Public Instruction, member of the board, said. "They will also be at liberty to sell the books to the patrons at cost by absorbing in the school budget the handling charges. Or, if they prefer, they may retain the retail profits to cover the cost of distribution. It is within the power of the local boards to make a considerable reduction to the patrons by absorbing the cost of local distribution."
Mr. Allen said the prices obtained are as low as the prices in any other state except in cases where boards of education absorb the local distribution charges. He added that the State Board made every effort known to it to secure the lowest possible retail prices to the children, and that it was found that a better price could be obtained from a majority of the companies on a retail basis through a central depository.
The following books were adopted, contracts signed, at these prices:
Arithmetic, First Journeys in Numberland .45; School Arithmetic .56 and .59; History .74, 1.05, .97 and .75; Language .51 and .58; Geography 1.21 and 1.69; Literature .40, .44, .43 and .53; Child's World .40, .45, .59 and .55; Studies in Reading .67, .70, and .74; Spelling .37, .31; Music .59, .63, and .62; Hollis Dunn Music .66, .45, .62, .62, .87 and 1.04; Science 1.00; Health .63 and .69; Civic 1.03; Writing .09, .18, .13 and .19; Drawing .25, .34, and .19.
All the books show reductions from the retail prices of 1926 except arithmetic, history of U. S. First and Second Readers and science books which prices were the same.
