Mrs. Carrington Gives Reception.

Having as her honorees two of the season's loveliest brides, her daughter-in-law, Mrs. R. E. Carrington Jr., and her daughter, Mrs. J. S. Burch Jr., Mrs. R. E. Carrington gave one of the summer's largest and most brilliant receptions Friday afternoon at her home on Summit Ave.

The handsome home held all the freshness and beauty of a summer garden, a profusion of flowers and greenery being massed throughout the rooms and verandas. The first and second living rooms, in each of which stood a receiving line, featured a color note of pink, white, and green. The broad brick mantels were screened by banks of greenery used as a background for floor baskets of graceful white flowers, and on the mantel shelves were sprays of long leaf pine with central arrangements of pink gladioli and roses.

The dining room yellow and green were the colors used. Buffet, server, and china cabinet held masses of golden glow and asparagus fern, while the table was exceptionally pretty with its cover of cream lace in the center of which was an artistic mound of golden glow and fern. Very tall yellow tapers stood at the four corners, completing an arrangement of rare charm. The east veranda where punch was served was a bower of luxuriant ferns and summer flowers, and the punch bowl, hidden in greenery was festooned with bunches of purple grapes.

The guests were welcomed at the door by Mesdames J. P. Monroe and Austin McCormick. The first receiving line was stationed in the living room and was composed of Mrs. R. E. Carrington, in powder blue flat crepe and lace; Mrs. R. E. Carrington Jr., in a charming period gown of pink organdie; Miss Bess Lewis, of Whiteville, in pink organdie; Mrs. Edgar Jones, in her handsome wedding gown of white satin trimmed with duchess lace and pearls; Mrs. Herbert Dockery, of Wadesboro, in green georgette; Mrs. Benjamin Wall, of Wadesboro, in black and white flowered georgette; and Mrs. E. C. Heins, in yellow georgette.

Mrs. Lee S. Jones directed the guests to the west veranda, where they were received by Mrs. Chas. G. Hatch and directed to the den. Here Miss Anne Carrington presided over the brides' books. At the door of the second living room Mesdames P. V. Parks and Harold Makepeace received and here the second receiving line stood, composed of Mrs. T. D. Wall of Wadesboro, in pink Elizabeth crepe beaded in pearls; Mrs. J. S. Burch Jr., in her beautiful and quaint wedding gown of white satin; Mrs. J. S. Burch, of Durham, in black georgette brocaded in gold; Miss Isabel Knight, in cerise lace over green satin; Mrs. Cassie Knight, in brocaded pink georgette; and Mrs. E. C. Heins Jr., in black lace combined with flesh georgette.

At the door into the hall stood Miss Elizabeth Cross, and here the guests were received and directed to the dining room by Mrs. J. C. Pittman and Miss Addie St. Clair. At the dining room door stood Mesdames A. M. Hubbard and Lynn McIver, and serving the yellow and white block cream and cake were Mesdames Jesse Davis, Roy Campbell, and Miss Catherine Monroe. Goodbyes were spoken to Mesdames D. L. St. Clair and F. Y. Hanner at the door to the east veranda, and ere the guests departed refreshing punch was served them here by Mrs. J. T. Davenport Jr. and Miss Louise Gunter. During the afternoon several hundred guests called to greet the hostess and extend best wishes to her two lovely daughters.

Miss Golden Gives Dinner

As a charming compliment to the house party who spent very happy days at Shallote, Miss Nannie Golden, of Talledega, Ala., recently gave a most delightful dinner party in the private dining room of the Wilkie.

The table was centered by a silver bowl of gorgeous pink roses and flanked by pink tapers in silver holders. A delicious three course dinner was served, covers being laid for the hostess, Mrs. Sidney Golden, of Talledega, Ala., Dr. and Mrs. Lynn McIver, Misses Mary Frances Underwood and Frances Wilkins, Lynn, Wallace, and Stewart McIver, Grady Sike and Luke Riddle.

Misses Formy-Duval and Phillips Are Hostesses

A most charming porch party was given Monday evening by Misses Virginia Formy-Duval and Ruth Phillips at the home of the former. Six tables were placed for bridge on the spacious porch in a riot of summer flowers.

A number of progressions marked the play and enthusiasm was rife. Ladies prize, a beautiful novelty pin, was won by Miss Charlotte Chaffin, and gentleman's prize, a deck of cards, by Kenneth Adolph. The hostesses served delicious ice cream and cake.

Those present were Misses Frances Wilkins, Charlotte Chaffin, Kitty and Charlotte Makepeace, Helen Lovette, Juanita Moffitt, Frances King, Jeanette Stout, Ellen Matthews, Joan McIver, Mildred Cross, Frances Donnell, and Charles Cheek, Billy McAuley, J. K. Perry, Dan Lawrence, James McIver, Robert Ingram, John Wesley Russell, Ronald Ledwell, Kenneth Adderholt, Sandy Monroe, Fred Byerly, and Billy Osborne.

CARTER-WEST

Historic Buffalo Presbyterian church was the scene of a beautiful and impressive marriage Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock when Miss Anna Virginia Carter became the bride of Edwin Arthur West. The ceremony was performed by two brothers-in-law of the bride, Revs. Grover C. Currie, of West Virginia, and L. T. Edgerton, pastor of Buffalo church, in the presence of an assemblage of relatives and friends which completely filled the edifice.

The quaint and beautiful church, which lends itself exceptionally well to decoration, was very lovely on this occasion, the nuptial color scheme of green and white featuring it. A pyramid of luxuriant palms and ferns flanked the altar, and tall white floor baskets filled with white hydrangeas. The semi-circle of the chancel was outlined by smaller graceful ferns and baskets of white flowers and on either side stood tall white standards bearing each seven white tapers. The pillars extending down either side of the church were entwined with ivy and the reserved pews were marked by ropes of flowers.

Prior to the ceremony an exquisite musical program was rendered by Mrs. R. A. McLeod, of Hemp, soprano and Miss Mary Sherwood McDonald, of Albemarle, at the piano. Mrs. McLeod wore periwinkle blue silk lace with shoulder corsage of pink roses and Miss McDonald was gowned in cerise lace with shoulder corsage of roses. Miss McDonald rendered several exquisite selections and Mrs. McLeod very beautifully sang "All For You."

At the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march the officiating clergyman, Revs. Currie and Edgerton, entered from the pastor's study, and the ushers, Messrs. Chas. West, of Fayetteville, Merrill West, of Kannapolis, brothers of the groom, Robert Carter, brother of the bride, and N. A. Harrington, brother-in-law of the bride, entered singly down the side aisles, advanced to the pulpit crossed and took their positions far to either side. They were followed by the damsels of honor, Mrs. W. F. Weskett, of Bayboro, in a lovely costume of powder blue georgette and lace with pink and blue picture hat and carrying an arm bouquet of pink roses and blue delphinium. The dainty little ring bearer, Ruby Byrd, of Carters Mills, niece of the bride, in a lovely little frock of yellow georgette and lace entered next, carrying the ring in the heart of a rose.

The groom with his brother and best man, Lawrence West, of Fayetteville, entered from the choir room and waited the bride at the altar as she advanced, a vision of girlish beauty in her wedding attire, on the arm of her brother, Walter S. Carter, of Atkinson, who gave her in marriage. She wore most becomingly her wedding dress of white georgette made with long waist, long sleeves, and narrow hem line, trimmed very simply in seed pearls. Her tulle veil was arranged with a bandeau of real lace and caught to the head with a wreath of orange blossoms, from which it fell in graceful folds to the floor. She carried an exquisite bouquet of white roses. During the beautiful ring ceremony of the Presbyterian church, Miss McDonald rendered "Traumerel" very softly at the piano, and swelled into the bridal chorus from Lohen grin as the ceremony was completed.

The bride is the youngest daughter of the late William G. and Margaret McLeod Carter, of Carters Mills, and is a beautiful type of blonde. She graduated from Elise High School, Hemp, N. C., and from Maryville College, Maryville, Tenn. For the past two years she has taught in the Elise High School at Hemp, where she was exceedingly popular, many lovely social affairs having been given in her honor after the announcement of her engagement. The groom is a son of the late Dr. G. H. West, who was once an instructor in Jefferson Medical College, Phila., and Mrs. Ada West, of Fayetteville. He came from Pennsylvania to Fayetteville with his family about ten years ago. He attended Ohio State College and is a graduate of Davidson College, having been a very popular fraternity man there. He taught for a while in the schools of Hope Mills and for the past two years has been the successful principal of the Elise High school Hemp, N. C., where he and his bride will make their home after their bridal trip to the mountains of North Carolina and northern points.

Among the out-of-town guests at the marriage were Mrs. Ada West, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. West, Miss Helen West, Chas. West, and Leslie West, all of Fayetteville, Mr. and Mrs. Harry West, of Winston-Salem, Merrill West, Kannapolis, Miss Mary Sherwood McDonald, Albemarle, Rev. and Mrs. G. C. Currie, Mullins, W. Va., Mrs. H. E. Pegg, Chapel Hill, Mrs. Ernest Slack, Seagrove, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Byrd, Ruby Byrd, of Carters Mills, R. W. and Mrs. R. A. McLeod, Hemp, Mrs. W. F. Weskett and children, Bayboro, Mr. Graham Carter, Carters Mills, Walter S. Carter, Atkinson, Mrs. Charlie Fry, Hemp, and Mrs. Rufus Draton, Raleigh.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for the bridal party and all out-of-town relatives and friends was given by Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Harrington, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, with whom she has recently made her home. The home was charmingly arranged with quantities of summer flowers and the handsome array of wedding gifts was on display. A delicious ice course was served.
