THIRTY CARS PEACHES SHIPPED OVER ATLANTIC AND WESTERN

Many People Visit Orchards and Return Home Loaded With Fruit—Prices Not Satisfactory to Growers.

The movement of the main crop of peaches from the Sandhill region of Lee, Harnett, More and Richmond counties began the last week in July and will continue till after the middle of August. Georgia Belles, Elbertas and Haies are the principal varieties on the market at this time. The growers in the sandhills are issuing invitations to the public to visit the orchards and get their canning fruit. If we are to judge by the number of cars going through Sanford from all parts of the state carrying one or more bushels of peaches, they are accepting this invitation. Many trucks loaded with peaches also pass through almost every hour of the day.

The Express is informed that hundreds of bushels of inferior peaches have been hauled to the woods and buried by some of the orchardists in Moore county. Some of these are not even fit for canning.

Up to Tuesday 30 car loads of peaches were shipped over the Atlantic and Western Railway from lower Lee and upper Harnett and delivered to other roads for the Northern markets. One car load was shipped out Tuesday from the orchard of Solicitor C. L. Williams near Jonesboro and the other 29 cars were from orchards near Lillington. Some of the best peaches raised in Harnett brought $1.50 per crate last week. Some of the best peaches raised in the county were from the orchards in Harnett county. As about half of the crop has been gathered, it is expected that 60 cars will be shipped over the Atlantic and Western. Four cars were shipped from the orchard of L. P. Wilkins last week. Other cars are going north from his orchard this week. He has some of the best peaches raised in the peach belt and will no doubt get the best prices offered. A peach man who has followed the crop through Florida, Georgia and North Carolina, says the best peaches he has found this year were raised in Lee and Harnett counties.

A peach dealer who bought a crop of about 800 bushels of peaches from an orchardist in Moore county, is selling them at 25c a bushel on the trees. He has lost big money. As the Georgia peaches have about all been shipped it is thought that the market will advance in a few days and that the North Carolina growers will get better prices for the crop.

Ten cases were tried in the Recorder's Court Monday.

Ten cases were tried in the Recorder's Court at the court House last Monday. Most of these were petty cases and fines and court costs were imposed as punishment. One or two were given road sentences. This makes 40 cases tried at the three sessions of the recorder's court held. So far the fines have paid the expenses of holding the court. It is thought that with a recorder's court every Monday the jail can be kept clear of prisoners and the criminal dockets for the Superior Court will be light.

HIGH SCHOOL BOY CROSSES CONTINENT.

Richard Street, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Street, of Sanford, who graduated from the Sanford High School with the class of 1928, and who is less than 18 years old, has just recently made a trip by automobile across the United States and is now at his uncle's Mr. R. W. Street, Los Angeles, Cal. He writes back to his parents and friends interesting experiences of his 15 day trip across the continent. On his way he shared his limited finances with companions with whom he traveled, going 700 miles in a single day and night with one party. Three trying days across the desert area, on which the heat was so intense his lips became parched and swollen, brought about abundant homesickness, but with Lindberg grit, he pushed on to the Pacific coast. Who can dare predict what a boy can do, or will do?

Recent Bride Honored by Mrs. McCormick.

A charming compliment to Mrs. R. E. Carrington, Jr., a recent lovely bride, was the elaborate bridge party given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Austin McCormick.

The broad veranda and spacious reception rooms were massed with summer flowers in the colors of yellow and white, golden glow and white hydrangeas predominating. The guests were cordially greeted by the hostess and presented to the honor guest. Refreshing punch was dispensed by Misses Elizabeth McCormick and Helen Judd, and tallies were passed by Mrs. A. M. Hubbard.

A number of spirited progressions ensued. High score prize, two handsome decks of cards, was won by Mrs. E. A. Griffin, and second score, prize, a box of bath salts, by Mrs. W. M. Quick. To Mrs. Carrington the hostess presented a cold meat fork in her wedding pattern. Assisted by Mesdames D. M. Gurley, F. B. Van Sant, Lee Duckens and Misses Marie and Julia Mae Edwards, the hostess served a delicious ice course in yellow and white, the favors being yellow baskets of salted nuts.

OLD BRICK BUILDINGS

Places Where Flourishing Business Was Conducted in Former Years.

The Scott old building on the corner of Wicker and Moore streets, which was remodeled a few years ago, the Weatherspoon building, at the foot of Hawkins Avenue, the building in which the Express is published, on Charlotte Avenue, and the Sanford Cotton Mill building and company store are the five oldest brick buildings in Sanford. They were constructed at a time when there were very few brick manufactured in this section. In fact back in those days there was only one brick mill in or near Sanford. Now there are some five or six brick manufacturing plants within a few miles of Sanford. These plants have the reputation of making a good brick as can be manufactured in North Carolina. The Express is informed that they sell the brick about as fast as they can make them. They have the best clay or shale that can be found in the State for making brick.

Last week The Express stated that the Weatherspoon old building had been leased by James Riley for a term of years and would be converted into a filling station, paint shop and storage building. We understand Mr. Riley expects to make the second story of the building a rooming house.

This was the second brick building constructed in Sanford and for a number of years was owned by the late firm of McPherson & Weather- spoon, who, at one time did a big dry goods business in Sanford. It was one of the best known firms in this part of the State. This firm did a flourishing business here at the time the foundation was being laid for greater Sanford. Various activities have been carried on in this building since its original owners quit business. It was considered the best store building in this section 30 years ago. The floor was taken up in the main part of the building the first of the week and the work of remodeling the structure will be pushed to completion.

The 118th Artillery which was organized in this place a few months ago with Dan B. King as captain, will leave with about 60 men in ranks for camp next Sunday morning. The company is equipped and in good shape and it is expected that it will make a good showing at Fort Bragg during the two weeks that it will be in camp. Three of the heavy guns have been sent and the fourth one will be carried along with the camp equipments. These guns will be used for drilling and target practice by the regiment of which the Sanford unit is a part.

This will be a new and novel experience for many members of the Sanford unit who have never seen military service.

THE BOY SCOUTS BANQUET KIWANIAN'S

A Most Delightful Evening Spent at Camp Near the Cape Fear River — Boy Scouts Awarded Honors at Camp — Second Period Brought to a Close — Third Period of Two Weeks Now Being Held — Following This Period Camp Fire Girls Will be in Camp for a Period of One Week.

With the entertaining of the Kiwanis Club of Sanford at a banquet Friday night the second period at Lanuki, summer camp of the Walter Hines Page Council of Boy Scouts, were brought to a successful close.

J. H. Gillon, Jr., council executive, gave the Kiwanians a welcome while P. H. St. Clair, of Sanford, made the response. J. W. Gilliam told of the work done thus far by the camp and of the need for new equipment and cooperation on the part of the people of Sanford. A singing duel with the Kiwanians matched against the scouts was a feature of the program.

After the banquet at the regular camp fire program, eight scouts were tapped by the masked representative of Filis D'Honneur Honor Club completing a total of eleven scouts tapped during the two week period. The masked figure paced back and forth among the scouts in silence pouncing suddenly upon those chosen for the honor and lifting them from their seat around the circle. At present there are eleven scouts from the council wearing the emblem of honor. Following the tapping, J. H. Gillon, Jr., presented awards to the boys chosen for this honor.

A scout ballot taken earlier in the afternoon showed John William Brown, of Sanford, honor camper, Young Brown will be given a free period at camp. George Noel, Dunn, was selected as the best all round camper, while among others elected appeared the outstanding members in the various classes and crafts taught at Lanuki.

In the afternoon a special demonstration of life saving and water skiing was presented for the Kiwanians.

Enrollment for this period aggregated 45 boys, the majority hailing from Sanford and Dunn. Patrol No. 2, of Sanford, won inspection honors for the period, with Patrols 1 and 3, also from Sanford, following close seconds.

A water carnival held earlier in the week was won by Patrol 5 of Dunn, with Robert Godwin as high scorer.

John Snipes, of Dunn, won honors in an archery tournament held Thursday. The meet consisted of target shooting and archery-golf. George Noel, of Dunn, took second place.

The staff at Lanuki publishes a daily paper, "The Lanuki Echo," which contains news of the camp and special announcements. The sheet is made up in the style of a regular newspaper and is issued each day at dinner.

Each scout at camp takes three classes in the morning. The afternoons are turned over for passing of scout tests and merit badges, and the recreational period.

At the meeting of the Court of Honor a number of scouts received merit badges and one scout was awarded the rank of second class. Among those receiving badges were: Charles Stevick, Southern Pines; Clarence Hood, George Noel, John Snipes, James Snipes, Robert Godwin, all of Dunn. L. C. Davis, of Sanford, was awarded second class.

Scouts at Lanuki are trained in leathercraft, ropecraft, nature study, swimming, life saving and archery. The camp staff is composed of following: J. H. Gillon, Jr., Sanford, Camp Director; John Mebane, Greensboro, Assistant Camp Director and Camp Fire Programs; M. B. Seawell, Sanford, Archery and Bow-Making; June Gunter, Sanford, Ropecraft; and Hilten (Commodore) Campbell, Swimming and Life Saving. Scout assistants are Charles Stevick, Southern Pines; Joe Wilkins, Sanford; and Clawson Johnson, Sanford.

Camp Fire Programs have consisted of treasure hunts, rope hikes, and supper hikes, minstrel camp circles and games. These programs are held in an open air theatre in the woods.

Five periods in the afternoons are given over to the boys in which to use the canoes and take hikes.

The third period of Lanuki started Monday and will last for two weeks. This is the last period for boys. Immediately following this a period of one week will be turned over to the Camp Fire Girls under their own direction with the aid of the present staff.

POPULAR SPRINGS CHURCH CELEBRATES HUNDREDDTH YEAR

Church Was Organized by Baxter Craven, Founder of Trinity College, Now Duke University.

One hundred years ago, Poplar Springs Methodist church, the mother of all the Methodist churches of this section, was organized by Rev. Braxton Craven, the founder of Trinity College.

Sunday the church celebrated its 100th anniversary. It is located near Sanford. Invitations were extended to all children and grand children and joined by neighbors and friends they came in large numbers to participate in the celebration.

They were varied in age and appearance for some of the children of this mother church are past the three score years and ten and others are mere tots.

But all in all it was a gala occasion, for with joy and pride the old mother church gathered in her arms her descendants from the Methodist churches of Sanford, Jonesboro, Morris Chapel, Broadway, Memphis, Lemon Springs and the dear children who have remained within the gates.

The church was beautifully decorated with a profusion of lovely art flowers. Rev. O. I. Hinson, pastor, acted as master of ceremonies. The address of welcome was made by Paul Kelly, one of the most active members of the institution. Other addresses by both local and distant speakers followed. A special feature of the occasion was two solos exquisitely rendered by Dr. M. L. Mat thews, of Sanford, and a number of selections excellently sung by a male quartette from Asbury.

COTTON FIELD MEETINGS (By E. O. McMahan, County Agent)

There will be a cotton field meeting at Mr. T. M. McDaniel's place near Tramway School House Friday afternoon, August 7th, at 3 o'clock, and every cotton grower in the county is asked to attend this meeting.

Mr. McDaniel is conducting a five-acre cotton demonstration on which he is using a home-mixed fertilizer. We have some interesting results at this demonstration that we would like for every cotton grower to see.

Mr. Frank E. Boys, Southern manager for the Chilean Nitrate of Soda Education Bureau, and former County Agent, of Birmingham, Ala., will be at this meeting to explain the demonstration and discuss cotton growing in general.

We have another cotton demonstration at Mrs. J. N. Martin's in the same community that we want to visit at 4 o'clock, or as soon as the meeting at McDaniel's is over. Mrs. Martin has a variety demonstration and a fertilizer demonstration in the same field.

Cold drinks will be served to all those attending the meetings while they are at McDaniel's place.

ASIT TO NEWMAN ICE AND COAL COMPANY PLANT.

On one of our visits to the Newman Ice and Coal Company plant, Mr. Newman met us at the door smiling—as any ice man should these days—he could not speak enough of the confidence the people here have given him in his business. He is planning to put in another unit this fall to take care of his growing business.

Mr. Newman says, "I am pulling just as hard for Sanford as the people will pull for me."

OFFICERS CAPTURE STILL AND KEG OF LIQUOR

Sheriff Sam Womble, Deputy D. M. Covert and Jailor R. M. Brooks went on a raid last Friday and captured a blockade still in East Sanford township about 2 1/2 miles from Sanford. They failed to get the worm and cap. The still was made of two tin tubs welded together. They found no liquor and the blockader was absent on other business. The officers destroyed three barrels of beer. They brought in the still so that it could be reduced to junk.

The same officers went to the home of Was Carroll, a notorious blockader, who is now serving time on the roads of Durham county, upon the charge of making and selling liquor, and found a keg of liquor 160 steps from his house in West Sanford township last Saturday. The liquor was concealed under a lot of brush and other things. The officers waited for some time for Mrs. Carroll, who was away from home at the time the raid was made, hoping that upon her return they would have an opportunity of searching the house, but she failed to "show up." Her son was at home at the time, but the officers thought it best not to search her house in her absence. During the short time they spent there, 15 people visited the place, each one offering some excuse as to why he visited Mrs. Carroll's at that time. Only 5 of the 15 were negroes.

Sheriff Womble had the liquor brought to the court house and poured into the gutter. Sighs, groans and lamentations went up from those who looked on as our "dry" sheriff staged this demonstration which seemed well nigh unpardonable to them.

DR. McLAUGHLIN TO PREACH HERE NEXT SUNDAY

Rev. Dr. D. N. McLaughlin, of Norfolk, Va., who is spending the month of August with his bride at Vass, will preach at the W. Sanford school building next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Yesterday while pastor of Buffalo and Jonesboro Presbyterian churches Dr. McLaughlin made his home in Sanford, and he is most pleasantly remembered here. He is one of the ablest preachers in the Southern Presbyterian church and there is a treat in store for those who may hear him on this occasion.

DEATH OF LITTLE GORDON R. EDWARDS.

After a brief illness of spinal meningitis Gordon R. Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Edwards, of this place, died in Memorial Hospital at Wilson on July 28th. Born March 21, 1926, he passed away at the tender age of two years, four months and seven days. Everything possible was done by doctors and nurses to restore him to health but to no avail. Two operations were performed in an effort to save his life. He had gone with his parents to visit his grand-mother a few miles from Wilson. The funeral was held and the interment made in the Howard cemetery, at Saratoga.

He was the youngest child by Mr. Edwards' second wife and was a bright interesting boy. He showed a brave spirit in his last hours for one so young. His parents have the sincere sympathy of neighbors and friends in their sad bereavement.

FINE PEACHES IN LEE AND HARNETT

Some of the best peaches put on the Sanford market this year were raised on the Highland Farm, owned by Mr. Sprunt, four miles from Pineview. These peaches were equal to the best peaches raised in the famous Sandhill section of Moore county. Some of the finest peaches raised in the world are grown in the sandy soil of Lee and Harnett counties. Mr. I. P. Wilkins has a reputation for raising as good peaches as are put on the New York market. He received letters in the spring from people in New York stating that the best peaches put on the market of that city last year were raised by him. They were large, of a fine flavor, carefully packed and in good condition when they reached the market. Mr. Wilkins has some very fine peaches this year, and but for the slump in the market would be getting good prices for them.

Mrs. Sarah Boddie and Miss Leah Joddie, of Durham, who have been the guests of Mrs. Paul J. Barringer for several days have returned to their home in Durham accompanied by Mrs. Barringer and children.

Miss Lois Arnette, of Wagram, is visiting Miss Melissa Street.
